Through The Wall A Year In Havana:

Through the Wall Margot Pepper, 2005 Margot Pepper's memoir propels us through the blockade to post cold war Cuba. It's a surreal world where high ranking officials are required to pick up hitch hikers, Root canals, cosmetic surgery and graduate school are free but toilet paper is exorbitant. There's no income tax nor homelessness yet no house paint either. As the story unfolds Margot pursues a passionate love affair with a penniless Mexican poet who shakes up her views about Cuba. With cinematic vividness Through the Wall reveals the failures and successes of one of the few functioning alternatives to corporate run government and draws out lessons that will be embraced by all who believe another world is possible. Being a great read also helps. From her unique vantage point as a journalist working for a year in Special Period Cuba Margot Pepper has written a smart and politically sophisticated memoir. Interweaving her past as the Mexico City born daughter of a blacklisted Hollywood producer with the travails of her daily life in Cuba and the larger context of Cuban society in general her work is imbued with her own political analysis and convictions and captures the feelings as well as the heartbeat of struggling Cuba during such a crucial time. Bravo Margot Pepper for writing such an honest and important work. Punto Piri Thomas author of Down These Mean Streets United States Tobacco Journal, 1929 Poor's Cumulative Service, 1926

The Manhattan, 1882 The Pan-American Magazine, 1919 New York Magazine, 1997-11-17 New York Magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country. With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea. An Island in the Stream Scott Slovic, David Taylor, Armando Fernandez Soriano, 2019-07-15 An Island in the Stream a collaboration between Cuban and American writers and scholars is a diverse collection of ecocritical and literary responses to the natural environment in Cuba and to Cuban environmental culture. The chapters explore Cuba's vibrant cultural history with particular attention to literature and the visual and performing arts which are viewed through such lenses as ecofeminism, postcolonial ecocriticism, multiculturalism and the nuclear imaginary among others. American environmentalists have long viewed modern Cuba as a model of progressive environmental thinking. In the 1990s the Cuban government made sustainability a centerpiece of national policy initiatives. This book explores some of the historical foundations of contemporary sustainability efforts in Cuba while also describing the current environmental situation in that part of the world. From Jos Mart to Excilia Salda a from Antonio Nu ez Jim nez to Lydia Cabrera the chapters here aim to provide a starting point for others who wish to learn about Cuban environmental thought. The conjunction of scholarly and creative work is a gesture toward the interdependence of humanities research and artistic expression both of which seek to encourage environmental and cultural mindfulness and sensitivity. The Cumulative Daily Digest of Corporation News, 1925 New York Magazine, 1997-11-17 New York
