Moth Story Alan Bramson,2020-05-05 The Tiger Moth is one of the major aviation success stories in the history of British aviation Developed by Geoffrey de Havilland and flown for the first time on October 26 1931 the biplane became the most important elementary trainer used by Commonwealth forces More than 1 000 Tiger Moths were delivered before WWII and subsequently around 4 000 were built in the UK with an extra 2 000 being manufactured in Canada Australia and New Zealand Following the end of WWII pilots could buy and modify a Tiger Moth for recreational use or agricultural crop spraying and use it relatively cheaply This combined with its popularity within the aero club movement provided employment for the Tiger Moths until the late fifties when the more modern closed cockpit aircraft began to force them into retirement This new edition provides a comprehensive account of the aircraft s origins and its development as a trainer of Commonwealth pilots in times of peace and war It also looks at some of the other roles which this versatile little aeroplane performed such as a crop duster glider tug aerial advertiser bomber coastal patrol plane and aerial ambulance Technical narrative and drawings handling ability and performance as seen through the eyes of the pilots combine to make The Tiger Moth Story the most comprehensive book of the aircraft The Aircraft Servicing Manual T. conservation of diverse and ecologically important insect groups The first two were Beetles in Conservation 2010 and Hymenoptera and Conservation 2012 Each has different priorities and emphases that collectively summarise much of the progress and purpose of invertebrate conservation Much of the foundation of insect conservation has been built on concerns for Lepidoptera particularly butterflies as the most popular and best studied of all insect groups The long accepted worth of butterflies for conservation has led to elucidation of much of the current rationale of insect species conservation and to definition and management of their critical resources with attention to the intensively documented British fauna leading the world in this endeavour In Lepidoptera and Conservation various themes are treated through relevant examples and case histories and sufficient background given to enable non specialist access Intended for not only entomologists but conservation managers and naturalists due to its readable approach to the subject La formation des aviateurs de la

C. Gnys, 2020-01-10 Remarkably detailed It is a tribute to Wladyslaw Gnys the decorated ace pilot but also to the charming and humble man himself Hamilton Magazine Polish pilot Wladyslaw Wladek Gnys was credited with shooting down the first two German aircraft of World War II on September 1 1939 On this day as Gnys squadron took off near Krak w to intercept the German invaders German Stuka pilot Frank Neubert attacked killing the captain Wladek who barely survived himself evaded the pursuing Stukas and went on to make the first Allied kills while Neubert was credited with the first aerial kill of the war Fifty years after the invasion of Poland in the summer of 1989 Gnys and Neubert met and shook hands making news around the world They reconciled their differences and remained friends until their deaths This event symbolized the prevailing friendly coexistence between Poland and Germany Written by his son Stefan and drawing from his logbooks this highly illustrated biography of Wladek Gnys is the most in depth account of the Polish hero s life It tells Wladek s story from his childhood in rural Poland through his time flying in three Allied air forces during World War II his capture and escape during Operation Overlord and his reconciliation with Neubert and his commemoration as a national war hero in Poland Tells the story of one man s ride through the history of most of the 20th century This is far from a run of the mill wartime story being more of a touching and revealing look into an extraordinary life
