Time And The Other How Anthropology Makes Its Object:

Time and the Other Johannes Fabian, 2014-04-15 Time and the Other is a classic work that critically reexamined the relationship between anthropologists and their subjects and reoriented the approach literary critics philosophers and historians took to the study of humankind Johannes Fabian challenges the assumption that anthropologists live in the here and now that their subjects live in the there and then and that the other exists in a time not contemporary with our own He also pinpoints the emergence transformation and differentiation of a variety of uses of time in the history of anthropology that set specific parameters between power and inequality In this edition a new postscript by the author revisits popular conceptions of the other and the attempt to produce and represent knowledge of other s Colonial Fantasies Meyda

Yegenoglu, 1998-04-30 In this 1998 book Meyda Yegenoglu investigates the intersection between post colonial and feminist criticism focusing on the Western fascination with the veiled women of the Orient She examines the veil as a site of fantasy and of nationalist ideologies and discourses of gender identity analyzing travel literature anthropological and literary texts to reveal the hegemonic colonial identity of the desire to penetrate the veiled surface of otherness Representations of cultural difference and sexual difference are shown to be inextricably linked and the figure of the Oriental woman to have functioned as the veiled interior of Western identity route into apocalyptic science fiction the underground into which figures of an alternative future could be smuggled Time and radical politics in France Alexandra Paulin-Booth, 2023-05-09 This book investigates how people have thought about and experienced time and how their ideas about time have shaped their political views and actions Using French thinkers and activists of the radical left and right between the Dreyfus Affair and the First World War as a case study it argues that time provides an important means of exploring how concepts such as nationalism revolution and social change were understood at the turn of the century Attending to different experiences of time the speed at which it was perceived to move the extent to which the future was near and graspable the ways in which the past was seen to impinge on the present opens up exciting new possibilities for analysing politics ideologies and worldviews Not What The Bus Promised Tamara Hervey, Ivanka Antova, Mark L Flear, Matthew Wood, 2023-10-05 What does the UK's exit from the EU mean for health and the NHS This book explains the legal and practical implications of Brexit on the NHS its staffing especially on the island of Ireland medicines medical devices and equipment and biomedical research It considers the UK's post Brexit trade agreements and what they mean for health and discusses the effects of the COVID 19 pandemic on post Brexit health law To put the legal analysis in context the book draws on over 400 conversations the authors had with people in the north of England and Northern Ireland interviews with over 40 health policy stakeholders details of a film about their research made with ShoutOut UK the authors work with Parliaments and governments across the UK and their collaborations with key actors like the NHS Confederation the British Medical Association and Cancer Research UK The book shows that the language people use to talk about hoped for legitimate post Brexit health governance suggests a great deal of faith in law and legal process among ordinary people but the opposite from insider elites Not What The Bus Promised puts the authors knowledge and experiences centre frame rather than claiming to express objective reality It will be of interest to any reader who cares about the NHS and wants to understand its present and future Globalization and Popular Music in South Korea Michael Fuhr, 2015-06-12 This book offers an in depth study of the globalization of contemporary South Korean idol pop music or K Pop visiting K Pop and its multiple intersections with political economic and cultural formations and transformations It provides detailed insights into the transformative process in and around the field of Korean pop music since the 1990s which paved the way for the recent international rise of K Pop and the Korean Wave Fuhr examines the conditions and effects of transnational flows asymmetrical power relations and the role of the imaginary other in K Pop production and consumption relating them to the specific aesthetic dimensions and material conditions of K Pop stars songs and videos Further the book reveals how K Pop is deployed for strategies of national identity construction in connection with Korean cultural politics with transnational music production circuits and with the transnational mobility of immigrant pop idols The volume argues that K Pop is a highly productive cultural arena in which South Korea's globalizing and nationalizing forces and imaginations coincide intermingle and counteract with each other and in which the tension between both of these poles is played out musically visually and discursively This book examines a vibrant example of contemporary popular music from the non Anglophone world and provides deeper insight into the structure of popular music and the dynamics of cultural globalization through a combined set of ethnographic musicological and cultural analysis Widening the regional scope of Western dominated popular music studies and enhancing new areas of ethnomusicology anthropology and cultural studies this book will also be of interest to those studying East Asian popular culture music globalization and popular music Breaking up Time Chris Lorenz, Berber Bevernage, 2013-06-19 Thirteen expert historians and philosophers address basic questions on historical time and on the distinctions between past present and future Their contributions are organised around four themes the relation between time and modernity the issue of ruptures in time and the influence of catastrophic events such as revolutions and wars on temporal distinctions the philosophical analysis of historical time and temporal distinctions and the construction of time outside Europe through processes of colonialism imperialism and globalisation Global Heritage Assemblages Christoph Rausch, 2016-11-25 UNESCO aims to tackle Africa's under representation on its World Heritage List by inscribing instances of nineteenth and twentieth century modern architecture and urban planning there But what is one to make of the utopias of progress and development for which these buildings and sites stand After all concern for modern heritage invariably and paradoxically it seems has to reckon with those utopias as problematic futures of the past a circumstance complicating intentions to preserve a recent culture of modernization on the African continent This book a new title in Routledge's Studies in Culture and Development series introduces the concept of global heritage assemblages to analyse that problem Based on extensive anthropological fieldwork it describes how various governmental intergovernmental and non governmental actors engage with colonial and post colonial built heritage found in Eritrea Tanzania Niger and the Republic of the Congo Rausch argues that the global heritage assemblages emerging from those examples produce problematizations of the modern which ultimately indicate a contemporary need to rescue modernity from its dominant conception as an all encompassing epochal and spatial culture The Erotic Margin Irvin C. Schick, 2020-05-05 Gender and sexuality have long held an important place in western attitudes towards the people and regions of the world from the titillating accounts of harem life in the Middle East to terrifying captivity narratives of North America The Erotic Margin is a first attempt to pull together the large disparate and often contradictory literature and view it as a corpus Schick argues that such images served to construct spatial difference and thereby helped Europe represent its own place in the world during an age of rapid geographical expansion Informed by the recent literature on human geography as well as feminist and postcolonial theory The Erotic Margin focuses on erotica and sexual anthropology as well as travel literature in which from the eighteenth century on both traveler and destination were portrayed in unmistakably gendered and sexualized terms Reviewing examples ranging from the New World to India the Near East to black Africa and the South sea islands to the Barbary Coast the book reflects on why foreign women were variously portrayed as alluring or threatening foreign men as effeminate weaklings or dangerous rapists and foreign lands as sexual idylls or hearts of darkness

Sentencing Canudos Adriana Michele Campos Johnson, 2010-12-05 In the late nineteenth century the Brazilian army staged several campaigns against the settlement of Canudos in northeastern Brazil The colony s residents primarily disenfranchised former slaves mestizos landless farmers and uprooted Indians followed a man known as Antonio Conselheiro The Counselor who promoted a communal existence free of taxes and oppression To the fledgling republic of Brazil the settlement represented a threat to their system of government which had only recently been freed from monarchy Estimates of the death toll at Canudos range from fifteen thousand to thirty thousand Sentencing Canudos offers an original perspective on the hegemonic intellectual discourse surrounding this monumental event in Brazilian history In her study Adriana Michele Campos Johnson offers a close examination of nation building and the silencing of other voices through the reinvisioning of history Looking primarily to Euclides da Cunha's Os Sertões which has become the defining and nearly exclusive account of the conflict she maintains that the events and people of Canudos have been sentenced to history by this work Johnson investigates other accounts of Canudos such as local oral histories letters newspaper articles and the writings of Cunha's contemporaries Afonso Arinos and Manoel Benício in order to strip away political agendas She also seeks to place the inhabitants and events of Canudos within the realm of everydayness by recalling aspects of daily life that have been left out of official histories Johnson analyzes the role of intellectuals in the process of culture and state formation and the ensuing sublimation of subaltern histories and populations She echoes recent scholarship that posits subalternity as the product of discourse that must be disputed in order to recover cultural identities and offers a view of Canudos and postcolonial Latin America as a place to think from not about

Byzantine Media Subjects Glenn A. Peers, 2024-06-15 Byzantine Media Subjects invites readers into a world replete with images icons frescoes and mosaics filling places of worship politics and community Glenn Peers asks readers to think themselves into a world where representation reigned and humans followed and indeed were formed Interrogating the fundamental role of representation in the making of the Byzantine human Peers argues that Byzantine culture was already posthuman The Byzantine experience reveals the extent to which media like icons manuscripts music animals and mirrors fundamentally determine humans In the Byzantine world representation as such was deeply persuasive even coercive it had the power to affect human relationships produce conflict and form self perception Media studies has made its subject the modern world but this book argues for media having made historical subjects Here it is shown that media long ago also made Byzantine humans defining them molding them mediating their relationship to time to nature to God and to themselves

Society of Others Rupert Stasch, 2009 In this timely commentary on the ideas of difference strangeness and Western contact Stasch weaves ethnographic materials together with theoretical framing in an exceptionally clear and compelling way A highly original important and in fact astonishing piece of scholarship Bambi Schieffelin author of The Give and Take of Everyday Life In this remarkable ethnography Rupert Stasch takes us to the lowlands of West Papua and into the lives of people who have built a social world out of their relationships with strange and potentially dangerous others The Korowai are classic inhabitants of the savage slot still dogged by their designation as Stone Age primitives Instead of flipping the script and arguing that the Korowai are just like everyone else Stasch draws far reaching lessons from the particularities of Korowai life Stasch writes with grace and clarity on the ambivalent ways in which the Korowai confront evade and embrace an otherness that resides not just in words food places and human bodies but also in the pasts and futures brought to mind by these material signs Analyzing Korowai sign use as a concrete historical process he charts the passage between intimacy and alterity that Korowai undergo in their encounters not only with spirits and Indonesian soldiers but also with children husbands and wives Some of what Stasch describes may seem strange and even disturbing But in pondering Stasch's findings one gradually comes to see the making of persons and relationships in an entirely new light Gone is the old debate between biological determination and cultural freedom in its place is an approach that affirms the multiple histories that converge in and flow from a life Erudite empathetic and unremittingly smart Society of Others recasts the very meaning of kinship and makes a case for the power of what anthropologists do
