Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages David Nunan, 2015-02-11 David Nunan's dynamic learner-centered teaching style has informed and inspired countless TESOL educators around the world. In this fresh, straightforward introduction to teaching English to speakers of other languages, he presents teaching techniques and procedures along with the underlying theory and principles. Complex theories and research studies are explained in a clear and comprehensible yet non-trivial manner without trivializing them. Practical examples of how to develop teaching materials and tasks from sound principles provide rich illustrations of theoretical constructs. The content is presented through a lively variety of different textual genres including classroom vignettes showing language teaching in action, question and answer sessions and opportunities to eavesdrop on small group discussions among teachers and teachers in preparation. Readers get involved through engaging interactive pedagogical features and opportunities for reflection and personal application. Each chapter follows the same format so that readers know what to expect as they work through the text. Key terms are defined in a Glossary at the end of the book. David Nunan's own reflections and commentaries throughout enrich the direct up-close style of the text.

Raising Curious, Creative, Confident Kids Rebeca Wild, 2000 How can we create schools that reinforce each child's joy of life, curiosity, individuality, the natural conviction of his or her own self-worth and the worth of others, and that meet the highest academic standards as well? Rebeca Wild, a principal in a Pestalozzi school in Ecuador, the model for a grassroots educational movement in several European countries, reveals how the children in her Pesta classroom experience reading, writing and mathematics as well as art, music, geography, the natural sciences, social issues, even matters of life and death. Rebeca Wild shares the organic process by which the Pesta method evolved and explains how the Pesta experience transforms not only the children, including many diagnosed with various psychological problems and learning disabilities, but the parents and teachers as well.

Writing Books for Kids and Teens Marion Crook, 1998 How to write fiction and nonfiction for children and young adults.

Parents on Board: Parent's Guide Michael H. Popkin, Bettie B. Youngs, Jane M. Healy, 1995 Supportive and creative ways to help your child learn.

Math from Three to Seven Aleksandr Kalmanovich Zvonkin, 2011 This book is a captivating account of a professional mathematician's experiences conducting a math circle for preschoolers in his apartment in Moscow in the 1980s. As anyone who has taught or raised young children knows, mathematical education for little kids is a real mystery. What are they capable of? What should they learn first? How hard should they work? Should they even work at all?

Should we push them or just let them be There are no correct answers to these questions and the author deals with them in classic math circle style he doesn't ask and then answer a question but shows us a problem be it mathematical or pedagogical and describes to us what happened His book is a narrative about what he did what he tried what worked what failed but most important what the kids experienced This book does not purport to show you how to create precocious high achievers It is just one person's story about things he tried with a half dozen young children Mathematicians psychologists educators parents and everybody interested in the intellectual development in young children will find this book to be an invaluable inspiring resource In the interest of fostering a greater awareness and appreciation of mathematics and its connections to other disciplines and everyday life MSRI and the AMS are publishing books in the Mathematical Circles Library series as a service to young people their parents and teachers and the mathematics profession Titles in this series are co-published with the Mathematical Sciences Research Institute MSRI
