Hydrofeminist Thinking With Oceans Tamara Shefer,Vivienne Bozalek,Nike Romano,2023-12-19

Hydrofeminist Thinking with Oceans brings together authors who are thinking in with and through the spaces of oceans and beaches in South African contexts to make alternative knowledges towards a justice to come and flourishing at a planetary level. Primary scholarly locations for this work include feminist new materialist and post humanist thinking and specifically locates itself within hydrofeminist thinking. Together with a foreword by Astrida Neimanis the chapters in this book explore both land and water with oceans as powerfully political spaces globally and locally entangled in the violences of settler colonialism, land dispossession, slavery, transnational labour exploitation, extractivism and omnicides. South Africa is a productive space to engage in such scholarship. While there is a growing body of literature that works within and across disciplines on the sea and bodies of water to think critically about the damages of centuries of colonisation and continued extractivist capitalism, there remains little work that explores this burgeoning thinking in global Southern and more particularly South African contexts. South African histories of colonisation, slavery and more recently apartheid which are saturated in the oceans are only recently being explored through oceanic logics. This volume offers valuable Southern contributions and rich situated narratives to such hydrofeminist thinking. It also brings diverse and more marginal knowledges to bear on the project of generating imaginative alternatives to hegemonic colonial and patriarchal logics in the academy and elsewhere. While primarily located in a South African context, the volume speaks well to globalised concerns for justice and environmental challenges both in human societies and in relation to other species and planetary crises. The chapters, which will be of interest to scholars, activists and other civil society stakeholders, share inspiring, rich examples of diverse scholarship, activism and art in these contexts, extending international scholarship that thinks in on with oceans, littoral zones and bodies of water. The book offers ethico-political perspectives on the role of research in ocean governance, policy development and collective decision making for ecological justice. This book is suitable for students and scholars of post-qualitative feminist new materialist embodied arts-based and hydrofeminist methods in education, environmental humanities and the social sciences.

Soundings Kennedy Warne, 2023-06-08. Perhaps the closest a human being comes to visiting another planet is to descend into the sea. In Soundings Kennedy Warne connects his lifelong exploration of the underwater world with a global story of humanity's relationship with the sea. Drawing on more than 20 years of fieldwork for National Geographic, he shares experiences that range from diving with harp seals under the sea ice of the Gulf of St. Lawrence to following the legendary from watching turret-building ghost crabs in Arabia to witnessing the impact of dynamite fishing in the Philippines, from swimming with crocodiles in the Okavango Delta to finding seahorses on the Eastern Cape. From a myriad of underwater encounters, a wider conversation emerges about human engagement with the sea. One question dominates: How can we care for and reconnect with the oceans around us.

The Reef Guide Dennis King, 2014-05-01. The Reef Guide documents some 800 reef fishes and invertebrates found along the east and south coasts of southern Africa. Following on the success of Dennis King's earlier two titles, this impressive new guide features 578 species of fish and includes sections on anemones starfish snails crabs and shrimps Full colour photographs and descriptive text for each species along with useful and interesting information make for easy identification While focusing on southern Africa the book is also applicable to the entire east coast of Africa as well as the islands of the western Indian Ocean Seychelles Mauritius Reunion Madagascar the Comoros and the Maldives Indispensable for divers snorkelers and rock pool enthusiasts as well as fishermen and marine aquarists

South Africa and the Law of the Sea P. H. G. Vrancken, 2011-08-25 South Africa and the Law of the Sea brings together the many threads of the rich South African marine law tapestry by covering both the public international law as context and the details of South African marine law and policy within their African framework
