Understanding Environmental Policy Processes Cases From Africa:

Understanding Environmental Policy Processes James Keeley, 2014-10-14 A critical analysis of the post Rio consensus on environment and development which questions the role of particular forms of internationalized elite scientific expertise It asks why certain understandings of environmental change stick with such tenacity In exploring this the authors unravel the politics of knowledge surrounding policymaking looking particularly at Ethiopia Mali and Zimbabwe and their land and soils management The book also looks at prospects for more inclusive participatory forms of policymaking

Environmental Policy Processes Surrounding South Africa's Plastic Bags Regulations: Tensions, Debates and Responses in Waste Product Regulation Godwell Nhamo, 2008-01-31 This study was conducted in South Africa South Africa is the first country within the Southern African Development Community to have regulated plastic shopping bags waste through the imposition of both a standard on thickness and a levy Given this scenario the Plastic Bags Regulations present an illustrative case for researching complexity uncertainty and controversies surrounding a new trend in environmental policy making namely waste product regulation The thesis focuses on understanding and investigating tensions debates and responses emerging from the policy process as actors and actor networks put not only the Plastic Bags Regulations into circulation as focal actant token but also other actants and actant networks as well To this end a research question that addressed environmental policies tensions debates and responses that informed the development of South Africa's Plastic Bags Regulations was spelt out The research objectives included the need to 1 analyse selected international environmental policy processes surrounding plastic shopping bags litter and waste regulation and how these influenced developments in South Africa 2 identify actors actants and actor actant networks that shaped and were being transformed by South Africa's Plastic Bags Regulations and explain the tensions debates and responses arising in the policy processes 3 identify environmental policy outputs and assess outcomes emerging from the formulation and implementation of South Africa's Plastic Bags Regulations and 4 establish patterns in environmental policy process reforms around South Africa's Plastic Bags Regulations The language of actors human actants non human and actor actant networks brings to the fore the aspects of processes and relationships that exist around them As such insights from the actor actant network theory AANT were drawn upon to inform the research AANT enquiry framework collapses binaries such as nature society art science structure agency and global local historically associated with a particular type of social theory AANT also denies that purely technical scientific or social relations are possible the notion of quasi objects or token Data sets were generated following the Plastic Bags Regulations as token actant with time frames ranging from prior to during and after the formulation of the regulations Similarly data analysis drew insights from AANT's four moments of translation namely problematisation interessement enrolment and mobilisation with the intervention theory providing an evaluative perspective that complemented AANT The findings were that after the promulgation of the first draft of the Plastic Bags Regulations in May 2000 tensions emerged around the nature of regulation whether command and control preferred by government or self regulation preferred by industry and labour In this regard the latter group raised concerns about jobs income and equipment loss as well as the need to have a holistic approach to waste management rather than targeting a single product at a time whilst the former maintained that this would not be so As such education awareness and stringent antilitter penalties were proposed by industry and labour as sustainable responses to the problem of plastic shopping bags waste rather than regulation These debates continued and resulted in minor amendments to the original regulations as finalised by Government in May 2002 However industry and labour continued lobbying government resulting in the conclusion of the Plastic Bags Agreement in September 2002 and the ultimate repulsion of the May 2002 regulations in May 2003 As revealed by this research these responses led to broader social responses and further tensions as demand for plastic shopping bags went down by about 80% although an estimated 1000 jobs were lost and a number of companies lost equipment and business with some closing down following the implementation of Sustainable Options J. N. Blignaut, Martin P. De Wit, 2004 This well researched important text argues a case for the use of environmental resource economics ERE as an analytic framework for the conceptualisation and design of sustainable policy options Sustainable options integrates economic theories and concepts on the one hand with social and environmental challenges on the other Applying ERE in a developing context like that of South Africa is critical given the country's dependence on natural and environmental assets The sustainability of the economy and the welfare of the country's people are at stake Environmental management is therefore an economic concern This is illustrated clearly in the first section of the book which examines a broad range of welfare indicators thus providing an overview of the macroeconomic performance of the South African economy Sustainable options is not only for academics and students from the economic political and biophysical sciences The book's hands on approach and explicit linkages to the real world of economic development makes it invaluable for policy makers and environmental practitioners faced with the daunting task of making trade offs between developmental and environmental concerns

Reference Guide to Africa Alfred Kagan, Atoma Batoma, 2014-10-16 This third edition of the Reference Guide to Africa explains the most important resources for the study of the continent of Africa It contains a general sources section and a larger disciplinary oriented section All sources are annotated A new edition is sorely needed since the last edition was published nine years ago The previous editions have been successfully used in research libraries worldwide since 1999 and it has been used to teach several African studies research courses The book provides an orientation for researching almost any topic in the arts humanities and social sciences concerning the continent of Africa and all of its countries and ethnic groups The first part explains and lists portals databases bibliographies indexes guides encyclopedias country sources biography primary sources government publications and statistics The second part presents 16 subject oriented chapters mostly in the arts humanities and social sciences from agriculture and food security to women studies It covers sources that broadly cover the continent or in some cases only North Africa and the Middle East It generally excludes sources limited to one country or region of Africa except for North Africa because of the nature of the literature One third of the sources in this edition are new and nearly half of them are available in electronic format There are author title and subject indexes This unique work is intended for students teachers librarians and researchers It likely will be used most by reference librarians and teachers for students in high school through graduate studies It will also be used independently by undergraduate and graduate students It can be used to answer simple reference questions provide the resources for an undergraduate paper or for comprehensive work by advanced students and researchers

Development, Sexual Cultural Practices and HIV/AIDS in Africa Samantha Page, 2018-12-19 This open access book introduces the theoretical frameworks and academic debates concerning sexual cultural practices and HIV AIDS in Africa It shows how these frameworks have been applied in a practical sense in Africa to investigate sexual cultural practices and their link with HIV AIDS The author provides an overview of both the field of study and the methods used during fieldwork Finally it assesses the implications of the findings for the conceptualization and provision of current and future HIV AIDS policies and programs in Africa This monograph will appeal to policy makers and practitioners working in the field of HIV AIDS in the Global South as well as academics and students

The Limits to Scarcity Lyla Mehta, 2013-05-13 Scarcity is considered a ubiquitous feature of the human condition It underpins much of modern economics and is widely used as an explanation for social organisation social conflict and the resource crunch confronting humanity's survival on the planet It is made out to be an all pervasive fact of our lives be it of housing food water or oil But has the conception of scarcity been politicized naturalized and universalized in academic and policy debates Has overhasty recourse to scarcity evoked a standard set of market institutional and technological solutions which have blocked out political contestations overlooking access as a legitimate focus for academic debates as well as policies and interventions Theoretical and empirical chapters by leading academics and scholar activists grapple with these issues by questioning scarcity's taken for granted nature They examine scarcity debates across three of the most important resources food water and energy and their implications for theory institutional arrangements policy responses and innovation systems The book looks at how scarcity has emerged as a totalizing discourse in both the North and South The scare of scarcity has led to scarcity emerging as a political strategy for powerful groups Aggregate numbers and physical quantities are trusted while local knowledges and experiences of scarcity that identify problems more accurately and specifically are ignored Science and technology are expected to provide solutions but such expectations embody a multitude of unexamined assumptions about the nature of the problem about the technologies and about the institutional arrangements put forward as a fix Through this examination the authors demonstrate that scarcity is not a natural condition the problem lies in how we see scarcity and the ways in which it is socially generated comprehensive report on the state of Africa's environment produced in collaboration with the African Ministerial Conference on the Environment AMCEN. This report highlights the central position Africa's environment continues to play in sustainable development as well as its potential to achieve progress in the implementation of the Millennium Development Goals. The report profiles Africa's environmental resources as an asset for the continent's development. It highlights the opportunities presented by the region's natural resource base to support the continent's development. It also underscores the concept of sustainable livelihoods and the importance of the environmental initiatives in supporting them. African Studies

Association annual meeting. [Program] African Studies Association, After 2015: International Development Policy at a Crossroads Andrew Sumner, Meera Tiwari, 2009-05-26. This book discusses the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs), the UN Poverty Targets for 2015. Part one discusses the background to the MDGs, their value and omissions, what they mean for changing understandings of development and Development Studies, and whether the MDGs will be achieved. Part two focuses on each goal or set of goals: extreme poverty, income and hunger, education and health, gender equality and empowerment, environmental sustainability, and global partnerships for development. Abstracts of Public Administration, Development, and Environment, 2009. It provided technical and financial support to economic research centres in sub-Saharan Africa (SSA) so that they can undertake policy relevant research with the goal of influencing economic policy making. In January 2005, the Secretariat organized an international conference in Dakar, Senegal, during which participants from key economic think tanks presented their experiences in the policy development process in Africa. Of particular interest was the role of economic research and economic researchers in policy making. The authors examine the extent to which economic policies that are formulated in the sub-continent draw from research based on local realities and undertaken by local researchers and research networks in Africa.
