Congress,2003 The Effect of Business Cycles on Population Health in the Emerging Economies, Volume II Wen-Yi Chen,Lucian-Liviu Albu,Chi Wei Su,Tsangyao Chang,Aviral Kumar Tiwari,Peng Hongfeng,2022-02-03 Health Systems Recovery in the Context of COVID-19 and Protracted Conflict Zsuzsanna Jakab,Sohel Saikat,Duncan Selbie,Saqif Mustafa,Yu Zhang,Geraldine McDarby,Mila Petrova,Redda Seifeldin,2023-07-10 The COVID 19 pandemic has caused unprecedented disruption worldwide highlighting once again the interdependency of health and socioeconomic development and the global lack of health systems resilience Two years into the pandemic most countries report sustained disruptions across service delivery platforms and health areas with a profound impact on health outcomes The impact of these disruptions is magnified within marginalized communities and in countries experiencing protracted conflict There is an urgent need to focus on recovery through investment in the essential public health functions EPHFs and the foundations of health systems with a focus on primary health care and whole of government and society engagement The aim of this Research Topic is to gather transfer and promote operationalization of key experiences from COVID 19 to inform global and country level recovery that better promote health guide policy direction towards building health systems resilience and thereby ensure economic and social prosperity Experience with COVID 19 has demonstrated that traditional approaches to health system strengthening have failed to achieve the complementary goals of Universal Health Coverage UHC and health security with the divide between the most vulnerable and well off only widening Much of what had been learned from previous experiences such as Ebola in West Africa has not been widely applied This has left health and economic systems vulnerable to 21 st century public health challenges ranging from conflict and natural disasters to aging demographics and rising rates of non communicable and communicable diseases and antimicrobial resistance These challenges require intentional focus and investment as well as whole of government and society engagement with health to build health system resilience Greater action is needed to prevent the devastating effects of war and conflict on the health of the most vulnerable This Research Topic will convene the knowledge and practices of leaders in public health health systems and humanitarian and development sectors This is to ensure lessons from COVID 19 inform the recovery agenda and promote sustainable health and socioeconomic recovery for all Lest we forget and find ourselves again unprepared and vulnerable in the face of an even greater threat Persisting Pandemics Powel H.

Kazanjian,2024-11-15 Persisting Pandemics explores the history of syphilis and AIDS to provide insights into the limits of biomedicine and our experience with epidemics today Novel therapies developed for syphilis and AIDS became renowned in the medical field and the broader public sphere as exemplars of biomedical innovations Public health campaigns based on these spectacular biomedical advances however have repeatedly fallen short of their goals to eliminate syphilis and AIDS in the population The diseases epitomize the power of innovative biomedical therapies for the individual while unveiling limitations of scientific medicine in the domain of public health The need for a public health approach to address mistrust in science government indifference and racial inequalities is relevant for strategies to eliminate COVID 19 today Persisting Pandemics argues that campaigns to eliminate these diseases have not succeeded because they have not adequately addressed how diseases like AIDS syphilis and COVID spread unevenly in populations according to race ethnicity and geographic location Despite the expectation of public health officials that medical advances would render epidemics obsolete new diseases continue to emerge and spread regardless of efforts to eliminate them Medical doctor and historian Powel H Kazanjian concludes that narratives of syphilis AIDS and COVID unlike smallpox do not contain a discrete ending at least not within the timelines specified by their elimination campaigns Instead they will be a continued part of our existence A
