Kramer,Donald Reid,William L. Barney,1994-01-01 The essays in this book like all other texts have been written in a historical context that shapes both the themes and the prose styles of the authors A close reading of these texts would in fact lead to many overlapping contexts of politics social hierarchies modern communications and international relations but we want to focus briefly on two contextual influences that carry the most obvious connections to this book the wide ranging public debate about the proper curriculum for American schools and universities and the more specific debate among historians about new trends in historical scholarship The Daisy Chain, Or, Aspirations Charlotte Mary Yonge,1869

The Daisy Chain Anonymous,2025-11-17 Reprint of the original first published in 1871 The Antigonos publishing house specialises in the publication of reprints of historical books We make sure that these works are made available to the public in good condition in order to preserve their cultural heritage The Daisy Chain Charlotte Mary Yonge,1856 Racial Situations John Hartigan Jr.,2020-10-06 Racial Situations challenges perspectives on race that rely upon oft repeated claims that race is culturally constructed and hence simply false and distorting John Hartigan asserts instead that we need to explain how race is experienced by people as a daily reality His starting point is the lives of white people in Detroit As a distinct minority whites in this city can rarely assume they are racially unmarked and normative privileges generally associated with whiteness Hartigan conveys their attempts to make sense of how race matters in their lives and in Detroit generally Rather than compiling a generic sampling of white views Hartigan develops an ethnographic account of whites in three distinct neighborhoods an inner city underclass area an adjacent debatably gentrifying community and a working class neighborhood bordering one of the city s wealthy suburbs In tracking how racial tensions develop or become defused in each of these sites Hartigan argues that whites do not articulate their racial identity strictly in relation to a symbolic figure of black Otherness He demonstrates instead that intraracial class distinctions are critical in whites determinations of when and how race matters In each community the author charts a series of names hillbilly gentrifier and racist which whites use to make distinctions among themselves He shows how these terms function in everyday discourses that reflect the racial consciousness of the communities and establish boundaries of status and privilege among whites in these areas Thinking History 4-14 Dr Grant Bage,Grant Bage,2014-01-21 In this book the author looks at the past present and the future of history

Teaching and Learning in History Ola Hallden, 2012-10-12 Research on history instruction and learning is emerging as an exciting new field of inquiry The editors prepared this volume because the field is at an important moment in its development a stage where there is research of sufficient depth and breadth to warrant a collection of representative pieces The field of research on history teaching and learning connects with both traditional research on social studies and with recent cognitive analyses of domains such as mathematics and physics However the newer research goes beyond these activities as well Where traditional research approaches to social studies instruction and learning have focused on curriculum they have avoided the study of purely disciplinary features the textual components of history and the concomitant demands as well as the nature of various learners Where recent cognitive analyses of mathematics and physics have dealt with misconceptions and knowledge construction they have avoided topics such as perspective taking interpretation and rhetorical layerings The new work by contrast has been concerned with these issues as well as the careful analyses of the nature of historical tasks and the nature of disciplinary and instructional explanations The lines of research presented in these chapters are both compelling and diverse and include a range of topical questions such as What affects the quality of teaching How are historical documents interpreted in the writing of history How is history explained What are the classroom demands on an elementary school social studies teacher What does text accomplish or fail to accomplish in educational settings How do teachers think about particular topics for history teaching Although much of the research reflects a grounding in or the influence of cognitive psychology not all of it derives from that tradition Traditions of rhetoric curriculum analysis and developmental psychology are also woven throughout the chapters The editors envision this volume as a contribution to educational research in a subject matter and as a tool for practitioners concerned with the improvement of instruction in history They also anticipate that it will contribute to cognitive science
