Why I Am Not A Scientist Anthropology And Modern Knowledge:

Why I Am Not a Scientist Jonathan Marks, 2009-06-23 Highly readable and informative this critical series of vignettes illustrates a long history of the corruption of science by folk beliefs careerism and sociopolitical agendas Marks repeatedly brings home the message that we should challenge scientists especially molecular geneticists before we accept their results and give millions of dollars in public and private funds toward their enterprises Russell Tuttle The University of Chicago Jonathan Marks has produced a personal and compelling story of how science works His involvement in scientific endeavor in human biology and evolution over the past three decades and his keen sense of the workings of science make this book a must read for both scientists and lay readers In this sense the lay reader will learn how scientists should and shouldn't think and some scientists who read this book will come away thinking they are truly not scientists nor would they want to be Rob DeSalle American Museum of Natural History Jonathan Marks's Why I Am Not a Scientist provides food for thought and as expected it's digestible In unusually broad perspective this anthropology of knowledge considers science and race and racism gender fraud misconduct and creationism in a way that makes one proud to be called a scientist George J Armelagos Emory University

Why I Am Not a Scientist Jonathan Marks, 2009-06-23 This lively and provocative book casts an anthropological eye on the field of science in a wide ranging and innovative discussion that integrates philosophy history sociology and auto ethnography Jonathan Marks examines biological anthropology the history of the life sciences and the literature of science studies while upending common understandings of science and culture with a mixture of anthropology common sense and disarming humor Science Marks argues is widely accepted to be three things a method of understanding and a means of establishing facts about the universe the facts themselves and a voice of authority or a locus of cultural power This triple identity creates conflicting roles and tensions within the field of science and leads to its record of instructive successes and failures Among the topics Marks addresses are the scientific revolution science as thought and performance creationism scientific fraud and modern scientific racism Applying his considerable insight energy and wit Marks sheds new light on the evolution of science its role in modern culture and its challenges for the twenty first century The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Anthropology Simon Coleman, Susan B. Hyatt, Ann Kingsolver, 2016-11-25 The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Anthropology is an invaluable guide and major reference source for students and scholars alike introducing its readers to key contemporary perspectives and approaches within the field Written by an experienced international team of contributors with an interdisciplinary range of essays this collection provides a powerful overview of the transformations currently affecting anthropology The volume both addresses the concerns of the discipline and comments on its construction through texts classroom interactions engagements with various publics and changing relations with other academic subjects Persuasively demonstrating that a number of key contemporary issues can be usefully analyzed through an anthropological lens the contributors cover important topics such as globalization law and politics collaborative archaeology economics religion citizenship and community health and the environment The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Anthropology is a fascinating examination of this lively and constantly evolving discipline Exotic No More Jeremy MacClancy, 2019-09-23 In this new edition of the anthropological classic Exotic No More some of today's most respected anthropologists demonstrate the tremendous contributions that anthropological theory and ethnographic methods can make to the study of contemporary society With chapters covering a wide variety of subjects the economy religion the sciences gender and sexuality human rights music and art tourism migration and the internet this volume shows how anthropologists grapple with a world that is in constant and accelerating transformation Each contributor uses examples from their adventurous fieldwork to challenge us to rethink some of our most firmly held notions This fully updated edition reflects the best that anthropology has to offer in the twenty first century The result is both an invaluable introduction to the field for students and a landmark achievement that will set the agenda for critical approaches to the study of contemporary life Contributors Ruben Andersson Philippe Bourgois Catherine Buerger James G Carrier Marcus Colchester James Fairhead Kim Fortun Mike Fortun Katy Gardner Faye Ginsburg Roberto J Gonzales Tom Griffiths Chris Hann Susan Harding Faye V Harrison Laurie Kain Hart Richard Jenkins George Karandinos Christopher M Kelty Melissa Leach Margaret Lock Jeremy MacClancy Sally Engle Merry Fernando Montero Matt Sakakeeny Anthony Alan Shelton Christopher B Steiner Richard Ashby Wilson Entangled Life Gillian Barker, Eric Desjardins, Trevor Pearce, 2013-09-05 This volume explores the interactions between organisms and their environments and how this entanglement is a fundamental aspect of all life It brings together the work and ideas of historians philosophers biologists and social scientists uniting a range of new perspectives methods and frameworks for examining and understanding the ways that organisms and environments interact The volume is organized into three main sections historical perspectives contested models and emerging frameworks The first section explores the origins of the modern idea of organism environment interaction in the mid nineteenth century and its development by later psychologists and anthropologists In the second section a variety of controversial models from mathematical representations of evolution to model organisms in medical research are discussed and reframed in light of recent questions about the interplay between organisms and environment The third section investigates several new ideas that have the potential to reshape key aspects of the biological and social sciences Populations of organisms evolve in response to changing environments bodies and minds depend on a wide array of circumstances for their development cultures create complex relationships with the natural world even as they alter it irrevocably The chapters in this volume share a commitment to unraveling the mysteries of this entangled life Bones and Bodies Alan G Morris, 2022-01-15 This is an accessible account of the establishment of the scientific discipline of biological anthropology The author takes readers back over the past century of anthropological discovery in South Africa and uncovers the stories of individual scientists and researchers who played a significant role in shaping perceptions of how peoples of southern Africa both ancient and modern

The Alternative Introduction to Biological Anthropology Jonathan M. Marks, 2018 In The Alternative Introduction to Biological Anthropology Second Edition author Jonathan Marks presents an innovative framework for thinking about the major issues in the field with fourteen original essays designed to correlate to the core chapters in standard textbooks Each chapter draws on and complements but does not reconstitute except for the sake of clarity the major data and ideas presented in standard texts Marks explores such topics as how we make sense of data about our origins where our modern ideas come from our inability to separate natural facts from cultural facts and values as we try to understand ourselves and the social and political aspects of science as a culturally situated mental activity

Material Evidence Robert Chapman, Alison Wylie, 2014-12-05 How do archaeologists make effective use of physical traces and material culture as repositories of evidence Material Evidence takes a resolutely case based approach to this question exploring instances of exemplary practice key challenges instructive failures and innovative developments in the use of archaeological data as evidence The goal is to bring to the surface the wisdom of practice teasing out norms of archaeological reasoning from evidence Archaeologists make compelling use of an enormously diverse range of material evidence from garbage dumps to monuments from finely crafted artifacts rich with cultural significance to the detritus of everyday life and the inadvertent transformation of landscapes over the long term Each contributor to Material Evidence identifies a particular type of evidence with which they grapple and considers with reference to concrete examples how archaeologists construct evidential claims critically assess them and bring them to bear on pivotal questions about the cultural past Historians cultural anthropologists philosophers and science studies scholars are increasingly interested in working with material things as objects of inquiry and as evidence and they acknowledge on all sides just how challenging this is One of the central messages of the book is that close analysis of archaeological best practice can yield constructive guidelines for practice that have much to offer archaeologists and those in related fields

Integrational Linguistics and Philosophy of Language in the Global South Sifre B. Makoni, Deryn P. Verity, Anna Kaiper-Marquez, 2021-05-26 Exploring the nature of possible relationships between Integrational Linguistics and Southern Epistemologies this volume examines various ways in which Integrational Linguistics can be used to support the decolonizing interests of Southern Epistemologies particularly the lay oriented nature of Integrational Linguistics that Southern Epistemologies find productive as a positive counter discourse As both an anti elitist and antiestablishment way of thinking these chapters consider how Integrational Linguistics can be consistent with the decolonial aspirations of Southern Epistemologies They argue that the relationship between Southern Epistemologies and Integrational Linguistics is complicated by the fact that while Integrational Linguistics is critical of what it calls a segregationist view of language i e the language myth Southern Epistemologies in language policy and planning and minority language movements find the language myth helpful in order to facilitate social transformation And yet both Integrational Linguistics and Southern Epistemologies are critical of approaches to multilingualism that are founded on notions of named languages They are also both critical of linguistics as a decontextualized and institutionalized extension of ordinary metalinguistic practices which at times influence the prejudices preconceptions and ideologies of dominant western cultures This book will prove to be an essential resource for scholars and students not only within the field of integrational linguistics but also in other language and communication fields in particular the dialogic distributed and ecological enactive approaches wherein integrational linguistics has been subjected to scrutiny and criticism Science, Information, and Policy Interface for Effective Coastal and Ocean Management Bertrum H. MacDonald, Suzuette S. Soomai, Elizabeth M. De Santo, Peter G. Wells, 2016-04-27 This book provides a timely analysis of the role that information particularly scientific information plays in the policy making and decision making processes in coastal and ocean management It includes contributions from global experts in marine environmental science marine policy fisheries public policy and administration resource management

The Dialectical Primatologist Nicholas Malone, 2021-10-24 The Dialectical Primatologist identifies the essential parameters vital for the continued coexistence of hominoids apes and humans synthesising primate research and conservation in order to develop culturally compelling conservation strategies required for the facilitation of hominoid coexistence As unsustainable human activities threaten many primate species with extinction effective conservation strategies for endangered primates will depend upon our understanding of behavioural response to human modified habitats This is especially true for the apes who are arguably our most powerful connection to the natural world Recognising the inseparability of the natural and the social the dialectical approach in this book highlights the heterogeneity and complexity of ecological relationships Malone stresses that ape conservation requires a synthesis of nature and culture that recognises their inseparability in ecological relationships that are both biophysically and socially formed and seeks to identify the pathways that lead to either hominoid coexistence or alternatively extinction This book will be of keen interest to academics in biological anthropology primatology environmental anthropology conservation and human animal studies The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Born This Way Joanna Wuest, 2023-09-15 Across protests and courtrooms LGBTQ activists argue that true sex or sexuality is encoded deep down that it circulates in blood and is an expression of brain shapes and genetic codes Their opponents incite panic over luring child groomers and a contagious gender ideology which corrupts the brains and then bodies of susceptible teenagers In Born This Way Science Citizenship and Inequality in the American LGBTQ Movement Joanna Wuest tells the history of the LGBTQ rights movement the modern scientific study of gender and sexuality and the identity politics that formed at the nexus She too reveals how conservative leaders have undermined science's ability to assist equal rights campaigns reproductive rights and climate change policies alike Born This Way is at once a celebratory and cautionary tale one which delineates a minority rights movement's impressive victories its powerful and persuasive allies and the ongoing assault on equality and science alike

A History of Anthropological Theory, Fifth Edition Paul A. Erickson, Liam D. Murphy, 2017-01-01 An accessible and engaging overview of anthropological theory that provides a comprehensive history from antiquity through to the twenty first century The fifth edition has been revised throughout with substantial updates to the Feminism and Anthropology section including more on Gender and Sexuality and with a new section on Anthropologies of the Digital Age Once again A History of Anthropological Theory will be published simultaneously with the accompanying reader mirroring these changes in the selection of readings so they can easily be used together in the classroom Additional biographical information about some of theorists has been added to help students

Science, Society and the Environment Michael Dove, Daniel Kammen, 2015-04-24 In an era when pressing environmental problems make collaboration across the divide between sciences and arts and humanities essential this book presents the results of a collaborative analysis by an anthropologist and a physicist of four key junctures between science society and environment The first focuses on the systemic bias in science in favour of studying esoteric subjects as distinct from the mundane subjects of everyday life the second is a study of the fire climax grasslands of Southeast Asia especially those dominated by Imperata cylindrica sword grass the third reworks the idea of moral economy applying it to relations between environment and society and the fourth focuses on the evolution of the global discourse of the culpability and responsibility of climate change The volume concludes with the insights of an interdisciplinary perspective for the natural and social science of sustainability It argues that failures of conservation and development must be viewed systemically and that mundane topics are no less complex than the more esoteric subjects of science The book addresses a current blind spot within the academic research community to focusing attention on the seemingly common and mundane beliefs and practices that ultimately play the central role in the human interaction with the environment This book will benefit students and scholars from a number of different academic disciplines including conservation and environment studies development studies studies of global environmental change anthropology geography sociology politics and science and technology studies

Why We Believe Agustin Fuentes, 2019-09-24 A wide ranging argument by a renowned anthropologist that the capacity to believe is what makes us human Why are so many humans religious Why do we daydream imagine and hope Philosophers theologians social scientists and historians have offered explanations for centuries but their accounts often ignore or even avoid human evolution Evolutionary scientists answer with proposals for why ritual religion and faith make sense as adaptations to past challenges or as by products of our hyper complex cognitive capacities But what if the focus on religion is too narrow Renowned anthropologist Agust n Fuentes argues that the capacity to be religious is actually a small part of a larger and deeper human capacity to believe Why believe in religion economies love A fascinating intervention into some of the most common misconceptions about human nature this book employs evolutionary neurobiological and anthropological evidence to argue that belief the ability to commit passionately and wholeheartedly to an idea is central to the human way of being in the world

The Routledge Handbook of Evolution and Philosophy Richard Joyce, 2017-08-16 In recent years the relation between contemporary academic philosophy and evolutionary theory has become ever more active multifaceted and productive The connection is a bustling two way street In one direction philosophers of biology make significant contributions to theoretical discussions about the nature of evolution such as What is a species What is reproductive fitness Does selection operate primarily on genes and What is an evolutionary function In the other direction a broader group of philosophers appeal to Darwinian selection in an attempt to illuminate traditional philosophical puzzles such as How could a brain state have representational content Are moral judgments justified Why do we enjoy fiction and Are humans invariably selfish In grappling with these questions this interdisciplinary collection includes cutting edge examples from both directions of traffic The thirty contributions written exclusively for this volume are divided into six sections The Nature of Selection Evolution and Information Human Nature Evolution and Mind Evolution and Ethics and Evolution Aesthetics and Art Many of the contributing philosophers and psychologists are international leaders in their fields
