Why Survive Being Old In America:

Why Survive? Robert N. Butler, 1975 Why Survive? Robert N. Butler, 1975 The Rotarian, 1979-03 Established in 1911 The Rotarian is the official magazine of Rotary International and is circulated worldwide Each issue contains feature articles columns and departments about or of interest to Rotarians Seventeen Nobel Prize winners and 19 Pulitzer Prize winners from Mahatma Ghandi to Kurt Vonnegut Jr have written for the magazine The Age Discrimination Study United States Commission on Civil Rights, 1977 Growing Old in America Beth B. Hess, 1980 Gerontology and the Construction of Old Age Bryan S. R. Green, Although attitudes toward the aged and their care are inherent in any society gerontology itself is a relatively recent field of study and practice Gerontology and the Construction of Old Age applies the methods of discourse analysis and textual analysis to texts and documents in this newly evolved and eclectic field Green explores and identifies the literary methods and discursive regularities through which aging and the aged have been made into objects of study and treatment and which together form a mode of knowledge production that will influence future texts in the field Because such formats of representation limit rational diagnoses of problems and rational courses of ameliorative action policy implications in the field of gerontology are a major interest of this study Another interest is methodological Within the broader constructionist approach to social reality Green takes the position of constitutive realism the notion that social reality is linguistically constructed primarily in speech and writing The book's two aims are to describe analytically the field of gerontology The field is important both for its growing academic presence and for its practical effects on discourse and policy concerning old age It also hopes to help develop possibilities of inquiry associated with the linguistic literary and rhetorical turns of social science in recent years Gerontology and the Construction of Old Age is a substantive investigation at considerable theoretical depth of gerontology itself as well as a methodological treatise with broader implications for social science as it focuses upon the discourse of various professional fields Bryan S Green is professor emeritus of sociology at York University He is the author of Knowing the Poor A Case Study in Textual Reality Construction and Literary Methods and Sociological Theory His research interests include the application of textual and discourse analysis to gerontology and the literary construction of policy reports Roberta R Greene is the Louis and Ann Wolens Centennial Chair in Gerontology and Social Welfare at the University of Texas at Austin Robert G Blundo is professor in the Department of Social Work at the University of North Carolina Wilmington Age Becomes Us Leni Marshall, 2015-06-30 Deconstructs fiction and nonfiction to further understandings of how aging and old age are created In lively accessible prose this book expands the reach and depth of age studies A review of age studies methods in theory literature and practice leads readers to see how their own intersectional identities shape their beliefs about age aging and old age This study asks readers to interrogate the texts of menopause self help books on aging and foundational age studies works In addition to the study of these nonfiction texts the poetry and prose of Doris Lessing Lucille Clifton and Louise Erdrich serve as vehicles for exploring how age relations work including how they invoke readers into kinships of reciprocal care as othermothers otherdaughters and otherelders The literary chapters examine how gifted storytellers provide enactments portrayals and metaphorical uses of age to create transformative potential

Boomers 3.0 Lawrence R. Samuel,2017-07-14 Capitalizing on what is arguably the most important social phenomenon of our time and place the aging of America this book shows organizations how to market specifically to baby boomers in their third act of life The graying of America is undeniable with an estimated 10 000 boomers turning 65 every day But to dismiss the baby boomer generation as a group no longer worth marketing to would be foolish According to the Census Bureau in 2029 the year when the last boomer will have turned 65 there will still be more than 61 million boomers roughly 17 percent of the projected population of the United States Boomers will still be the wealthiest generation in the United States until at least 2030 according to the Deloitte Center for Financial Services with their share of net household wealth to peak at 50.2 percent by 2020 Boomers 3.0 Marketing to Baby Boomers in Their Third Act of Life describes how to market to baby boomers from a cultural perspective specifically addressing the demographic group of baby boomers in their later adulthood a period that will continue for the next two to three decades The author uses the term 3.0 to indicate the baby boomers third phase of life and explains how this third act of life will differ from earlier periods accordingly organizations should take a different approach to marketing to them than in the past This book offers a way to contextualize business objectives within a culturally based forward thinking framework that fully leverages the opportunities presented by what is perhaps the biggest and most affluent customer base in history Readers will be able to use the strategies described to map territories to stake and mine in targeting boomers create meaningful relationships with individuals in this group and communicate effectively with boomers to offer them products and services

The Other Within Us Marilyn Pearsall,2018-03-09 Feminist women bequeath to us a powerful critique of our society's obsession with beauty and impossible body ideals Having refused makeup high heels and short skirts in their youth these women are now entering the most stigmatized stage in a woman's life old age As she becomes the older woman the feminist's rejection of beauty standards and her ability to locate self worth is being challenged How will feminists respond to the issues raised in this phase of their lives By confronting the issues unique to older women in our culture and society these authors redress the neglect and isolation experienced within contemporary feminism and gerontology Ultimately the goal of the book is to inspire the aging woman to more easily embrace the older other within her

Old and Sick in America Muriel R. Gillick M.D.,2017-10-06 Since the introduction of Medicare and Medicaid in 1965 the American health care system has steadily grown in size and complexity Muriel R Gillick takes readers on a narrative tour of American health care incorporating the stories of older patients as they travel from the doctor's office to the hospital to the skilled nursing facility and examining the influence of forces as diverse as pharmaceutical corporations device manufacturers and health insurance companies on their experience A scholar who has practiced medicine for over thirty years Gillick offers readers an informed and straightforward view of health care from the ground up revealing that many crucial medical decisions are based not on what is best for the patient but rather on outside forces sometimes to the detriment of patient health and quality of life Gillick suggests a broadly imagined patient centered reform of the health care system with Medicare as the engine of change a transformation that would be mediated through accountability cost effectiveness and culture change
