Piotr Borowiec

Winnie The Pooh S:

ThirdWay, 1978-07-13 Monthly current affairs magazine from a Christian perspective with a focus on politics society economics and culture Movie/TV Soundtracks and Original Cast Recordings Price and Reference Guide Jerry Osborne, 2002-11 Animated Short Films Piotr Borowiec, 1998 A popular reference guide to theatrical cartoons that are presently available on video tv or in cinemas It includes a brief history of the genre and several indexes Literature and the Child James Holt McGavran, James Holt McGavran, 1998-04 The Romantic myth of childhood as a transhistorical holy time of innocence and spirituality uncorrupted by the adult world has been subjected in recent years to increasingly serious interrogation Was there ever really a time when mythic ideals were simple pure and uncomplicated The contributors to this book contend although in widely differing ways and not always approvingly that our culture is indeed still pervaded in this postmodern moment of the very late twentieth century by the Romantic conception of childhood which first emerged two hundred years ago In the wake of the French Revolution and the Industrial Revolution western Europe experienced another fin de si cle characterized by overwhelming material and institutional change and instability By historicizing the specific political social and economic conflicts at work within the notion of Romantic childhood the essayists in Literature and the Child show us how little these forces have changed over time and how enriching and empowering they can still be for children and their parents In the first section Romanticism Continued and Contested Alan Richardson and Mitzi Myers question the origins and ends of Romantic childhood In Romantic Ironies Postmodern Texts Dieter Petzold Richard Flynn and James McGavran argue that postmodern texts for both children and adults perpetuate the Romantic complexities of childhood Next in The Commerce of Children s Books Anne Lundin and Paula Connolly study the production and marketing of children s classics Finally in Romantic Ideas in Cultural Confrontations William Scheick and Teya Rosenberg investigate interactions of Romantic myths with those of other cultural systems Children's Literature, Domestication, and Social Foundation Layla AbdelRahim, 2014-12-05 This study of children s literature as knowledge culture and social foundation bridges the gap between science and literature and examines the interconnectedness of fiction and reality as a two way road The book investigates how the civilized narrative orders experience by means of segregation domestication breeding and extermination arguing instead that the stories and narratives of wilderness project chaos and infinite possibilities for experiencing the world through a diverse community of life AbdelRahim engages these narratives in a dialogue with each other and traces their expression in the various disciplines and books written for both children and adults analyzing the manifestation of fictional narratives in real life This is both an inter and multi disciplinary endeavor that is reflected in the combination of research methods drawn from anthropology and literary studies as well as in the tracing of the narratives of order and chaos or civilization and wilderness in children s literature and our world Chapters compare and contrast fictional children s books that offer different real world socio economic paradigms such as A A Milne s Winnie the Pooh projecting a civilized monarcho capitalist world Nikolai Nosov's trilogy on The Adventures of Dunno and Friends presenting the challenges and feats of an anarcho socialist society in evolution from primitivism towards technology and Tove Jansson's Moominbooks depicting the harmony of anarchy chaos and wildness AbdelRahim examines the construction transmission and acquisition of knowledge in children's literature by visiting the very nature of literature culture and language and the civilized structures that domesticate the world She brings radically new perspectives to the knowledge culture and construction of human beings making an invaluable contribution to a wide range of disciplines and for those engaged in revolutionizing contemporary debates on the nature of knowledge human identity and the world The Continuum Encyclopedia of Children's Literature Bernice E. Cullinan, Diane Goetz Person, 2005-01-01 Provides articles covering children's literature from around the world as well as biographical and critical reviews of authors including Avi C. S. Lewis J. K. Rowling and Anno Mitsumasa The Translation of Children's Literature Gillian Lathey, 2006-01-01 In the last few decades a number of European scholars have paid an increasing amount of attention to children's literature in translation This book not only provides a synthetic account of what has been achieved in the field but also makes us fully aware of all the textual visual and cultural complexities that translating for children entails Students of this subject have had problems in finding a book that attempted an up to date and comprehensive review of the field Gillian Lathey's Reader does just this Dr Piotr Kuhiwczak Director Centre for Translation and Comparative Cultural Studies University of Warwick Masculinity in Children's Animal Stories, 1888-1928 Wynn William Yarbrough, 2011-07-25 The animal stories produced around the turn of the 20th century have maintained a remarkable hold on the imagination of children worldwide This book examines the performance of masculinity in these stories particularly in light of the waning years of Victoria's reign when changing historical political and social pressures altered the definition of masculinity Topics covered include the roles of violence rebellion escape spirituality social hierarchies and law Adapting Canonical Texts in Children's Literature Anja Müller, 2013-02-14 Adaptations of canonical texts have played an important role throughout the history of children's literature and have been seen as an active and vital contributing force in establishing a common ground for intercultural communication across generations and borders This collection analyses different examples of adapting canonical texts in or for children's literature encompassing adaptations of English classics for children and young adult readers and intercultural adaptations of children's classics across Europe The international contributors assess both historical and transcultural adaptation in relation to historically and regionally contingent concepts of childhood By assessing how texts move across age specific or national borders they examine the traces of a common literary and cultural heritage in European children's literature Twentieth Century's Greatest Hits Paul Williams, 2000 Rates the best of the twentieth century's art and pop culture while accompanying essays provide commentary on the way art and performance influences the public and modern world
