Women Art And Patronage From Henry Iii To Edward Iii 1216 1377:

Women, Art, and Patronage from Henry III to Edward III Loveday Lewes Gee, 2002 Women as patrons of the arts their social status the sources of their wealth and their motives together with an examination of the various artefacts which they commissioned Art, Identity and Devotion in Fourteenth-century England Kathryn Ann Smith, 2003-01-01 Examines the De Lisle hours of Margaret de Beauchamp the De Bois hours Dubois hours of Hawisia de Bois and the Neville of Hornby hours of Isabel de Byron Writing the Lives of People and Things, AD 500-1700 Robert F.W. Smith, Gemma L.

Watson, 2017-05-15 Historical biography has a mixed reputation at its best it can reveal much not only about an individual but the wider context of their life and society at worst it can result in a narrowly focused work of hagiography or condemnation Yet in spite of its sometimes inferior status amongst academics biography has remained a popular genre and in recent years has developed into new and intriguing areas As the essays in this volume reveal scholars from an array of different disciplines have embraced what biography can offer them expanding the remit of biography from people to things tracing the life of their chosen object from creation to use to disposal to rediscovery The increasing concern with the physicality of manuscripts and books has also meant an awareness of and interest in the lives of these forms of material culture Historians have also become increasingly interested in groups of individuals resulting in prosopographical studies A book on the diversity of biography is therefore very timely exploring the multi disciplinary application of historical biography in the period 500 1700 It presents fourteen case studies offering new approaches to historical biography written by early career researchers from backgrounds in archaeology English art architectural history and history demonstrating different approaches and techniques Overall the collection is a strong and united statement by a group of early career researchers who insist on the vitality of biography as a central concern of historians across the disciplines of the humanities Contributors believe that the life is a fundamental medium of study for the medieval and early modern periods and thus bolsters the move back towards biography as a primary tool of medieval and early modern scholars as well as a tool for future research for humanities scholars interested in biography Reassessing the Roles of Women as 'Makers' of Medieval Art and Architecture (2 Vol. Set) Therese Martin, 2012 The twenty four studies in this volume propose a new approach to framing the debate around the history of medieval art and architecture to highlight the multiple roles played by women moving beyond today's standard division of artist from patron Lords and Lordship in the British Isles in the Late Middle Ages Rees Davies, 2009-06-11 It is well known that political economic and social power in the British Isles in the Middle Ages lay in the hands of a small group of domini lords In his final book the late Sir Rees Davies explores the personalities of these magnates the nature of their lordship and the ways in which it was expressed in a diverse and divided region in the period 1272 1422 Although their right to rule was rarely questioned the lords flaunted their identity and superiority through the promotion of heraldic lore the use of elevated forms of address and by the extravagant display of their wealth and power Their domestic routine furnishings dress diet artistic preferences and pastimes all spoke of a lifestyle of privilege and authority Warfare was a constant element in their lives affording access to riches and reputation but also carrying the danger of capture ruin and even death while their enthusiasm for crusades and tournaments testified to their energy and bellicose inclinations Above all underpinning the lords control of land was their control of men a complex system of dependence and reward that Davies restores to central significance by studying the British Isles as a whole The exercise and experience of lordship was far more varied than the English model alone would suggest

The Hollow Crown Miri Rubin, 2005-01-27 There is no more haunting compelling period in Britain s history than the later middle ages The extraordinary kings Edward III and Henry V the great warriors Richard II and Henry VI tragic inadequates killed by their failure to use their power and Richard III the demon king The extraordinary events the Black Death that destroyed a third of the population the Peasants Revolt the Wars of the Roses the Battle of Agincourt The extraordinary artistic achievements the great churches castles and tombs that still dominate the landscape the birth of the English language in The Canterbury Tales For the first time in a generation a historian has had the vision and confidence to write a spell binding account of the era immortalised by Shakespeare s history plays THE HOLLOW CROWN brilliantly brings to life for the reader a world we have long lost a strange Catholic rural country of monks peasants knights and merchants almost perpetually at war but continues to define so much of England s national myth

Plantagenet Ancestry: A Study In Colonial And Medieval Families, 2nd Edition, 2011 , Following Chaucer Lynn Staley, 2020-04-21 Following Chaucer Offices of the Active Life explores three representative figures the royal woman the poet and the merchant in relation to the concept of office which Cicero linked to the health of the republic but Chaucer to that of the common good Not usually conjoined to the term office these three figures situated in the active life were not firmly mapped onto the body politic which was used to figure a relational and ordered social body ruled by the king the head These figures are points of entry into a set of questions rooted in Chaucer s understanding of his cultural and historical past and in his keen appraisal of the social dynamics of his own time that also reverberate in the centuries after Chaucer s death Following Chaucer does not trace influence but uses Chaucer s likely reading circumstances and literary and social affiliations as guides to understanding his poetry within the context of late medieval English culture and the reshaping of the concept of these particular offices that suited the needs of a future whose dynamics he anticipated His understanding of the importance of the Ciceronian concept of office within the active life his profound cultural awareness and his probing of the foundations of social change provide him with a keen sense of the persistent tensions and inconsistencies that are fundamental to his poetry

The Culture of Medieval English Monasticism James G. Clark, 2007 Examinations of the culture artistic material musical of English monasteries in the six centuries between the Conquest and the Dissolution The cultural remains of England s abbeys and priories have always attracted scholarly attention but too often they have been studied in isolation appreciated only for their artistic codicological or intellectual features and not for the insights they offer into the patterns of life and thought the underlying norms values and mentalit of the communities of men and women which made them Indeed the distinguished monastic historian David Knowles doubted there would ever be sufficient evidence to recover the mentality of the ordinary cloister monk These twelve essays challenge this view They exploit newly catalogued and newly discovered evidence manuscript books wall paintings and even the traces of original monastic music to recover the cultural dynamics of a cross section of male and female communities It is often claimed that over time the cultural traditions of the monasteries were suffocated by secular trends but here it is suggested that many houses remained a major cultural force even on the verge of the Reformation James G Clark is Professor of History at the University of Exeter Contributors DAVID BELL ROGER BOWERS JAMES CLARK BARRIE COLLETT MARY ERLER G R EVANS MIRIAM GILL JOAN GREATREX JULIAN HASELDINE J D NORTH ALAN PIPER AND R M THOMSON Vision, Devotion, and Self-Representation in Late Medieval Art Alexa Sand,2014-03-31 This book investigates the owner portrait in the context of late medieval devotional books primarily from France and England These mirror like pictures of praying book owners respond to and help develop a growing concern with visibility and self scrutiny that characterized the religious life of the laity after the Fourth Lateran Council in 1215 The image of the praying book owner translated pre existing representational strategies concerned with the authority and spiritual efficacy of pictures and books such as the Holy Face and the donor image into a more intimate and reflexive mode of address in Psalters and Books of Hours created for lay users Alexa Sand demonstrates how this transformation had profound implications for devotional practices and for the performance of gender and class identity in the striving aristocratic world of late medieval France and England
