Women And Media Content Careers And Criticism:

Women and Media Cynthia M. Lont, 1995 This text examines women's roles and impact in newspapers, women's magazines, advertising, television, entertainment, television news, film, rock music, and music television. Each unit opens with a brief discussion of the history, portrayal, and employment of women in a specific medium, followed by three essays: a content analysis that quantifies the roles of women in that medium, a descriptive history of a specific woman or women's media group that has affected the medium, and a critical essay that challenges readers to think about women and media in new and different ways. The text intertwines various perspectives throughout its chapters: women as news, women as newsmakers, and the portrayal of women to give an integrative approach to the study of women and media. Critical Readings: Media And Gender Carter, Cynthia, Steiner, Linda, 2003-12-01 How is gender constructed in the media? To what extent do portrayals of gender influence everyday perceptions of ourselves and our actions? In what ways do the media reinforce and sometimes challenge gender inequalities? Critical Readings: Media and Gender provides a lively and engaging introduction to the field of media and gender research, drawing from a wide range of important international scholarship. A variety of conceptual and methodological approaches is used to explore subjects such as entertainment news, grassroots communication, new media, texts, institutions, audiences. Topics include Gender identity and television talk shows, Historical portrayals of women in advertising, The sexualization of the popular press, The representation of lesbians on television, The cult of femininity in women's magazines, Images of African American women and Latinas in Hollywood cinema, Sexual violence in the media, Women in popular music, Pornography and masculine power, Women's relationship to the Internet. This book is ideal for undergraduate courses in cultural and media studies, gender studies, the sociology of the media, mass communication, journalism, communication studies, and politics. The Handbook of Children, Media, and Development Sandra L. Calvert, Barbara J. Wilson, 2010-12-13 The Handbook of Children, Media, and Development brings together an interdisciplinary group of experts in the fields of developmental psychology, developmental science, communication, and medicine to provide an authoritative, comprehensive look at the empirical research on media and media policies within the field. 25 newly commissioned essays bring new research to the forefront, especially on digital media, developmental research, and public policy debates. Includes helpful introductions to each section, a theoretical overview of the field, and a final chapter that offers a vision of future research. Contributors include key international authorities in the field. The Routledge Companion to Advertising and Promotional Culture Emily West, Matthew P. McAllister, 2013-02-11 The Routledge Companion to Advertising and Promotional Culture provides an essential guide to the key issues, methodologies, concepts, debates, and policies that shape our everyday relationship with advertising. The book contains eight sections: Historical Perspectives considers the historical roots and their relationship to recent changes of contemporary advertising and promotional practice; Political Economy examines how market forces, corporate ownership, and government policies shape the advertising and media promotion environment Globalization presents work on advertising and marketing as a global intercultural and transnational practice Audiences as Labor Consumers Interpreters Fans introduces how people construct promotional meaning and are constructed as consumers markets and labor by advertising forces Identities analyzes the ways that advertising constructs images and definitions of groups such as gender race and the child through industry labor practices marketing as well as through representation in advertising texts Social Institutions looks at the pervasiveness of advertising strategies in different social domains including politics music housing and education Everyday Life highlights how a promotional ethos and advertising initiatives pervade self image values and relationships The Environment interrogates advertising s relationship to environmental issues the promotional efforts of corporations to construct green images and mass consumption s relationship to material waste With chapters written by leading international scholars working at the intersections of media studies and advertising studies this book is a go to source for those looking to understand the ways advertising has shaped consumer culture in the past and present Media Messages Linda Holtzman, Leon

Sharpe, 2014-03-15 The new edition of this widely acclaimed book reveals how the popular media contributes to widespread myths and misunderstanding about cultural diversity Along with updated media examples expanded theories and analysis this edition explores even more deeply the coverage of race in two chapters discusses more broadly how men and boys are depicted in the media and socialized and how class issues have become even more visible during the Great Recession of the 21st century and the Occupy movements Women, Feminism and Media Sue Thornham, 2007-05-30 Over the past few decades feminist media scholarship has flourished to become a major influence on the fields of media film and cultural studies At the same time the cultural shift towards post feminism has raised questions about the continuing validity of feminism as a defining term for this work This book explores the changing and often ambivalent relationship between the three terms women feminism and media in the light of these recent debates At the same time it places them within the broader discussions within feminist theory about subjectivity identity culture and narrative of which they have formed a crucial part The book is organised around four key topic areas Fixing into Images offers a rethinking of one of the first preoccupations of feminist media analysis the relationship between women and images Narrating Femininity explores the narratives of femininity produced in media texts in the light of theories of narrative and identity Real Women examines both the continuing absence of women s voices from the genres of news and documentary and their over presence within popular reality media forms Finally Technologies of Difference examines the relationship between feminism women and new media technologies Throughout the book explores key issues within feminist media studies both through specific examples and via critical engagement with the work of major theoretical writers Features A completely up to date study of the key areas of issue and debate in feminist media studies Includes case studies and discussion of the work of key writers in the field Contains readings of specific texts ranging from news and advertising to reality TV and postfeminist TV drama
