Things We Once Held Dear Legacy Edition American Historical Fiction 20th Century:

Confederate Exceptionalism Nicole Maurantonio, 2022-09-30 Along with Confederate flags the men and women who recently gathered before the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts carried signs proclaiming Heritage Not Hate Theirs they said was an open and visible protest against those who attacked us ours flags our ancestors or our Heritage How Nicole Maurantonio wondered did not hate square with a heritage grounded in slavery How do so called neo Confederates distance themselves from the actions and beliefs of white supremacists while clinging to the very symbols and narratives that tether the Confederacy to the history of racism and oppression in America The answer Maurantonio discovers is bound up in the myth of Confederate exceptionalism a myth whose components proponents and meaning this timely and provocative book explores The narrative of Confederate exceptionalism in this analysis updates two uniquely American mythologies the Lost Cause and American exceptionalism blending their elements with discourses of racial neoliberalism to create a seeming separation between the Confederacy and racist systems Incorporating several methods and drawing from a range of sources including ethnographic observations interviews and archival documents Maurantonio examines the various people objects and rituals that contribute to this cultural balancing act Her investigation takes in official modes of remembering the Confederacy such as the monuments and building names that drive the discussion today but it also pays attention to the more mundane and often subtle ways in which the Confederacy is recalled Linking the different modes of commemoration her work bridges the distance that believers in Confederate exceptionalism maintain while situated in history from the Civil War through the civil rights era the book brings much needed clarity to the constitution persistence and significance of this divisive myth in the context of our time

Frederick Luis Aldama, 2009-09-15 Magical realism has become almost synonymous with Latin American fiction but this way of representing the layered and often contradictory reality of the topsy turvy late capitalist globalizing world finds equally vivid expression in U S multiethnic and British postcolonial literature and film Writers and filmmakers such as Oscar Zeta Acosta Ana Castillo Julie Dash Hanif Kureishi and Salman Rushdie have made brilliant use of magical realism to articulate the trauma of dislocation and the legacies of colonialism that people of color experience in the postcolonial multiethnic world This book seeks to redeem and refine the theory of magical realism in U S multiethnic and British postcolonial literature and film Frederick Aldama engages in theoretically sophisticated readings of Ana Castillo's So Far from God Oscar Zeta Acosta's Autobiography of a Brown Buffalo Salman Rushdie's Midnight's Children Shame The Satanic Verses and The Moor's Last Sigh Julie Dash's Daughters of the Dust and Stephen Frears and Hanif Kureishi's Sammy and Rosie Get Laid Coining the term magicorealism to characterize these works Aldama not only creates a postethnic critical methodology for enlarging the contact zone between the genres of novel film and autobiography but also shatters the interpretive lens that traditionally confuses the transcription of the real world where truth and falsity apply with narrative modes governed by other criteria
