A Writer's Guide to Oral Presentations and Writing in the Disciplines Christine M. Manion,2001 Teaching Writing in Chinese Speaking Areas Mark Shiu-Kee Shum,De-lu Zhang,2005-11-23 One of the most civilized nations in history China has a long standing writing tradition and many Chinese texts have become world treasures However the way the Chinese teach writing in various countries in contemporary times is little known to the outside world especially in Western countries Undoubtedly the Chinese have had an established traditional method of writing instruction However recent social and political developments have created the perception amongst both practitioners and researchers of a need for change Whilst certain socio political changes both in Mainland China and in the territories acted as agents for reform of the teaching of composition the shape these reforms are taking has been due to many different influences coming both from inside the countries themselves and from foreign sources Mainland China Hong Kong Taiwan and Singapore have each developed their own approach to the teaching of composition Making the Implicit Explicit Barbara E. Lovitts,2023-07-03 Despite their and other stakeholders consistent demand for excellence doctoral programs have rarely if ever been assessed in terms of the quality of the dissertations departments produce Yet dissertations provide the most powerful objective measure of the success of a department s doctoral program Indeed assessment when done properly can help departments achieve excellence by providing insight into a program s strengths and weaknesses This book and the groundbreaking study on which it is based is about making explicit to doctoral students the tacit rules for the assessment of the final of all final educational products the dissertation The purpose of defining performance expectations is to make them more transparent to graduate students while they are in the researching and writing phases and thus to help them achieve to higher levels of accomplishment Lovitts proposes the use of rubrics to clarify performance expectations not to rate dissertations or individual components of dissertations to provide a summary score but to facilitate formative assessment to support not substitute for the advising process She provides the results of a study in which over 270 faculty from ten major disciplines spanning the sciences social sciences and humanities were asked to make explicit their implicit standards or criteria for evaluating dissertations The book concludes with a summary of the practical and research implications for different stakeholders faculty departments universities disciplinary associations accrediting organizations and doctoral students themselves The methods described can easily be adapted for the formative assessment of capstone courses senior and master s theses comprehensive exams papers and journal articles Writing STEAM Vivian Kao,Julia Kiernan,2022-03-03 This edited collection positions writing at the

Writing a New Environmental Era Ken Hiltner, 2019-10-16 Writing a New Environmental Era first considers and then rejects back to nature thinking and its proponents like Henry David Thoreau arguing that human beings have never lived at peace with nature Consequently we need to stop thinking about going back to what never was and instead work at moving forward to forge a more harmonious relationship with nature in the future Using the rise of the automobile and climate change denial literature to explore how our current environmental era was written into existence Ken Hiltner argues that the humanities and not as might be expected the sciences need to lead us there In one sense climate change is caused by a rise in atmospheric CO₂ and other so called greenhouse gases Science can address this cause However approached in another way altogether climate change is caused by a range of troubling human activities that require the release of these gases such as our obsessions with cars lavish houses air travel and endless consumer goods The natural sciences may be able to tell us how these activities are changing our climate but not why we are engaging in them That s a job for the humanities and social sciences As this book argues we need to see anthropogenic i e human caused climate change for what it is and address it as such a human problem brought about by human actions A passionate and personal exploration of why the Environmental Humanities matter and why we should be looking forward not back to nature this book will be essential reading for all those interested in the future and sustainability of our planet

Embracing the Song of Phrase: An Mental Symphony within Thinking And Writing In The Humanities

In some sort of consumed by displays and the ceaseless chatter of instantaneous communication, the melodic splendor and emotional symphony produced by the published term frequently disappear into the back ground, eclipsed by the constant sound and disruptions that permeate our lives. However, nestled within the pages of Thinking And Writing In The Humanities a charming fictional prize full of natural feelings, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by an outstanding musician of language, that fascinating masterpiece conducts readers on a psychological trip, skillfully unraveling the hidden songs and profound affect resonating within each carefully crafted phrase. Within the depths of this moving assessment, we will examine the book is key harmonies, analyze its enthralling writing type, and submit ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
