education Literacy Leader Fellowship Program Reports ,1996 Faculty Service-Learning Guidebook Christine M. Cress,Stephanie T. Stokamer,Thomas J. Van Cleave,Joyce P. Kaufman,2023-07-03 This is a practical guide to designing teaching and coordinating service learning courses and for developing reciprocal community partnerships and community based research through a lens of equity that addresses the endemic racial social economic and environmental disparities across society The text provides a comprehensive framework for developing both in person and on line service learning with a chapter on virtual delivery of courses that integrates the principles and practices described throughout the book The authors uniquely integrate the how to of conducting service learning with the theoretical foundations to enact effective equitable and inclusive community engagement Given this moment of enormous social inequality and divisiveness the authors offer a new definition and set of educational principles that they characterize as Equity Centered Community Engagement Excellence These principles serve to guide academic and community engagement that is democratic recognizes the voice and expertise of community partners addresses the power imbalances between communities and academic institutions and develops an educational experience that is potentially transformative and promotes civic responsibility Informed by the literature of critical service learning critical race theory intercultural communication theory and social constructivism this book attempts to deconstruct the assumption of the preeminence of academic knowledge to reconstruct a new operational paradigm of equity centeredness that validates community capacity to guide faculty in their redesign of service learning curriculum activities collaborations and scholarship It is based on the principles of Student Agency demonstrated as enhanced skills knowledge and motivation Community Efficacy recognition of community assets and capacity building Scholarly Advocacy leveraging evidence based research based for equity centered learning serving and social justice The authors offer examples of syllabi lessons and assignments reflection questions evaluation rubrics as well as an array of teaching tips that illustrate strategies for use in the classroom and in the field The book is addressed to faculty embarking on service learning and to seasoned scholar practitioners looking for innovative ideas as well as to campus administrators who coordinate community outreach or college student volunteer services offering guidance on leveraging resources and fiscal support from external stakeholders It is also designed to serve as a resource for professional development workshops and faculty scholar learning communities It offers a rich compendium of ideas and examples from which faculty and practitioners can select exercises and elements to incorporate or adapt for their courses whether designing short term engagements or extended service learning programs Critical Thinking Across the Curriculum Diane F. Halpern,2014-02-04 Consider that many of the people who are alive today will be working at jobs that do not currently exist and that the explosion of information means that today s knowledge will quickly become outdated As a result two goals for education clearly emerge learning how to learn and how to think critically about information that changes at a rapid rate We face a multitude of new challenges to our natural environment difficult dilemmas concerning the use of weapons of mass destruction political agendas for the distribution of scarce commodities and wealth psychological problems of loneliness and depression escalating violence and an expanding elderly population International in scope and in magnitude these new problems strain resources and threaten the continuance of life on earth To creatively and effectively attack these imminent problems a well educated thinking populace is essential An abridged edition of Halpern s best selling text Critical Thinking Across the Curriculum is designed to help students enhance their thinking skills in every class The skills discussed are needed in every academic area and setting both in and out of class They are determining cause assessing likelihood and uncertainty comprehending complex text solving novel problems making good decisions evaluating claims and evidence and thinking creatively In this adaptation of her best selling text Diane Halpern applies the theories and research of cognitive psychology to the development of critical thinking and learning skills needed in the increasingly complex world in which we work and live The book is distinguished by its clear writing style humorous tone many practical examples and anecdotes and rigorous academic grounding Everyday examples and exercises promote the transfer of critical thinking skills and dispositions to real world settings and problems The goal is to help readers recognize when and how to apply the thinking skills needed to analyze arguments reason clearly identify and solve problems and make sound decisions Also of importance a general thinking skills framework ties the chapters together but each is written so that it can stand alone This organization allows for maximum flexibility in the selection of topics and the order in which they are covered This book is intended for use in any course emphasizing critical thinking as an approach to excellence in thinking and learning

Critical Thinking and Reasoning Daniel Fasko,2003 THE CHAPTERS and discussions in the volume integrate the various perspectives on critical thinking and stimulate new thinking about thinking Chapters in the first section present several issues that concern critical thinking and discuss the lack of core concepts and structures in the field of teaching and critical thinking Chapter 4 describes Sternberg s theory on how people think The next three chapters focus on the learning and development of critical thinking and reasoning Chapters 10 to 12 focus on the teaching of critical thinking and Chapters 14 though 16 focus on the assessment of critical thinking The epilogue discusses neglected issues in critical thinking

Learning to Think, Learning to Learn Jennifer Cromley,2000 Focuses on a cognitive or constructivist approach to learning It assumes that teaching is not just about communicating facts or mechanical skills like math rules but is a process of coming to understand the world Maintains that all real learning involves active thinking mental models thinking about thinking getting info into memory memory how thinking develops the importance of teaching content what does good thinking look like critical active learning problem based learning supporting good thinking adult learning

Better Teaching, More Learning James R. Davis,1993 Instead of focusing on teaching technique emphasis is on student learning Recent learning research is utilized to construct a frame work for effective classroom communication
