Fabian Tracts Nos. 1-186 ,1918 Nothing Gained by Overcrowding Raymond Unwin,2013-09-23 In his 1912 pamphlet for the Garden Cities and Town Planning Association Nothing Gained by Overcrowding Raymond Unwin set out in detail the lessons learnt from his formidable practical experience in the design and layout of housing at New Earswick from 1902 Letchworth Garden City from 1905 and most significantly at Hampstead Garden Suburb where the artisans quarter 1907 9 was probably his masterwork of spatial design His interest in minimising the length of paved road to number of houses served and greening the ubiquitous mechanistic bye law suburb of the late 19th century provided motivation for defining a general theory of design which under pinned Garden City principles Nothing Gained by Overcrowding emerged as a principle which was to have a revolutionary impact on housing and urban form over the next 50 years Unwin s theory had developed with his work but the origins can be found in two earlier and less well known publications On the building of houses in the Garden City was written for the first international conference of the Garden City Association held in September 1901 The following year he published the Fabian Society Tract Cottage Plans and Common Sense in which he took first principles shelter comfort privacy and drew out general criteria and specific standards Housing had to be freed from the bye law strait jacket This would sweep away back yards back alleys and abominations too long screened by that wretched prefix back Republished here for the first time together with an introductory essay by Dr Mervyn Miller these three papers make clear the development of Raymond Unwin s theories of planning and housing theories which were among the most influential of the 20th Century American Builder ,1921 Room Acoustics Heinrich Kuttruff,2016-10-03 Well established as a classic reference and specialised textbook since its first publication in 1973 Heinrich Kuttruff s Room Acoustics combines detailed coverage with a state of art presentation of the theory and practice of sound behaviour in closed spaces This sixth edition presents several additional new sections for instance on the reflection of a spherical wave from a wall on finite element methods for sound field calculation and on virtual reality as well as giving an overhaul of the standard material Particular emphasis is given to the properties and calculation of reverberation the most obvious acoustical feature of a room And further key topics include the various mechanisms of sound absorption and their practical application as well as scattering by wall irregularities including pseudo stochastic structures Extensive space is given to of psychoacoustic insights and the quality criteria derived from them along with new procedures for the sensory assessment of concert hall acoustics As in earlier editions one full and updated chapter is devoted to the design and performance of electroacoustic systems which nowadays is not just a method for sound amplification but offers many possibilities for correcting acoustic deficiencies and modifying a hall's natural acoustics
