Vexing Nature On The Ethical Case Against Agricultural Biotechnology:

Vexing Nature? Gary L. Comstock, 2012-12-06 Agricultural biotechnology refers to a diverse set of industrial techniques used to produce genetically modified foods. Genetically modified GM foods are foods manipulated at the molecular level to enhance their value to farmers and consumers. This book is a collection of essays on the ethical dimensions of ag biotech. The essays were written over a dozen years beginning in 1988. When I began to reflect on the subject, ag biotech was an exotic, untested technology. Today, in the first year of the millenium, the vast majority of consumers in the United States have taken a bite of the apple. Milk produced by cows injected with a GM protein called recombinant bovine growth hormone (bGH) is found unlabelled on grocery shelves throughout the US. In 1999, half of the soybeans and cotton harvested in the US were GM varieties. Billions of dollars of public and private monies are being invested annually in biotech research and commercial sales now reach into the tens of billions of dollars each year. I Whereas ag biotech once promised to change American agriculture, it now is in the process of doing so. Food and Agricultural Biotechnology in Ethical Perspective Paul B.

Thompson, 2020-11-09 This 3rd edition of Food and Agricultural Biotechnology in Ethical Perspective updates Thompson's analysis to reflect the next generation of biotechnology including synthetic biology, gene editing, and gene drives. The first two editions of this book, published as Food Biotechnology in Ethical Perspective in 1997 and 2007, were the first comprehensive philosophical studies of genetic engineering applied to food systems. The book is structured with chapter-length treatments of risk in four categories: food safety, to animals, to the environment, and socio-economic risks. These chapters are preceded by two chapters providing orientation to the uses of gene technology in food and agriculture and to the goals, methods, and background assumptions of technological ethics. There is also a chapter covering all four types of risk as applied to the first US technology, recombinant bovine somatotropin. The last four chapters take up: 1) intellectual property debates, 2) religious, metaphysical, and intrinsic objections to biotechnology, 3) issues in risk and trust, and 4) a review of ethical issues in synthetic biology, gene editing, and gene drives. The three key technologies that have emerged since the book was last revised.

Agriculture's Ethical Horizon Robert L. Zimdahl, 2012-01-30 The second edition of Agriculture's Ethical Horizon is a carefully considered application of philosophical concepts such as utilitarianism and positivism to the practice of agricultural science. Author Robert Zimdahl argues for an approach to agriculture guided by foundational values and addresses the questions: What are the goals of agricultural and weed science? What should their goals be? How do and how should the practitioners of agriculture address complex ethical questions? This book engages students, researchers, and professionals across disciplines including horticulture, soil and plant science, entomology, and more, all without requiring a background in philosophy. It examines topics such as scientific truth and myth, moral confidence in agriculture, the relevance of ethics to sustainability, and biotechnology. New to this edition is a chapter examining the raising, housing, and slaughter of animals for human food and a chapter on alternative and organic agricultural systems. Easily understood by non-philosophers. Chapter

Ethical and Political Approaches to Nonhuman Animal Issues Andrew Woodhall, Gabriel Garmendia da Trindade, 2017-08-28 This book offers ethical and political approaches to issues that nonhuman animals face The recent political turn in interspecies ethics from ethical to political approaches has arisen due to the apparent lack of success of the nonhuman animal movement and dissatisfaction with traditional approaches Current works largely present general positions rather than address specific issues and principally rely on mainstream approaches This book offers alternative positions such as cosmopolitan libertarian and left humanist thought as well as applying ethical and political thought to specific issues such as experimentation factory farming nonhuman political agency and intervention Presenting work by theorists and activists insights are offered from both ethics and politics that impact theory and practice and offer essential considerations for those engaging in interspecies ethics within the political turn era

EU Policy-Making on GMOs Mihalís Kritikós, 2017-11-02 This book examines the development and implementation of the EU's legislative framework on the commercial release of GMO products as a case study of social regulation operating within a predominantly technical framework The analysis and findings are based on an extensive documentary analysis and interviews with regulators risk assessors public interest groups and biotechnology experts at the national and European levels It argues that in the case of the EU biotechnology framework the particular institutional settings created for the formulation and interpretation of its provisions have been of decisive importance in elaborating a proceduralised science based prior authorization scheme as the preferred framework for granting commercial permits This interdisciplinary work will appeal to EU lawyers decision makers and risk managers as well as academics working in the fields of EU studies politics law risk governance sociology of science risk and technology assessment The book is based on a PhD thesis that was awarded with the 2008 UACES Prize for the Best Thesis in European Studies in Europe and with the EPEES 1st Prize for the Best Thesis written by a Greek Researcher between 2004 and 2008

Food Ethics: The Basics Ronald L. Sandler, 2014-10-17 Food Ethics The Basics is a concise yet comprehensive introduction to the ethical dimensions of the production and consumption of food It offers an impartial exploration of the most prominent ethical questions relating to food and agriculture including Should we eat animals Are locally produced foods ethically superior to globally sourced foods Do people in affluent nations have a responsibility to help reduce global hunger Should we embrace bioengineered foods What should be the role of government in promoting food safety and public health Using extensive data and real world examples as well as providing suggestions for further reading Food Ethics The Basics is an ideal introduction for anyone interested in the ethics of food

The Eucharist and World Hunger Izunna Okonkwo, 2011-12-21 Hunger is a menace in different parts of the globe It has more unnatural than natural causes Though efforts have been made towards alleviating its causes and consequences more actions still need to be taken for its genuine alleviation and eventual eradication in the world For Joseph Grassi painful hunger is a daily occurrence that must be countered by ongoing effective programs that enter into the lives of every Christian. Such position not only recognises the frequency and excruciating nature of hunger but also suggests that Christians and other religious groups have a very important role to play in order to eradicate hunger and its devastating effects. This book explores the nuances of hunger, its causes, dimensions and approaches as well as its connection to the Eucharist. It argues that hunger can be eradicated and that the Eucharist stands out as a veritable model.

The Role of Biotechnology in Improvement of Livestock Muhammad Abubakar, Ali Saeed, Oguz Kul, 2015-04-07. This book examines how biotechnology can improve livestock breeding and farming and thereby also animal products. In the first chapters the reader will discover which techniques and approaches are currently used to improve animal breeding, animal health and the value of animal products. Particular attention is given to reproduction techniques, animal nutrition and livestock vaccines that not only enhance animal health but also have a significant effect on human health by ensuring safe food procurement and preventing zoonotic diseases. In addition, modern biotechnology can increase not only productivity but also the consistency and quality of animal food, fiber and medical products. In the second part of the book, issues such as how animal biotechnology could affect the environment and the important topic of animal waste management are explored. In the concluding chapter the authors discuss future challenges related to animal biotechnology. This work will appeal to a wide readership from scientists and professionals working in animal production to those in farm animal management and veterinary science.

Food Ethics Franz-Theo Gottwald, Hans Werner Ingensiep, Marc Meinhardt, 2010-03-10. In this first decade of the 21st century more than 854 million people in the world are starving while industrial nations are debating about obesity generating energy from food plants and a myriad of other topics many African and south Asian nations could only fathom. In this great discord there have arisen many interdisciplinary discussions about problems in the field of applied Ethics with regards to food that are crossing a considerably wide spectrum of disciplines such as obesity, traceability, agro food, biotechnology, dairy industry, transgenic plants, novel food, bio fuels, world trade system etc. This book presents international discussions and information concerning food ethics in its current state. It presents a variety of important aspects in the field of food ethics with respect to positions, instruments and applications of issues surrounding nutrition. A great deal of the book will concern itself with discussing different ethical positions and problems of current interests as explained by experts of the food ethics community. The articles will focus on the reality of global food problems through two main issues: current questions of nutrition in the specific contexts of field and experience; ethical tools, ideas and suggestions concerning long term steps for solutions. The appendix presents a collection of current declarations and political statements, visions, proposals and goals in a worth living world in general and concerning specific problems: water, healthy food, the human right to food, sustainability and food sovereignty.

Genetically Modified Mosquitoes for Malaria Control Christophe Boete, 2006-07-15. Despite a century of research and attempts to control one of the deadliest foes of mankind the malaria situation remains a major public health problem Obviously biological explanations the resistance of parasites and mosquitoes against available drugs and insecticides respectively are often given but they remain partial and incomplete Indeed Living Technology Armin

Grunwald,2021-06-16 The boundaries between inanimate technology and the realm of the living become increasingly blurred Deeper and deeper technological interventions into living organisms are possible covering the entire spectrum of life from bacteria to humans Simultaneously digitalization and artificial intelligence AI enable increasingly autonomous technologies Inanimate technologies such as robots begin to show characteristics of life Contested issues pop up such as the dignity of life the enhancement of animals for human purposes the creation of designer babies and the granting of robot rights The book addresses the understanding of the ongoing dissolution of the life technology borders the provision of ethical guidance for navigating research and innovation responsibly and the philosophical reflection on the meaning of the current shifts It offers three specific perspectives for understanding the challenges and providing orientation First the dissolution of the boundaries between technology and life is analyzed and reflected from both sides Second the search for orientation is not restricted to ethics but also involves philosophy of technology and of nature as well as anthropology Finally instead of restricting the analysis to specific areas of life e g bacteria or animals the book presents a comprehensive look at the entire spectrum of living organisms bacteria and viruses plants animals and humans and robots as possible early forms of emerging technical life Character and Environment Ronald L. Sandler,2009-05-22 In Character and Environment Ronald L Sandler brings together contemporary work on virtue ethics with contemporary work on environmental ethics He demonstrates the many ways that any ethic of character can and should be informed by environmental considerations He also develops a pluralistic virtue oriented environmental ethic that accommodates the richness and complexity of our relationship with the natural environment and provides effective and nuanced guidance on environmental issues Responsible Nanobiotechnology

Armin Grunwald,2012-10-05 This book comprehensively reviews the considerations of nanotechnology elaborated in philosophy ethics and the social sciences and systematizes and develops them further It focuses on the issues of ethical responsibility regarding chances and risks of nanotechnology and its possible applications in the fields of synthetic nanoparticles syntheti In Pursuit of Nanoethics Bert Gordijn,Anthony Mark Cutter,2013-09-30 The volume contributes to the ongoing nanoethics debate in four topical areas The first part tackles questions of what could be called meta nanoethics Its focus lies on basic concepts and the issue of what if anything is truly novel and special about the new field of nanoethics or its subject matter The second part of this volume presents a selection of interesting perspectives on some of the opportunities and challenges of nanotechnology Part three takes a more in depth look at one of the most pressing current concerns how to deal with the risks and uncertainties surrounding nanotechnology in a responsible manner In its fourth and final part the volume touches on issues of public debate and policy The Spirit of the Soil Paul B. Thompson,2017-05-25

In this second edition of The Spirit of the Soil Agriculture and Environmental Ethics Paul B Thompson reviews four worldviews that shape competing visions for agriculture Productionists have sought increasing yields to make two seeds grow where only one grew before while traditional visions of good farming have stressed stewardship These traditional visions have been challenged by two more worldviews a call for a total cost accounting for farming and an advocacy for a holistic perspective Thompson argues that an environmentally defensible systems approach must draw upon all four worldviews recognizing their flaws and synthesizing their strengths in a new vision of sustainable agriculture This classic 1995 study has been thoroughly revised and significantly expanded in its second edition with up to date examples of agriculture s impact on the environment These include extensive discussions of new pesticides and the effects of animal agriculture on climate and other areas of the environment In addition a new final chapter discusses sustainability which has become a dominant idea within environmental studies and agrarian political philosophy
