Victorians And Mystery Crises Of Representation:

Victorians and Mystery William David Shaw,1990 Victorian literature according to Shaw gives rise to a wealth of questions and mysteries Addressing crises of representation in poetry fiction and nonfictional prose in light of similar crises in philosophical theological and scientific literature Shaw here examines the nature and sources of Victorian mystery The Victorians and the Visual Imagination Kate Flint,2000-08-28 The Victorians and the Visual Imagination is an exciting and innovative exploration of the Victorians attitudes towards sight Tantalized by physiologists who proved the unreliability of the eye intrigued by the role of subjectivity within vision and provoked by new technologies of spectatorship the Victorians were also imaginatively stirred by the sense of a world which lay just out of human sight This interdisciplinary study draws on writers as diverse as George Eliot Elizabeth Barrett Browning and Rudyard Kipling as well as Pre Raphaelite and realist painters including Millais Burne Jones William Powell Frith and Whistler and a host of Victorian scientists cultural commentators and art critics Its topics include blindness the location of memory hallucination dust and the importance of the horizon a dazzling eclectic range of subjects linked together by the operations of the eye and brain The Arnoldian ,1991

Literature and Religion in Mid-Victorian England C. Oulton,2002-12-13 This book places Dickens and Wilkie Collins against such important figures as John Henry Newman and George Eliot in seeking to recover their response to the religious controversies of mid nineteenth century England While much recent criticism has tended to overlook or dismiss their religious pronouncements this book foregrounds the religious aspect of their writing and relocates their most important work in the context of contemporary debate The response of both writers is seen to be complex and fraught with tension

Nineteenth Century Prose ,1991 Twenty-First Century Perspectives on Victorian Literature Laurence W. Mazzeno,2014-03-06 Victorian literature s fascination with the past its examination of social injustice and its struggle to deal with the dichotomy between scientific discoveries and religious faith continue to fascinate scholars and contemporary readers During the past hundred years traditional formalist and humanist criticism has been augmented by new critical approaches including feminism and gender studies psychological criticism cultural studies and others In Twenty First Century Perspectives on Victorian Literature twelve scholars offer new assessments of Victorian poetry novels and nonfiction Their essays examine several major authors and works and introduce discussions of many others that have received less scholarly attention in the past General reviews of the current status of Victorian literature in the academic world are followed by essays on such writers as Charles Dickens Alfred Tennyson Thomas Hardy and the Bront sisters These are balanced by essays that focus on writing by women the development of the social problem novel and the continuity of Victorian writers with their Romantic forebears Most importantly the contributors to this volume approach Victorian literature from a decidedly contemporary scholarly angle and write for a wide audience of specialists and non specialists alike Their essays offer readers an idea of how critical commentary in recent years has influenced and in some cases changed radically our understanding of and approach to literary study in general and the Victorian period in particular Hence scholars teachers and students will find the volume a useful survey of contemporary commentary not just on Victorian literature but also on the period as a whole Victorian Servants, Class, and the Politics of Literacy Jean Fernandez, 2009-09-10 In this volume Fernandez brings the under examined figure of the Victorian servant out of obscurity in order to tell the story of his or her encounter with literacy as imagined and represented in nineteenth century fiction autobiography pamphlets and diaries A vast body of writing is uncovered on the management of servant literacy in Victorian periodicals advice manuals cartoons sermons books on household management and pornography thereby revealing that the domestic sphere was a crucial war zone in the battle over mass literacy By attending to how fictional and nonfictional texts of the age feature literate servant narrators she demonstrates how the issue of servant literacy as a cultural phenomenon has profound implications for our understanding of the nexus between class mass literacy voice and narrative power in the nineteenth century The study reads canonical fiction by Mary Wollstonecraft Emily Bronte Elizabeth Gaskell Wilkie Collins and R L Stevenson alongside popular detective fiction by Catherine Crowe the Diaries of Hannah Cullwick and best selling pamphlets of the age while introducing to Victorian scholarship hitherto little known or unknown servant autobiographies that address life history as an engagement with literacy Villette Charlotte Brontë, 2005-12-16 Charlotte Brontë's contemporary George Eliot wrote of Villette There is something almost preternatural in its power The deceptive stillness and security of a girls school provide the setting for this 1853 novel Brontë's last Modelled on Brontë's own experiences as a student and teacher in Brussels Villette is the sombre but engrossing story of Lucy Snowe an unmarried Englishwoman making her way in a culture deeply foreign to her The heroine's relationships with the fiery professor M Paul the cool Englishman Dr John and the school's powerful headmistress Madame Beck are described in her compelling and enigmatic first person narration This Broadview edition includes a critical introduction by Kate Lawson and Lynn Shakinovsky The many contextual documents include contemporary writings on surveillance and espionage anti Catholicism and working women as well as letters describing Brontë's own time in Brussels Victorians Institute Lectures, 1997 English Poetry of the Victorian Period, 1830-1890 Bernard Arthur Richards, 2001 Deeply unpoetical was how Matthew Arnold described the Victorian period and many of his contemporaries would have agreed Even to later generations poetic achievement from 1830 to 1890 seems dwarfed by the great burgeoning of the novel However English Poetry of the Victorian Period demonstrates the very real diversity and richness of Victorian poetry This was the era of Tennyson the Brownings Arnold Swinburne Clough the Rossettis and Hopkins poets who not only wrote with distinctly original voices but who also reflected the deeper tensions of their time Bernard Richards balances detailed analysis of individual poets and works with a broader perspective of the poetic spirit of the age Two new chapters have been added to this revised edition on nonsense poetry and women poets He characterises the Victorian age as one of tremendous poetic wealth related to but different from the Romantic period which preceded it and the Modernist period which followed it

JEGP, Journal of English and Germanic Philology Gustaf E. Karsten, 1992 Victorian Review , 1991 Victorian Sensation Fiction Andrew Radford, 2008-12-15 A concise and lucid overview of the key criticism from early reviews to twenty first commentaries surrounding the popular genre of Victorian sensation fiction Romanticism and the Anglican Newman David Goslee, 1996 Goslee s study maintains that Newman s Anglican writing although widely considered irrelevant to the main currents of the post Enlightenment in fact reinterprets Romantic transcendence within a uniquely dialogic paradigm It is this paradigm he argues that critics need to explore as a link between sacred and secular domains within Victorian culture Goslee s own exploration is accomplished in three parts First he describes Newman s early renunciation of modern thought then analyzes the dialogic Romanticism that informs New man s Anglican works particularly its power to expand his conception of personal identity spiritual election militant purpose self criticism and cultural critique Finally he follows the collapse of this Romantic synthesis under the burden of its own success natural and preternatural presences break into Newman s dialogue with his God and then his God becomes transformed into a threat that must be constrained within an institutional church Throughout this study Goslee follows a hermeneutic strategy suggested by Newman s own descriptions of his compositional practice examining thematically related passages from different times and contexts to see just how far Newman s ideas might take him Goslee concludes that this leading nineteenth century religious writer who rejected Romanticism for its decadent modern subjectivity nevertheless clearly participated in the secular Romanticism of his day Guide to British Poetry Explication: Victorian-contemporary Nancy Conrad Martinez, 1991 Mystic Realists Stephen Schloesser, 1998 The Dalhousie Review Herbert Leslie Stewart, 1992 Victorian Women Poems Virginia Blain, 2009 There has been a huge revival of interest in Victorian women s poetry in the last ten years and it has led to a major reconfiguration of the English poetic landscape of the nineteenth century This title offers a key selection of poems by 13 Victorian women poets from Christina Rossetti and Felicia Hemans to the witty iconoclastic May Kendall The book starts with a substantial general Introduction which places the work of the poets into a context both historical that of the poems production and modern that of their past and present reception Each poet s work is introduced by an expansive headnote which tells the story of her life and writing career The poems all have full explanatory notes to help readers unfamiliar with the period A Bibliography lists general sources as well as useful further readings Written in an engaging and accessible manner the extensive annotations throughout Victorian Women Poets ensure that this fascinating poetry is enjoyable for undergraduate and non specialist readers Twentieth-century Short Story Explication , 1989 The Dictionary of Nineteenth-century British Philosophers W. J. Mander, Alan P. F. Sell, Gavin Budge, 2002 A major new source for research of the 19th century and history of ideas this dictionary covers all of the major and a range of the less well known thinkers and writers of the time
