 Submerged Barbs for Streambank Protection Athanasios Papanicolaou, Mohamed Elhakeem, 2007 The fact that the structures permitted the transmission of flow through them it allowed fine sand particles to fill in the gaps of the rock interstices and thus cement and better stabilize the structures During bank full flows the maximum scour hole was recorded away from the structures toe and the scour hole size was directly related to the protrusion angle of the structure to the flow It was concluded that the proposed inclination with respect to the main flow direction was appropriate since it provides maximum bank protection while creating the largest volume of local scour away from the structure and towards the center of the channel Furthermore the lowest potential for bank erosion also occurs with the present set up design chosen by the IDOT About 2 ft of new material was deposited in the area located between the structures for the period extending from the construction day to May 2007 Forest and Stream ,1906 United States Official Postal Guide ,1949 QST. ,1966
