War And Reconciliation Reason And Emotion In Conflict Resolution:

War and Reconciliation William J. Long, Peter Brecke, 2003 Civil war and reconciliation International war and reconciliation Rethinking rationality in social theory Implications for policy and practice and avenues for further research

Liberalism and War Andrew J. Williams, 2024-12-27 In this book leading scholar Andrew J Williams examines contemporary liberal thinking on the ending of wars and puts it into its historical context Using a vast range of archival material he examines the main strategies used by liberal states to consolidate their gains in the aftermath of war and prevent conflict re occurring Considering historical wars from the nineteenth century to the withdrawal from Afghanistan in 2021 and the war in Ukraine since 2022 Williams explores the continuities and changes within western liberalism in response to war and the encouragement of peace These include in recent times the emergence of neoliberalism a growing revulsion against humanitarian intervention and the evolution of legal attempts to control illiberal regimes He shows how liberalism and the articulation of international norms and institutions sprang out of historical traditions linked to colonialism but also out of a desire to promote liberty and justice He examines the attitudes and practices that have distorted liberalism s essentially emancipatory nature into one that has encouraged hubris in foreign policy and an increasingly divisive set of economic political and social policies He suggests that a new liberal impulse to encourage the spread of democracy and international justice is possible one that returns to a more realistic approach to intervention in international conflicts The book will appeal to scholars and students of war conflict and political theory interested in the historical perceptions at the heart of many of the mistakes made by liberalism in the ending of wars It will also give hope to those who still believe that liberalism can be the organising feature of a just and equitable world order Emotional Choices Robin

Markwica, 2018-03-09 Why do states often refuse to yield to military threats from a more powerful actor such as the United States Why do they frequently prefer war to compliance International Relations scholars generally employ the rational choice logic of consequences or the constructivist logic of appropriateness to explain this puzzling behavior Max Weber however suggested a third logic of choice in his magnum opus Economy and Society human decision making can also be motivated by emotions Drawing on Weber and more recent scholarship in sociology and psychology Robin Markwica introduces the logic of affect or emotional choice theory into the field of International Relations The logic of affect posits that actors behavior is shaped by the dynamic interplay among their norms identities and five key emotions fear anger hope pride and humiliation Markwica puts forward a series of propositions that specify the affective conditions under which leaders are likely to accept or reject a coercer s demands To infer emotions and to examine their influence on decision making he develops a methodological strategy combining sentiment analysis and an interpretive form of process tracing He then applies the logic of affect to Nikita Khrushchev s behavior during the Cuban missile crisis in 1962 and Saddam Hussein s decision making in the Gulf conflict in 1990 1 offering a novel explanation for why U S coercive diplomacy succeeded in one case but not in the other The Oxford Handbook of Intergroup Conflict Linda Tropp, 2012-07-26 With insightful chapters from key social psychologists and peace scholars this handbook offers an integrative and extensive overview of critical questions issues processes and strategies relevant to understanding and addressing intergroup conflict Track III Actions Helena Desivilya Syna, Geoffrey Corry, 2023-01-30 Since the end of the Cold War in the early 90s a multi track approach to peacemaking has been developed by academics and practitioners to bring political and civil society leaders together from across the divide of contested societies to find ways out of the conflict Much of the focus up to now has been given to the strategic contribution of Track II conflict analysis and problem solving workshops This book puts the spotlight on the role that grassroots leaders and citizens can play at Track III level in the community in building and strengthening a bottom up approach to conflict transformation following protracted conflicts In Part 1 the focus is on the post conflict situation of Northern Ireland twenty years after the Belfast Good Friday Agreement Part 2 portrays scholarly and practitioners perspectives and actions in communities and organizations designed to build partnerships in order to counteract the legacies of active protracted conflict Plots the role of Track III approaches within a multi track peacemaking pyramid in the protracted conflict and post conflict phases of conflict transformation Provides case studies on how to engage community leaders in thinking together how to work with deep seated legacies of protracted conflicts Explores the contribution of bottom up models to build intergroup partnerships within and between local communities Focuses on the interface between research and practice

Reconciliation as a Political Concept Kjell-Åke Nordquist, 2006 Rethinking Reconciliation Karen Brounéus, 2008 Journal of Political Science, 2003 Psychology of Non-violence and Aggression V.K. Kool, 2008-02 Covering the theories and models of the psychology of non violence this book explores the idea that this practice is not synonymous with the control of aggression but is an active behavior combining mainstream ideas with new contemporary perspectives Trauma, Truth and Reconciliation Nancy Potter, 2006-08-24 People do great wrongs to each other all the time sometimes deliberately sometimes accidentally Many within the fields of mental health are centrally involved in helping people to heal from traumatic events and to come to terms with wrongs done to them by others However there is surprisingly little in the way of guidance few texts that situate healing from trauma or evil-doing within a combined political and philosophical context This book looks at how people communities and nations can address great wrongs and how they can heal from them taking into consideration how differences in cultures histories and group expectations affect the possibilities for healing The book examines the merits of forgiveness and reconciliation in the context of civic and interpersonal relationships looking at the role of the law compared to extra legal and therapeutic approaches to individual and collective personal and social healing Topics include gendered norms for forgiveness the role of narrative in contrast to a search for truth when conflicts arise and an analysis of the conception of truth that undergirds truth and reconciliation commissions Some chapters also look at how healing can occur when power imbalances exist how to understand and address evil genocide and war Finally the book examines the importance of relational models of human interaction to thinking about trauma and healing and how aboriginal models for healing can contribute to our understanding of trauma and forgiveness Throughout each contributor considers the psychological toll of trauma on both victims and perpetrators of wrongdoing and critically inquires into value systems that enhance or inhibit healing Several authors draw on real life cases to support their arguments and others provide a rich theoretical framework within which readers can think through various approaches and models in a critical manner This highly original and thought provoking collection of articles by authors in psychiatry psychology philosophy and theology is unique in its emphasis on systems of oppression that intersect with anguish and moral uncertainty

Humboldt Journal of Social Relations ,2005 Mediating Across Difference Morgan J. Brigg,Roland

Bleiker,2011-01-31 Mediating Across Difference is based on a fundamental premise to deal adequately with conflict and particularly with conflict stemming from cultural and other differences requires genuine openness to different cultural practices and dialogue between different ways of knowing and being Equally essential is a shift away from understanding cultural difference as an inevitable source of conflict and the development of a more critical attitude toward previously under examined Western assumptions about conflict and its resolution To address the ensuing challenges this book introduces and explores some of the rich insights into conflict resolution emanating from Asia and Oceania Although often overlooked these local traditions offer a range of useful ways of thinking about and dealing with difference and conflict in a globalizing world To bring these traditions into exchange with mainstream Western conflict resolution the editors present the results of collaborative work between experienced scholars and culturally knowledgeable practitioners from numerous parts of Asia and Oceania The result is a series of interventions that challenge conventional Western notions of conflict resolution and provide academics policy makers diplomats mediators and local conflict workers with new possibilities to approach prevent and resolve conflict Contributors Roland Bleiker Volker Boege Morgan Brigg Stephen Chan Frans de Jalong Sr Lorraine Garasu Mary Graham Hoang Young ju Carwyn Jones Joy Kere Debra McDougall Norifumi Namatame Chengxin Pan Oliver Richmond Deborah Bird Rose Muhadi Sugiono Tarja V yrynen Polly O Walker Jacqueline Wasilewski Re-mapping

Polish-German Historical Memory Justyna Beinek,Piotr H. Kosicki,2011 Global Criminology and Criminal Justice Nick Larsen,Russell Smandych,2007-12 Global Criminology and Criminal Justice brings together 22 articles that constitute some of the most important recent literature in the field Journal of Peace Research ,2007-11 Resolved that the United States Federal Government Should Establish a Foreign Policy Substantially Increasing Its Support of United Nations Peacekeeping Operations ,2007 Security Community ,2013 Postwar Recovery Alpaslan Ozerdem,2009 Though conflict has been the focus of much academic attention the processes of recovering from war and conflict have been little studied Confusion still exists as to whether post war reconstruction is concerned with relief or development with physical rebuilding economic recovery social reintegration or political reconstruction The result is an all too frequent fragmentation and waste of effort on the ground An understanding of the need to plan and integrate the many different activities for reconstruction and recovery within a shared vision is therefore crucial The International Library of Post war Reconstruction and Development will set out a conceptual and strategic framework for post war reconstruction practice at the same time exploring and illustrating specific aspects of practice for those working in the field or training to do so The series will also act as a focus for a continuing dialogue between academics and practitioners at the forefront of developing the discipline

BOOK JACKET Cultural Practices, Political Possibilities Rohee Dasgupta, 2008 Culture has long been regarded as one of the most complicated concepts in the social sciences possibly over theorized Its ubiquity tangled senses of particularity and the almost universal recognition of that assumed particularity require an extended vocabulary for framing the politics embedded in it Cultural Practices Political Possibilities attempts to explain the political significance and overlaps of cultural constructions as witnessed in global local clashes convergences of texts and contexts within the state and community identity and the self Through various case studies concepts and interdisciplinary perspectives the multinational group of authors from diverse academic backgrounds interprets cultural constructions of politics as factionalizing identitarian situational and particularistic in their links affirmations and consequential divides Each contribution in its unique way explores the performative asymmetries and contradictions witnessed in diverse cultural interactions that shape new areas of political investigation The book will be welcomed by students of international relations environmental politics sociology anthropology and cultural studies

American Military History Daniel K. Blewett, 2009 In this companion volume to his 1995 bibliography of the same title Daniel Blewett continues his foray into the vast literature of military studies As did its predecessor it covers land air and naval forces primarily but not exclusively from a U S perspective with the welcome emergence of small wars from publishing obscurity In addition to identifying relevant organizations and associations Blewett has gathered together the very best in chronologies bibliographies biographical dictionaries indexes journals abstracts glossaries and encyclopedias each accompanied by a brief descriptive annotation This work remains a pertinent addition to the general reference collections of public and academic libraries as well as special libraries government documents collections military and intelligence agency libraries and historical societies and museums
