The Philanthropy Reader Michael Moody,Beth Breeze,2016-08-25 Philanthropy is both timeless and timely Ancient Romans Medieval aristocrats and Victorian industrialists engaged in philanthropy as do modern day Chinese billionaires South African activists and Brazilian nuns Today philanthropic practice is evolving faster than ever before with donors giving their time talents and social capital in creative new ways and in combination with their financial resources These developments are generating complex new debates and adding new twists to enduring questions from why be philanthropic to what does it mean to do philanthropy better Addressing such questions requires greater understanding of the contested purpose and diverse practice of philanthropy With an international and interdisciplinary focus The Philanthropy Reader serves as a one stop resource that brings together essential and engaging extracts from key texts and major thinkers and frames these in a way that captures the historical development core concepts perennial debates global reach and recent trends of this field The book includes almost 100 seminal and illuminating writings about philanthropy equipping readers with the guiding material they need to better grasp such a crucial yet complex and evolving topic Additional readings and discussion questions also accompany the text as online supplements This text will be essential reading for students on philanthropy courses worldwide and will also be of interest to anyone active in the philanthropic and nonprofit sectors from donors and grantmakers to advisers and fundraisers

Islamic Education in the United States and the Evolution of Muslim Nonprofit Institutions Sabith Khan,Shariq Siddiqui,2017 This book is a novel and ambitious attempt to map the Muslim American nonprofit sector its origins growth and impact on American society Using theories from the fields of philanthropy public administration and data gathered from surveys and interviews the authors make a compelling case for the Muslim American nonprofit sector's key role in America. They argue that in a time when Islamic schools are grossly misunderstood there is a need to examine them closely for the landscape of these schools is far more complex than meets the eye. The authors who are both scholars of philanthropy examine how identity impacts philanthropy and also the various forces that have shaped the landscape of Muslim American giving in the US. Using a comparative method of analysis they showcase how this sector has contributed not only to individual communities but also to the country as a whole. National surveys and historical analysis offer data that is rich in insights and offers a compelling narrative of the sector as a whole through its focus on Islamic schools. The authors also critically examine how nonprofit leaders in the community legitimize their own roles and that of their organizations and offer a compelling and insightful examination of how Muslim American leaders perceive their own role in institution building. This is a must read for anyone seeking to understand this important and growing sector of American society including nonprofit leaders in the Muslim community, leaders of Islamic schools, nonprofit leaders with interest in private schools, activists and scholars who study philanthropy and Islamic education.
