Mapping Feminist Anthropology in the Twenty-First Century Ellen Lewin,Leni M. Silverstein,2016-07-07 Feminist anthropology emerged in the 1970s as a much needed corrective to the discipline s androcentric biases Far from being a marginalized subfield it has been at the forefront of developments that have revolutionized not only anthropology but also a host of other disciplines This landmark collection of essays provides a contemporary overview of feminist anthropology s historical and theoretical origins the transformations it has undergone and the vital contributions it continues to make to cutting edge scholarship Mapping Feminist Anthropology in the Twenty First Century brings together a variety of contributors giving a voice to both younger researchers and pioneering scholars who offer insider perspectives on the field s foundational moments Some chapters reveal how the rise of feminist anthropology shaped and was shaped by the emergence of fields like women s studies black and Latina studies and LGBTQ studies Others consider how feminist anthropologists are helping to frame the direction of developing disciplines like masculinity studies affect theory and science and technology studies Spanning the globe from India to Canada from Vietnam to Peru Mapping Feminist Anthropology in the Twenty First Century reveals the important role that feminist anthropologists have played in worldwide campaigns against human rights abuses domestic violence and environmental degradation It also celebrates the work they have done closer to home helping to explode the developed world s preconceptions about sex gender and sexuality Decolonising Andean Identities

Rebecca Irons,Phoebe Martin,2024-06-03 Decolonising Andean Identities presents ground breaking work from scholars carrying out social science research in and from Andean Latin America It addresses themes of central importance to contemporary perspectives on interdisciplinary gender studies and politics in societies undergoing significant social transformation The collection aims to develop the field of decolonial gender studies by showcasing interdisciplinary work at the forefront of scholarship It draws on international expertise through its diverse contributors including predominately Latin American scholars There is an urgent need to broaden the perspectives on gender and gender based activism in Latin America beyond the Southern Cone and Mexico in order to bring the region as a whole into dialogue with global scholarship. The contributors use the term Andinx as a provocation to encourage scholars of the region to reconsider approaches to the politics of gender, sexuality and decoloniality. By responding to the question 'Who are Andinx?', the collection interrogates the postcolonial gendered and political subjectivities currently undergoing dramatic social change in Andean Latin America. Praise for Decolonising Andean Identities: Decolonizing Andean Identities is a brilliant contribution to the scholarship of the Andean region that offers readers a new grammar for thinking about gender and feminist activism in a decolonial register. Irons and Martin introduce the term Andinx as a critical reevaluation of andeanism, pushing the boundaries of academic discourse to encompass the rich, multifaceted experiences of those living in the Andes today. Julieta Chaparro Buitrago, University of Cambridge. This is a timely and inspirational collection that captures the power and potential of intersectional feminist activism in the Andes. Breaking new ground conceptually through the term Andinx, it also provides fascinating decolonial insights into gender, sexualities, indigeneity and feminism. Cathy McIlwaine, King's College London.

STRUKTURAL 2020 Nina Setyaningsih, Sri Mulatsih, Neni Kurniawati, 2021-09-10. We proudly present the proceedings of 2nd International Seminar on Translation Studies, Applied Linguistics, Literature and Cultural Studies 2020 STRUKTURAL 2020. It focuses on how disruptive era influences participants' field of researches, especially in Humanities and Social Studies. As we know, the world today is changing, and the world we are facing now is the one where everything is connected. Not only are our PCs, our tablets, our hand phones, and other devices connected, but everything that happens in societies is also now connected. Today, even a robbery incident in a small village has a possibility to make a city in another part of the world collapse. This butterfly effect of social change may also give a big impact in our understanding and our field of study of social sciences and humanities. More than 70 manuscripts were presented at this conference, with around 41 of them selected to be published in proceedings. We hope by this conference, discussions on how research on humanities and social studies is possible in a disruptive era will give a perspective for the social and humanities studies development. Desired States Lessie Jo Frazier, 2020-06-12. Desired States challenges the notion that in some cultures, sex and sexuality have become privatized and located in individual subjectivity rather than in public political practices and institutions. Instead, the book contends that desire is a central aspect of political culture. Based on fieldwork and archival research, Frazier explores the gendered and sexualized dynamics of political culture in Chile, an imperialist context, asking how people connect with and become mobilized in political projects in some cases or in others become disaffected or are excluded to varying degrees. The book situates the state in a rich and changing context of transnational and localized movements, imperialist interests, geopolitical conflicts, and market forces to explore the broader struggles of desiring subjects, especially in those dimensions of life that are explicitly sexual and amorous: free love, marriage, the sixties sexual revolution, Cold War contexts, prostitution, policies, ideas about men's gratification, the charisma of leaders, and sexual domestic violence against women.
