Student Engagement in the Digital University Lesley Gourlay, Martin Oliver, 2018-02-02 Student Engagement in the Digital University challenges mainstream conceptions and assumptions about students engagement with digital resources in Higher Education While engagement in online learning environments is often reduced to sets of transferable skills or typological categories the authors propose that these experiences must be understood as embodied socially situated and taking place in complex networks of human and nonhuman actors Using empirical data from a JISC funded project on digital literacies this book performs a sociomaterial analysis of student technology interactions complicating the optimistic and utopian narratives surrounding technology and education today and positing far reaching implications for research policy and practice

Undergraduate Student Engagement Zhe Zhang, Olwen McNamara, 2018-07-31 This book focuses on undergraduate student engagement in China and the UK It offers an innovative perspective on this aspect which although pervasive is not always acknowledged by its users to be complex and multidimensional in nature firmly rooted in cultural social and disciplinary norms and difficult to measure Competition within the global higher education market has become increasingly intense amongst universities and the higher education sector in China currently the largest source of international students is beginning to compete strongly for its home market Against this consumerist background student engagement with its close relation to positive learning outcomes is increasingly receiving attention from higher education managers and researchers who seek to improve the quality of their products The research study on which the book is based draws on three courses two in China and one in the UK It offers a binary perspective across two very different cultures Western and Confucian and two very different subject areas Chinese language and mathematics The study employs a mixed methods design and develops a conceptual framework derived from statistical and thematic analysis An original theoretical lens combining a bioecological perspective Bronfenbrenner and a sociocultural one Holland et al s Figured Worlds adds further interpretive power to help understand the construct of student engagement

Engaging Student Voices in Higher Education Simon Lygo-Baker,Ian M. Kinchin,Naomi E. Winstone,2019-07-01 This book examines the importance of exploring the varied and diverse perspectives of student experiences In both academic institutions and everyday discourse the notion of the student voice is an ever present reminder of the importance placed upon the student experience in Higher Education particularly in a context where the financial burden of undertaking a university education continues to grow The editors and contributors explore how notions of the student voice as a single monolithic entity may in fact obscure divergence in the experiences of students Placing so much emphasis on the student voice may lead educators and policy makers to miss important messages communicated or consciously uncommunicated through student actions This book also explores ways of working in partnership with students to develop their own experiences It is sure to be of interest and value to scholars of the student experience and its inherent diversity

Re-imagining University Assessment in a Digital World Margaret Bearman,Phillip Dawson,Rola Ajjawi,Joanna Tai,David Boud,2020-07-13 This book is the first to explore the big question of how assessment can be refreshed and redesigned in an evolving digital landscape There are many exciting possibilities for assessments that contribute dynamically to learning However the interface between assessment and technology is limited Often assessment designers do not take advantage of digital opportunities Equally digital innovators sometimes draw from models of higher education assessment that are no longer best practice This gap in thinking presents an opportunity to consider how technology might best contribute to mainstream assessment practice Internationally recognised experts provide a deep and unique consideration of assessment s contribution to the technology mediated higher education sector The treatment of assessment is contemporary and spans notions of assessment for learning measurement and the roles of peer and self within assessment Likewise the view of educational technology is broad and includes gaming learning analytics and new media The intersection of these two worlds provides opportunities dilemmas and exemplars This book serves as a reference for best practice and also guides future thinking about new ways of conceptualising designing and implementing assessment
