The Teachings Of Padmasambhava Brills Indological Library:

The Teachings of Padmasambhava Herbert Guenther, 2023-08-21 This study explores the ideas of the enigmatic and controversial visionary known as Padmasambhava. It takes as its starting point a unique and hitherto untouched source: Padmasambhava's writings preserved in the rNying ma rgyud bum that remain excluded from the standard editions of the Tibetan Tanjur collections to this day. The first chapter explains Padmasambhava's holistic background that reflects an anthropocosmic worldview. The second chapter deals with the problem of how this anthropocosmic whole becomes enworlded as samsara and of how the enworlded experiencer disentangles himself from it and regains his original wholeness. The third chapter assesses Padmasambhava's psychological insights and their hermeneutical interpretations. In this study, Herbert Guenther discloses the mind of one of the greatest spiritual geniuses in human history: Padmasambhava, wanderer, mystic, and one of the original founders of Tibetan Buddhism. Here his teachings step out from obscurity to speak with a wonderful clarity. In them is found a surprisingly postmodern portrait of how process dynamics self-organize to construct and light up our worlds of experience.

Goddesses And Women In The Indic Religious Tradition Arvind Sharma, 2005 Following the lead of a hermeneutics of surprise, the book identifies indeed surprising new material and offers unexpected new insights essential to the debate on the position of goddesses and women in ancient India.

The Daśanāmī-Saṃnyāsīs Matthew Clark, 2006-06-01 This book provides an account of the organisation practices and history of the Daśanāmī Saṃnyāsīs, one of the largest sects of śaḍhū's holy men in South Asia. According to tradition, the sect was founded by the legendary south Indian philosopher ākarśhya, whose floruit was most probably around 700 CE. While the first three chapters of this book examine the sect's organisation and its various branches, the latter chapters explore its history. This is the first full-length study of the Daśanāmī Saṃnyāsīs to be published since the 1970s and will be particularly useful both for students of Hinduism and for readers with a particular interest in the religious history of mediaeval India.

Dharma, Disorder, and the Political in Ancient India Adam Bowles, 2007 This book is a close study of the paddharmaparvan which situates it within its context in the great Sanskrit epic the Mahabharata and within Indian political and social thought and explores the relationship of its didacticism to the broader literary context of the Mahabharata.

Buddhist History in the Vernacular Stephen Berkwitz, 2004-06-01 This is a careful study about the power attributed to historical narratives in early medieval Sri Lanka. On the basis of Sinhala histories of the Buddha and his relics, this work sheds new light on historiography at work in a vernacular setting. Arguing that historical texts were both ethically and socially constructive, the author demonstrates that narrative representations of the past served the purpose to transform writers, readers, and listeners of history into virtuous persons and therewith to generate moral communities. Focusing on the thirteenth-century Sinhala Thupavamsa, this book problematizes modern interpretations of Buddhist histories, compares the production of Pali and Sinhala texts, and examines how historical works were directed towards religious ends. A significant contribution to scholarship in Buddhist Studies Comparative Literature and Historical Criticism Dragon's Brain Perfume R.A. Donkin, 2023-08-14 In the Dragon's Brain Perfume a Chinese description of Camphor once more the existence and importance of world systems of exchange becomes clear In the pre industrial world aromatic substances have always counted among the most prominent items of long distance trade The finest camphor came from Malaya Borneo and Sumatra but long distance trade took it to societies at the geographical poles of demand China and the medieval West already in late Antiquity ca 6th century A D In India it was in use at an even much earlier period The present monograph opens with a survey of aromata generally origins time and place of demand from the Ancient Civilizations to the Age of Discoveries Chapter two concerns the natural history of camphor subsequent chapters are organized by regions India Western Asia the medieval West South East Asia China and Japan with a postscript on Origins and Diffusion Evidence is drawn from an extensive range of sources in natural and cultural history The work includes 15 original maps 28 illustrations and an extensive bibliography

Consecration of Images and Stūpas in Indo-Tibetan Tantric Buddhism Yael Bentor, 1996 This study of the Indo Tibetan ritual of rendering religious objects sacred concerns one of the fundamental Buddhist tantric processes of transformation into a chosen tantric Buddha It provides a general discussion of the ritual as well as detailed analyses of each ritual step in the composite present day consecration

Mañòðalas and Yantras in the Hindu Traditions Gudrun Bühnemann, 2003 The chapters in this book explore important aspects of mañòðalas and yantras in the Smṛti Pāñcarātra and Kṛta traditions through investigations by renowned specialists in the field An essay on the vṛstupurūṣa and its relationship to architecture is also included With colour illustrations

Building Communities in Gujarāt Alka Patel, 2004-08-01 The Indo Islamic architecture subject of this book is not the result of a clash of civilizations but to be seen as innovations of the local architectural tradition a product of local craft traditions Alka Patel here brings together two architectural corpora in a careful analysis of the 12th through 14th century Islamic ritual buildings of southeastern Sindh Gujarat and Rajasthan The new social and ritual demands of Islam led local craftspeople to initiate rejuvenation and expansion of their skills and knowledge Moreover the commonality of building practices among religions led to the intertwining of various Muslim and non Muslim communities The work's analysis of epigraphical evidence will be seminal to reorientations of historical methods investigating interactions among socio religious groups in the region

Hayagrīva in South India Kamala Elizabeth Nayar, 2004-03-01 This book is about how mythology may be purposively adapted in the service of theology It does so at the hand of Hayagrīva since the 14th century C E revered as a full form of the Supreme Lord Viṣṇu in the local Rāva tradition of South India but originally a relatively minor pan Indian deity Convincingly laying bare the complexity in respect of the pan Indian images of Hayagrīva it makes clear that there is no single unilinear history of this deity It subsequently reconstructs the Rāva History of Hayagrīva and brings out the selectivity involved in borrowing materials from the pan Indian and local levels Amidst the incredible complexity encountered here this study exposes however that the emblems and functions of different images show continuity although a god's status may change according to the sect From Coffee to Tea Cultivation in Ceylon, 1880-1900 Roland Wenzlhuemer, 2008-02-28

In the early 1880s a disastrous plant disease diminished the yields of the hitherto flourishing coffee plantation of Ceylon. Coincidentally world market conditions for coffee were becoming increasingly unfavourable. The combination of these factors brought a swift end to coffee cultivation in the British crown colony and pushed the island into a severe economic crisis. When Ceylon re-emerged from this crisis only a decade later its economy had been thoroughly transformed and now rested on the large scale cultivation of tea. This book uses the unprecedented intensity and swiftness of this process to highlight the socioeconomic interconnections and dependencies in tropical export economies in the late nineteenth century and it shows how dramatically Ceylonese society was affected by the economic transformation Sovereignty, Power, Control John McLeod, 1999. This thorough study offers the opportunity to gain a clear understanding of the mechanics of political interaction in princely India in the period 1916-1947 between the British colonial power, the princely rulers and nationalist politicians. The first major scholarly contribution to an until now largely ignored field of interest Temple Consecration Rituals in Ancient India Anna Slaczka, 2007-05-31. As in various other cultures in the Hindu tradition of the Indian Subcontinent, construction rituals accompany the construction of a temple from the moment of choosing the suitable building site right to the completion of the entire project. Numerous descriptions in Sanskrit texts on ritual and architecture describe in detail these building consecration ceremonies and reflect the importance attached to these rituals. Surprisingly, this topic has so far not received the attention it deserves given its essential role. Basing herself on both the Sanskrit texts as well as the archaeological finds, Anna Alczka in this thorough study provides readers with a comprehensive view of the three main temple construction rituals in the Hindu tradition of South and Southeast Asia Mind, Man, and Mask Subhash Chandra Malik, 2001. Contributed articles presented at the International Seminar Rupa Pratirupa: Mind, Man and Mask held on 24-28 Feb 1998 at Indira Gandhi National Centre for the Arts Violence Denied Jan E. M. Houben, Karel Rijk van Kooij, 1999. In the course of millennia of dealing with problems of violence, South Asia has not only elaborated the ideal of total avoidance of violence in a unique manner; it also developed arguments justifying and rationalizing its employment under certain circumstances. Some of these arguments seemingly transform all sorts of violence into non-violence. Historical and cultural aspects of the tensions between violence and its denial and rationalization in South Asia are taken up in the contributions of this volume which deal with topics ranging from the origins of the concept of ahimsa to the iconography and interpretation of a self-beheading goddess and violent heroines in Ajneya's Hindi short stories American Book Publishing Record, 1996

Ideology and Status of Sanskrit Jan E. M. Houben, 1996. The present volume contains studies of crucial periods and important areas in the history of the Sanskrit language from the earliest Vedic and pre-Vedic periods through the period of Greater India up to the recent history of Sanskrit in India Whitaker's Books in Print, 1998 Akadeemia, 2006
