Values Based Commissioning Of Health And Social Care Values Based Practice:

Values-Based Commissioning of Health and Social Care Christopher Heginbotham, 2012-06-28 The book illustrated with case examples identifies and makes explicit the often diverse values of those involved in healthcare commissioning whether as commissioners providers or users of services It provides a skills base and other support processes for working with differences in values held by those engaged in making decisions

Debates in Values-Based Practice Michael Loughlin, 2014-10-09 Offers guidance on the current debate about the value and purpose of healthcare helping readers to make rational defensible decisions

Values-Based Health & Social Care Jill McCarthy, Pat Rose, 2010-07-14 Is evidence based practice really best practice This is a hotly debated question in health and social care circles and the starting point for this book Engaging firmly in the debate Values Based Health Social Care calls into question the dominance of evidence based practice and sets out an alternative vision of care which places holism professional judgement intuition and client choice at its centre Bringing together writers from a range of health and social care backgrounds the book describes the rise of evidence based practice and explores major criticisms of the approach It argues that evidence should be seen as part of a broader vision of practice which places equal value on a holistic vision of the needs of patients and clients professional knowledge and intuition and seeing patients and clients as partners in their care Examples are used throughout the book to help readers link the concepts to practice The book concludes with suggestions on how to develop a values based approach in practice and through professional education Values Based Health Social Care sets out key debates surrounding the nature of practice which will be of interest to students and practitioners alike

Values and Ethics in Mental Health Alastair Morgan, Anne Felton, Bill Fulford, 2015-11-02 Mental health is the one area of health care where people are often treated against their will with the justification that it is in their own interest This raises significant ethical questions and value dilemmas questions of autonomy human rights power and treatment An understanding of how values matter is of vital importance across all disciplines working within the mental health field This book provides a comprehensive and exploratory text for practitioners students and all those interested in developing a knowledge of both ethics and the wider framework of values based practice It is unique in being fully co written by authors representing both service user and service provider perspectives This exciting new text will enable the mental health practitioner to work more co productively with service users within a humane and just approach to care With an emphasis on rights based compassionate care throughout this book Tackles the issues of how mental health is understood through key theoretical debates about mental distress values and labelling Encourages readers to think critically about their understanding of key issues such as recovery autonomy power knowledge diagnoses and empathy Draws on a wide range of case examples and exercises to help readers deepen their knowledge of values based practice and ethics in mental health

Commissioning Health and Wellbeing Chris Heginbotham, Karen Newbigging, 2013-10-15 This new text supports commissioners in translating current aspirations for public mental and physical health into tangible commissioning strategies At a time when there are major changes in commissioning arrangements this book provides a carefully structured and comprehensive look at the resources designed to improve population health and wellbeing outcomes It examines critically how these resources both human and financial can be used in practice focusing on health and wellbeing as well as illness The book takes a life course approach and examines commissioning for children working age adults and older people It will be valuable reading for those taking postgraduate courses in commissioning and leadership and management in a healthcare context as well as broad courses on public health and health promotion Chris Heginbotham OBE FRSPH is Visiting Professor at the University of Cumbria and Emeritus Professor of Mental Health Policy and Management at the University of Central Lancashire Karen Newbigging is a Senior Lecturer in the Health Services Management Centre at the University of Birmingham and is a Chartered Psychologist and Associate Fellow of the British Psychological Society

Fair Resource Allocation and Rationing at the Bedside Marion Danis, Samia A. Hurst, Len Fleck, Reidun Forde, Anne Slowther, 2014-10-02 Priority setting and rationing contribute significantly to affordable and fair healthcare and clinicians play an indispensable role in these processes This book offers practical strategies for clinicians to allocate resources fairly to teach about it to students and to discuss rationing more explicitly in the public arena and the doctor's office

Divided into three parts the first part sets the scene addressing introductory psychology and sociology social policy equality and diversity skills for practice and working with people the second part considers key themes such as mental health and wellbeing management of services the relationship between place and wellbeing research in health and social care and person centred interventions the third part looks at discrete areas of practice such as mental health ageing leading and managing health and social care working with vulnerable populations and health promotion. Each chapter begins with an outline of the content and learning outcomes and includes reflective exercises to allow students to reflect on what they have read review their learning and consolidate their understanding. Time pressed readers wanting to dip into the book for relevant areas can do so but read from cover to cover the book provides a comprehensive introduction to the key areas of contemporary health and social care practice. It will be particularly helpful for students undertaking health and social care undergraduate and foundation degrees Personal Recovery and Mental Illness Mike Slade, 2009-05-28 Recovery is a concept which has emerged from the experiences of people with mental illness. It involves a shift away from traditional clinical preoccupations such as managing risk and avoiding relapse towards new priorities of supporting the person in working towards their own goals and taking responsibility for their own life. This book sets an agenda for mental health services internationally by converting these ideas of recovery into an action plan for professionals. The underlying principles are explored and five reasons identified for why supporting recovery should be the primary goal. A new conceptual basis for mental health services is described the Personal Recovery Framework which gives primacy to the person over the illness and identifies the contribution of personal and social identity to recovery. These are brought to life through twenty six case studies from around the world Leadership in Health Care Jill Barr, Lesley Dowding, 2022-09-23 Designed to guide you through a structured approach to building your leadership skills this book uses case studies practical examples and reflective questions to help you engage with every aspect of leadership.
