Describing Women's Clothing in Eighteenth-century England Elizabeth Spencer, 2024 Descriptions of women's clothing increasingly circulated across textual genres and beyond in eighteenth century England This book explores the significance of these descriptions across a range of sources including wills newspapers accounts court records and the records of the old poor law Attention has rested on women literate and wealthy enough to leave behind textual or material traces but this book ranges from the parish pauper to the gentlewoman to consider descriptive languages rhetorical strategies and relationships with clothing across the social hierarchy It explores how women described their own clothing but also looks at how it was described by overseers family members retailers and even strangers It shows that we must look beyond isolated descriptions to how why and who was describing clothing to understand its role Chapters uncover themes of material obligation expectation and entitlement

Female Performers in British and American Fiction Barbara Straumann, 2018-05-22 The female performer with a public voice constitutes a remarkably vibrant theme in British and American narratives of the long nineteenth century The tension between fictional female performers and other textual voices can be seen to refigure the cultural debate over the voice of women in aesthetically complex ways By focusing on singers actresses preachers and speakers this book traces and explores an important tradition of feminine articulation Drawing on critical approaches in literary studies gender studies and philosophy the book conceptualizes voice for the discussion of narrative texts Examining voice both as a thematic concern and as an aesthetic effect the individual chapters analyse how the actual articulation by female performers correlates with their cultural visibility and agency What this study foregrounds is how women characters succeed in making themselves heard even if their voices are silenced in the end Feeling Strangely in Mid-Century Spanish and Latin American Women's Fiction

Tess C. Rankin,2023-12-15 An Open Access edition of this book is available on the Liverpool University Press website and the OAPEN library as part of the Opening the Future project with COPIM The early twentieth century was awash in revolutionary scientific discourse and its uptake in the public imaginary through popular scientific writings touched every area of human experience from politics and governance to social mores and culture Feeling Strangely argues that these shifting scientific understandings and their integration into Hispanic and Lusophone society reshaped the experience of gender The book analyzes gender as a felt experience and explores how that experience is shaped by popular scientific discourse by examining the strange femininity of young protagonists in four novels written by women in Spanish and Portuguese Rosa Chacel's Memorias de Leticia Valle published in Argentina in 1945 Norah Lange's Personas en la sala Argentina 1950 Carmen Laforet's Nada Spain 1945 and Clarice Lispector's Perto do cora o selvagem Brazil 1943 It pairs each novel with a broad scientific theme selected from those that captured the contemporary popular imagination to argue that the young female protagonists in these novels all put forth visions of young womanhood as an experience of strangeness Building on Carmen Mart n Gait e's term chicas raras Rankin proposes this strangeness as constitutive of a gendered experience inextricable from affective and material engagements with the world Narratives of Women's Health and

Hysteria in the Nineteenth-Century Novel Melissa Rampelli,2023-09-29 Narratives of Women's Health and Hysteria in the Nineteenth Century Novel looks extensively at hysteria discourse through medical and sociological texts and examines how this body of work intersects with important cultural debates to define women's social physical and mental health The book sketches out prominent shifts in cultural reactions to the idea of diffused agency and the prized model of the interiorized individual person capable of self will and governance Melissa Rampelli takes up the work of Jane Austen Charles Dickens George Eliot and Thomas Hardy showing how the authors play with and manipulate stock literary figures to contribute to this dialogue about the causes and cures of women's hysterical distress A Study of the Place of Women in the Poetry and Prose Works of John Milton David N. Dickey,2000 This study outlines the origins of Milton's idiosyncratic ambivalence towards woman and charts its developmental character in and out of poetry and prose It includes an introductory survey of influential critical opinion on the subject including feminist readings
