Violating Time History Memory And Nostalgia In Cinema:

Violating Time Christina Lee, 2008-11-01 Violating Time explores the complexity of nonlinear and disrupted cinematic time the delayed period between the actual recording of an event and its eventual public viewing the recreation of an historical event years after it has occurred a nostalgic return to retro in the postmodern era and manipulation of the clock in time travel movies to alter the course of events and create new cultural geographies of time space and experience This collection investigates the politics of tactical remembering and forgetting the selective editing of time and narrative not only as acts of subversion but also of creative potential and empowerment It argues that representations of the past and projections of the future are not isolated commentaries of a romantic yesterday or grand visions of tomorrow Rather they evoke the preoccupations and anxieties of the present whether it is the skepticism of nostalgic kitsch The Royal Tenenbaums or the projected post millennial fears of disappearing histories and mutating pasts manufactured memories and loss of identity Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind and 2046 Analyzing Christmas in Film Lauren Rosewarne, 2017-12-06 Film plays a vital role in the celebration of Christmas For decades it has taught audiences about what the celebration of the season looks like from the decorations to the costumes and to the expected snowy weather as well as mirrors our own festivities back to us Films like It's a Wonderful Life and Home Alone have come to play key roles in real life domestic celebrations watching such titles has become for many families every bit as important as tree trimming and leaving cookies out for Santa These films have exported the American take on the holiday far and wide and helped us conjure an image of the perfect holiday Rather than settling the what is a Christmas film debate indeed Die Hard and Lethal Weapon are discussed within Analyzing Christmas in Film Santa to the Supernatural focuses on the how Christmas is presented on the deluge of occasions when it appears While most Christmas films are secular religion makes many cameos appearing through Nativity references storylines involving spiritual rebirth the framing of Santa as a Christ like figure and the all importance of family be it the Holy family or just those gathered around the dining table Also explored are popular narratives involving battles with stress and melancholy single parents and Christmas martyrs visits from ghosts and angels big cities and small towns break ups and make ups and the ticking clock of mortality Nearly 1000 films are analyzed in this volume to determine what the portrayal of Christmas reveals about culture society and faith as well as sex roles consumerism aesthetics and aspiration

Life Writing and Politics of Memory in Eastern Europe Simona Mitroiu, 2015-08-25 This volume addresses the issues of remembering and performing the past in Eastern European ex communist states in the context of multiplication of the voices of the past The book analyzes the various ways in which memory and remembrance operate it does so by using different methods of recollecting the past from oral history to cultural and historical institutions and by drawing on various political and cultural theories and concepts Through well documented case studies the volume showcases the plurality of approaches available for analyzing the relationship between memory and narrative from an interdisciplinary and international perspective Historical Dictionary of Holocaust Cinema Robert C. Reimer, Carol J. Reimer, 2024-12-19 Some 80 years after the end of World War two and Nazi Germany's attempt to annihilate European Jews and the Jewish culture the story of the Holocaust continues to be told in novels paintings music sculpture and film Over the past eight decades close to a thousand documentaries narrative shorts and features television miniseries and filmed statements from survivors have confronted the horrors of the past creating a recognizable iconography of persecution suffering and genocide While arguably movies and television have a tendency to overly simplify if not trivialize historical events popular culture artists also keep the past from being forgotten Historical Dictionary of Holocaust Cinema Second Edition contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 175 cross referenced entries on films directors and historical figures Foreign language experimental and canonical films are included This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about holocaust cinema Performative Holocaust

Commemoration in the 21st Century Diana I. Popescu, Tanja Schult, 2021-09-15 This book charts the performative dimension of the Holocaust memorialization culture through a selection of representative artistic educational and memorial projects Performative practice refers to the participatory and performance like aspects of the Holocaust memorial culture the transformative potential of such practice and its impact upon visitors At its core performative practice seeks to transform individuals from passive spectators into socially and morally responsible agents This edited volume explores how performative practices came into being what impact they exert upon audiences and how researchers can conceptualise and understand their relevance In doing so the contributors to this volume innovatively draw upon existing philosophical considerations of performativity understandings of performance in relation to performativity and upon critical insights emerging from visual and participatory arts The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Holocaust Studies A Journal of Culture and History The Operatic Archive Colleen Renihan, 2020-04-03 The Operatic Archive American Opera as History extends the growing interdisciplinary conversation in opera studies by drawing on new research in performance studies and the philosophy of history Moving beyond traditional aesthetic conceptions of opera this book argues for opera's powerful potential for historical impact and engagement in late twentieth and twenty first century works by American composers Considering opera's ability to serve as a vehicle for memory historical experience affect presence and the historical sublime this volume demonstrates how opera's ability to represent and evoke historical events and historical experience differs fundamentally from the representations and recreations of other modes specifically literary and dramatic representations Building on the work of performance scholars such as Joseph Roach Rebecca Schneider and Diana Taylor and in consultation with recent debates in the philosophy of history the book will be of interest to a wide range of scholars and researchers particularly those working in the areas of opera studies and performance studies Spectral Spaces and Hauntings Christina Lee, 2017-02-17 This anthology explores the spatial dimension and politics of haunting It considers how the appearance of absence emptiness and the imperceptible can indicate an overwhelming presence of something that once was and still is t here At its core the book asks how and why do certain places haunt us Drawing from a diversity of mediums forms and disciplinary approaches the contributors to Spectral Spaces and Hauntings illustrate the complicated ways absent presences can manifest and be registered The case studies range from the memory sites of a terrorist attack the lost home a vanished mining town and abandoned airports to the post apocalyptic wastelands in literary fiction the photographic and filmic surfaces where spectres materialise and the body as a site for re corporealising the disappeared and dead In ruminating on the afteraffects of spectral spaces on human experience the anthology importantly foregrounds the ethical and political imperative of engaging with ghosts and following their traces Reinventing Cinema Chuck Tryon,2009 For over a century movies have played an important role in our lives entertaining us often provoking conversation and debate Now with the rise of digital cinema audiences often encounter movies outside the theater and even outside the home Traditional distribution models are challenged by new media entrepreneurs and independent film makers usergenerated video film blogs mashups downloads and other expanding networks Reinventing Cinema examines film culture at the turn of this century at the precise moment when digital media are altering our historical relationship with the movies Spanning multiple disciplines Chuck Tryon addresses the interaction between production distribution and reception of films television and other new and emerging media Through close readings of trade publications DVD extras public lectures by new media leaders movie blogs and YouTube videos Tryon navigates the shift to digital cinema and examines how it is altering film and popular culture The Revolution Will Not Be Downloaded Tara Brabazon,2008-01-31 Introduction Passing the digital door bitch Part One Scanning the silences Access denied Restless redundancy Wiring God s waiting room the greying of web literacy Cash for corporeality international students and the wealth of transgression Cultware Part Two Downloading harmony He who pays the piper must call the tune The ultimate mix try before you buy Record companies vs technology Part Three Uploading identity Putting their life on the line blogging and identity Is it all bad Japan s internet suicide sub culture When home is away re thinking the travel weblog eBay marketing the real body in the virtual world Cyber sluts the new Victorians The I in community it s all about ME in gaydar s global gay diaspora Part Four Packet switching resistance and terrorism Information at the speed of thought Keeping an eye on Big Brother Dot com dot bomb cyber terror on the internet Conclusion what do you do with the other one in a duo Global Dialectics in Intercultural Communication Jolanta A. Drzewiecka,Thomas K. spectrum of timely case studies that explore precarious existences at individual collective and structural levels and as manifested through space and the body These range from the plight of asylum seekers to the tiny house movement as a response to affordable housing crises from the global impacts of climate change to the daily challenges of living with a chronic illness This multidisciplinary book illustrates the pervasiveness of precarity but furthermore shows how those entanglements with other agents human or otherwise that put us at risk are also the connections that make living with and through precariousness endurable

History and Nostalgia Mei-Yee Chick, 2017-01-26 Once Upon a Time... in Hollywood: The End of the Golden Age and the Birth of New Hollywood Tim Madsen, Once Upon a Time in Hollywood The End of the Golden Age and the Birth of New Hollywood takes readers on an illuminating journey through one of Quentin Tarantino's most enigmatic and passionate films Blending meticulous historical research with sharp cultural analysis this book explores how Once Upon a Time in Hollywood serves as both an elegy for a vanished Hollywood and a vibrant chronicle of the revolutionary forces that gave rise to New Hollywood Across ten engaging chapters the book examines The decline of the classic studio system and the forces reshaping American cinema in the 1960s The symbolic weight of characters like Rick Dalton Cliff Booth and Sharon Tate The Western as a dying genre and its reinvention through revisionist storytelling The haunting presence of the Manson Family and the cultural rupture they embodied Tarantino's daring use of alternate history and the ethical questions it raises Los Angeles itself as a character myth and cinematic playground The double edged power of nostalgia and its impact on memory and identity For film lovers cultural historians and Tarantino enthusiasts alike this book offers fresh insights into how Once Upon a Time in Hollywood captures a moment of seismic change both in Hollywood and in American society It is a thoughtful meditation on cinema's unique power to reimagine the past and on the stories we choose to tell again and again under the bright lights of the silver screen Step into 1969 Los Angeles where the old Hollywood dream was fading a new cinematic revolution was dawning and once upon a time anything seemed possible

Grindhouse Nostalgia David Church, 2015 Too often dismissed as nothing more than trash cinema exploitation films have become both earnestly appreciated cult objects and home video items that are more accessible than ever In this wide ranging study David Church explores how the history of drive in theatres and urban grind houses has descended to the home video formats that keep these lurid movies fondly alive today
