Financing for Low-carbon Energy Transition Venkatachalam Anbumozhi,Kaliappa Kalirajan,Fukunari Kimura,2018-06-23 This book is the first comprehensive assessment of the state of low carbon investments in Asia analyzing the rationales mandates and public private financing activities Based on the experiences of several regional initiatives wherein public financing is catalyzing private investments in low carbon infrastructure this book proposes a framework that can be used as a tool to identify factors that influence private investment decisions and policy instruments that can scale up the private capital Placing the Asian economies onto a low carbon development pathway requires an unprecedented shift in investments This book addresses this situation by asking questions such as What is the central role of private finance in achieving the Paris Agreement targets What key policy levers and risk mitigation can governments use in an effort to unlock the potentials of private capital How can regionally coordinated actions hold significant promise for scaling up private investments Green Finance and Investment Clean Energy Finance and Investment Roadmap of Thailand OECD,2024-06-10 Thailand has adopted ambitious clean energy targets to meet its long term climate goals committing to reach carbon neutrality by 2050 and net zero greenhouse gas GHG emissions by 2065 Transforming Thailand s energy system alongside broader development objectives is critical to meeting these goals as the energy sector accounts for 69% of Thailand s total GHG emissions The Clean Energy Finance and Investment Roadmap of Thailand the Roadmap outlines key actions to unlock finance and investment in two clean energy sectors i renewable power with special attention to small scale renewable power systems and ii energy efficiency in buildings with a focus on cooling applications The two sectors were selected in close consultation with the Department of Alternative Energy Development and Efficiency DEDE of the Ministry of Energy of Thailand The Roadmap provides a comprehensive overview of the progress to date policy context and challenges to mobilise near term finance in those sectors as well as estimates of the finance needs to reach Thailand s clean energy plans The report also includes a roadmap action plan suggesting non prescriptive recommendations and actions that the Government of Thailand financial institutions energy service companies academia and the international development community active in the country could undertake to foster clean energy investments in Thailand Green Finance and Investment Clean Energy Finance and Investment Roadmap of India Opportunities to Unlock Finance and Scale up Capital OECD,2022-10-24 India has achieved major progress in its energy sector over the last two decades Still investment needs to scale up considerably to meet the government s ambitions to achieve 500 GW of renewable energy capacity and energy intensity reductions of 45% by 2030 Targeted application of public funds alongside international climate and development finance can crowd in investors and channel private capital to meet India's clean energy goals Winds of Change Xiaodong Wang, 2010 This report outlines the strategic direction of East Asia's energy sector to meet its growing energy demand in an environmentally sustainable manner over the next two decades and presents a pathway of policy frameworks and financing mechanisms to get there

Second Annual Asia-Pacific Dialogue on Clean Energy Governance, Policy and Regulation Asian Development Bank, United States Agency for International Development, 2011-06-01 Under the auspices of the Second Annual Asia Pacific Dialogue on Clean Energy Governance Policy and Regulation the Energy Efficiency Workshop was held on 20-21 June 2011 at the Asian Development Bank The workshop whose proceedings are documented in this publication prepared under the Law and Policy Reform Program of the Office of the General Counsel focused on addressing the slow uptake of energy efficiency solutions by identifying the political governance and financial constraints in implementing energy efficiency solutions and considering innovative policy regulatory and financial remedies for overcoming these constraints Unlocking Climate Finance in Asia-Pacific Cheng Hoon Lim, Ms. Ritu Basu, Mr. Yan Carriere-Swallow, Kenichiro Kashiwase, Mahmut Kutlukaya, Mike Li, Ehraz Refayet, Dulani Seneviratne, Mouhamadou Sy, Ruihua Yang, 2024-01-29 The transition to a sustainable future in the Asia Pacific region has global economic significance Despite driving global growth in recent years the region's heavy coal reliance led to significant greenhouse gas emissions Meeting climate mitigation and adaptation needs in emerging and developing Asia requires investment of at least 1.1 trillion annually Actual investment falls short by about 800 billion Asia Pacific's environmental performance has also hampered its ability to tap into private flows from the fast growing ESG asset class keeping the cost of issuing sustainable debt instruments relatively high compared to other regions This paper provides an overview of the climate finance ecosystem in countries in the Asia Pacific region and presents strategies to mobilize climate finance for the region's transition to a sustainable future The paper identifies challenges including gaps in the climate information architecture policy conflicts global complexities and emphasizes the need for coordinated action involving governments central banks financial supervisors the IMF and other multilateral institutions In particular Governments need to establish a well defined climate strategy with strong institutional oversight and coordination to strengthen the framework on data taxonomies and disclosures Fossil fuel subsidies should be phased out and carbon pricing schemes expanded to create fiscal space for sustainable investments Strengthening macroeconomic management is essential to attract private capital Financial supervisors and central banks should coordinate across jurisdictions to promote global interoperable disclosure standards enhance climate risk analysis and reporting and incorporate climate related financial risks into prudential frameworks Developing climate labels for sustainable investment funds and shifting the focus of ESG scores to better capture sustainability and climate impact would foster trust in the evaluations The IMF can drive climate action by integrating discussions in surveillance activities and strengthening data and statistics including through capacity building and peer learning to develop common standards around climate risk measurement and analysis The

Resilience and Sustainability Trust could contribute to reducing financing gaps through its catalytic and reform supporting functions while multilateral development banks could scale up grant financing and concessional lending and where appropriate adopt risk mitigating mechanisms to expand lending capacity Cooperation among multilateral institutions is essential to align efforts and resources to achieve a balanced allocation between mitigation and adaptation lending
