Toward Climate Justice Perspectives On The Climate Crisis And Social Change:

Toward Climate Justice Brian Tokar, 2010 The call for Climate Justice promises a renewed grassroots response to the climate crisis This emerging movement is rooted in land based and urban communities around the world that are already experiencing the impacts of global climate disruptions Climate Justice highlights the social justice and human rights dimensions of the crisis using creative direct action to press for real systemic changes Toward Climate Justice explains the case for Climate Justice challenges the myths underlying carbon markets and other false solutions including the emergence of new nuclear and biofuel technologies and dissects the events that shaped the diplomatic failure of the 2009 Copenhagen climate summit Drawing on more than three decades of political engagement with energy and climate issues Brian Tokar shows how the perspective of social ecology can point the way toward an ecological reconstruction of society publisher s description

Ecosocialism and Climate Justice Eve Croeser, 2020-10-01 This book investigates the broader climate movement to contextualise the role played by its climate justice wing focusing specifically on the theoretical and practical contributions of ecosocialists Ecosocialism and Climate Justice provides an account of the shift from the Holocene to the Anthropocene in the context of the global spread of capitalist relations of production Croeser begins by critically analysing the root causes of anthropogenic climate change and identifies the origins and development of the current climate movement within civil society She then focuses on the climate justice movement analysing the ways in which anthropogenic global warming may be challenged in a way that is socially just Overall this book provides further insight into the effectiveness of ecosocialist theory and activism in the context of existing global national and local power relationships This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of climate justice climate politics critical global political economy studies and environmental activism

Environmental Communication and the Public Sphere Robert Cox, 2013 The Third Edition of Environmental Communication and the Public Sphere by Robert Cox remains the only comprehensive introduction to the growing field of environmental communication This innovative book focuses on the role that human communication plays in influencing the ways we perceive the environment It also examines how we define environmental problems and decide what actions to take with regards to the natural world

Ecological Restoration in International Environmental Law Anastasia Telesetsky, An Cliquet, Afshin Akhtar-Khavari, 2016-12-01 Human activities are depleting ecosystems at an unprecedented rate In spite of nature conservation efforts worldwide many ecosystems including those critical for human well being have been damaged or destroyed States and citizens need a new vision of how humans can reconnect with the natural environment With its focus on the long term holistic recovery of ecosystems ecological restoration has received increasing attention in the past decade from both scientists and policymakers Research on the implications of ecological restoration for the law and law for ecological restoration has been largely overlooked This is the first published book to examine comprehensively the relationship between international environmental law and ecological restoration While international environmental law IEL has developed significantly as a discipline over the past four decades this book enquires whether IEL can now assist states in making a strategic transition from not just protecting and maintaining the natural environment but also actively restoring it Arguing that states have international duties to restore this book offers reflections on the philosophical context of ecological restoration and the legal content of a duty to restore from an international law European Union law and national law perspective The book concludes with a discussion of several contemporary themes of interest to both lawyers and ecologists including the role of private actors protected areas and climate change in ecological restoration

Critical Approach to Sustainability Discourse and Action in International Relations Güdek-Gölçek, Şeyda,Durmaz, Günseli,İnan-Şimşek, Aybüke,2025-10-01 Sustainability is central to international relations shaping policies treaties and global development However sustainability discourse is often influenced by power dynamics economic interests and political agendas that can undermine environmental and social progress This perspective highlights the inequalities and contradictions in global sustainability initiatives By examining definitions of sustainability how interests are prioritized and how actions are implemented a deeper understanding of the complexities behind international sustainability efforts is encouraged Further exploration of the discourse and actions surrounding sustainability in international relations may reveal their effectiveness fairness and long term impact Critical Approach to Sustainability Discourse and Action in International Relations explores critical debates in international relations environmental policy development and gender studies by challenging mainstream discourses of sustainability visions It examines academic discourse on the gap between global actors commitments and actual environmental political economic and social outcomes This book covers topics such as renewable energy ecology and geopolitics and is a useful resource for business owners government officials policymakers engineers academicians researchers and environmental scientists

Environmental Communication and the Public Sphere Phaedra C. Pezzullo,Robert Cox,2025-07-23 The Seventh Edition of the award winning Environmental Communication and the Public Sphere is the best selling comprehensive introduction in the field of environmental communication This groundbreaking book focuses on the role that human communication plays in influencing the ways we perceive transform and attempt to heal relations with everything we consider to be the environment from microscopic chemicals in cosmetics to the climate we breathe Authors Phaedra C Pezzullo and Robert Cox examine how we define what constitutes an environmental problem and how we decide what actions to take concerning the natural world The updated and revised Seventh Edition explores recent events and research that have emerged since the last edition including the latest on the impact of artificial intelligence AI on journalism climate commitments of Big Tech global climate justice course cases mutual aid networking ultra processed food policy anti plastics advocacy expanding legal rights of nonhuman animals and more

Line in the Tar Sands Joshua Kahn,Stephen D'Arcy,Tony Weis,Toban Black,2014-10-15 Tar sands development comes with an enormous environmental and human cost In the tar sands of Alberta the oil industry is using vast quantities of water and natural gas to produce synthetic crude oil creating drastically high levels of greenhouse gas emissions and air and water pollution But tar sands opponents fighting a powerful international industry are likened to terrorists government environmental scientists are muzzled and public hearings are concealed and rushed Yet despite the formidable political and economic power behind the tar sands many opponents are actively building international networks of resistance challenging pipeline plans while resisting threats to Indigenous sovereignty and democratic participation Including leading voices involved in the struggle against the tar sands A Line in the Tar Sands offers a critical analysis of the impact of the tar sands and the challenges opponents face in their efforts to organize effective resistance Contributors include Greg Albo S kihitowin Aw sis Toban Black Rae Breaux Jeremy Brecher Linda Capato Jesse Cardinal Angela V Carter Emily Coats Stephen D Arcy Yves Engler Cherri Foytlin Sonia Grant Harjap Grewal Randolph Haluza DeLay Ryan Katz Rosene Naomi Klein Melina Laboucan Massimo Winona LaDuke Crystal Lameman Christine Leclerc Kerry Lemon Matt Leonard Martin Lukacs Tyler McCreary Bill McKibben Yudith Nieto Joshua Kahn Russell Macdonald Stainsby Clayton Thomas Muller Brian Tokar Dave Vasey Harsha Walia Tony Weis Rex Weyler Will Wooten Jess Worth and Lilian Yap The editors proceeds from this book will be donated to frontline grassroots environmental justice groups and campaigns

Climate Change and Society Riley E. Dunlap, Robert J. Brulle, 2015-08-24 Climate change is one of the most critical issues of the twenty first century presenting a major intellectual challenge to both the natural and social sciences While there has been significant progress in natural science understanding of climate change social science analyses have not been as fully developed Climate Change and Society breaks new theoretical and empirical ground by presenting climate change as a thoroughly social phenomenon embedded in behaviors institutions and cultural practices

Development and Society, 2012 Climate Futures Kum-Kum Bhavnani, John Foran, Priya A. Kurian, Debashish Munshi, 2019-10-15 Approaching the issues of climate change and climate justice from a range of diverse perspectives including those of culture gender indigeneity race and sexuality as well as challenging colonial histories and capitalist presents Climate Futures boldly addresses the apparent inevitability of climate chaos Seeking better explanations of the underlying causes and consequences of climate change and mapping strategies toward a better future or at a minimum the most likely best case world that we can get to this book envisions planetary social movements robust enough to spark the necessary changes needed to achieve deeply sustainable and just economic social and political policies and practices Bringing together insights from interdisciplinary scholars policymakers creatives and activists Climate Futures argues for the need to get past us and them divides and acknowledge how lives of creatures far and near human and non human are interconnected Climate Futures Kum-Kum Bhavnani, John Foran, Priya A. Kurian, Debashish Munshi, 2019-10-15 Approaching the issues of climate change and climate justice from a range of diverse perspectives including those of culture gender indigeneity race and sexuality as well as challenging colonial histories and capitalist presents Climate Futures boldly addresses the apparent inevitability of climate chaos Seeking better explanations of the underlying causes and consequences of climate change and mapping strategies toward a better future or at a minimum the most likely best case world that we can get to this book envisions planetary social movements robust enough to spark the necessary changes needed to achieve deeply sustainable and just economic social and political policies and practices Bringing together insights from interdisciplinary scholars policymakers creatives and activists Climate Futures argues for the need to get past us and them divides and acknowledge how lives of creatures far and near human and non human are interconnected Climate Justice Brandon Barclay Derman,2024-11-29 Because the development of the carbon economy has always been closely bound up with the deepening of human inequalities movements seeking climate justice need to unravel a tangle of social injustices at all scales Through viewing the climate crisis from a range of historical and contemporary angles Derman elevates the leadership of the most marginalized communities and nations and interweaves their particular experiences with the universal values that bound climate justice movements together His work is an effective introduction for educators and students to the complexities and promises of climate justice studies Zolt n Grossman Faculty in Geography and Native American Indigenous Studies The Evergreen State College Guided by a five angle framework that aims to explore the emerging intersectionalities of space time difference rule and movement in climate justice theory and action the book brings to light new possibilities and ways of imaging doing and transforming climate justice in a time of planetary urgency Peter Little author of Critical Zones of Technopower and Global Political Ecology This book provides an analytical introduction to the complex challenge of climate change and the equally multi faceted movement for climate justice Its approach is empirically and conceptually rich while remaining both accessible and engaging Each chapter examines the topic through a different thematic lens drawing on contemporary and landmark scholarship advocacy and activism across relevant disciplines and campaigns These distinct angles build toward a comprehensive perspective that will equip readers to ably and critically engage in era defining policy political governance and scholarly debates Contested Climate Justice - Challenged Democracy Noah Marschner,Christoph Richter,Janine Patz,Axel Salheiser,2024-09-18 This international anthology is dedicated to the discourses agitations and dynamics that have prevented delayed and slowed down or even reversed necessary transformation steps in global climate protection to this day The book brings together perspectives from 12 different countries It pays special attention to the interplay between climate protection policy climate justice and democratic cohesion Perspectives on Science and Christian Faith ,2007 World Social Science Report ,2013 Climate Justice in the Majority World Neil J.W. Crawford,Kavya Michael,Michael Mikulewicz,2023-07-31 This edited collection explores a diverse range of climate in justice case studies from the Majority World where most of humans and non humans live It is also the site of the most severe impacts of climate change and home to some of the key solutions for the climate crisis The collection brings together 12 chapters featuring the work of over 30 authors from around the globe The impacts of climate change are disproportionately affecting individuals communities and countries in the Majority World who historically have contributed little to rising global temperatures The 12 chapters focus on a range of cross cutting themes demonstrating both individual and collective experiences of climate change and struggles for achieving climate justice from the Majority World This includes activism resistance and social movement organizing in India and Brazil lived experiences and understandings of frontline communities in Bangladesh and South Africa consequences of and responses to disasters in Mozambique and Puerto Rico and contested accounts narratives and futures in the Maldives and Pakistan among other topics By adopting a decolonial lens this book provides rich empirical content insightful comparisons and novel conceptual interventions It foregrounds climate justice from an intersectional perspective and contributes to the ongoing efforts by scholars and activists to address epistemic injustice in climate change research policy and practice It will appeal to undergraduate and graduate level students academics activists policymakers and members of the public concerned with the impacts and inequalities of climate change in the Majority World

Climate Justice Randall Abate, 2016 Softbound New softbound print book Religious and Theological Abstracts, 1999

Diversifying Power Jennie C. Stephens, 2020-09-17 The climate crisis is a crisis of leadership For too long too many leaders have prioritized corporate profits over the public good exacerbating climate vulnerabilities while reinforcing economic and racial injustice Transformation to a just sustainable renewable based society requires leaders who connect social justice to climate and energy During the Trump era connections among white supremacy environmental destruction and fossil fuel dependence have become more conspicuous Many of the same leadership deficiencies that shaped the inadequate response in the United States to the coronavirus pandemic have also thwarted the US response to the climate crisis The inadequate and ineffective framing of climate change as a narrow isolated discrete problem to be solved by technical solutions is failing The dominance of technocratic white male perspectives on climate and energy has inhibited investments in social change and social innovations With new leadership and diverse voices we can strengthen climate resilience reduce racial and economic inequities and promote social justice In Diversifying Power energy expert Jennie Stephens argues that the key to effectively addressing the climate crisis is diversifying leadership so that antiracist feminist priorities are central All politics is now climate politics so all policies from housing to health now have to integrate climate resilience and renewable energy Stephens takes a closer look at climate and energy leadership related to job creation and economic justice health and nutrition housing and transportation She looks at why we need to resist by investing in bold diverse leadership to curb the the polluter elite We need to reclaim and restructure climate and energy systems so policies are explicitly linked to social economic and racial justice Inspirational stories of diverse leaders who integrate antiracist feminist values to build momentum for structural transformative change are woven throughout the book along with Stephens experience as a woman working on climate and energy The shift from a divided unequal extractive and oppressive society to a just sustainable regenerative and healthy future has already begun But structural change needs more bold and ambitious leaders at all levels like Alexandria Ocasio Cortez with the Green New Deal or the Secwepemc women of the Tiny House

Warriors resisting the Trans Mountain pipeline Diversifying Power offers hope and optimism Stephens shows how the biggest challenges facing society are linked and anyone can get involved to leverage the power of collective action By highlighting the creative individuals and organizations making change happen she provides inspiration and encourages transformative action on climate and energy justice Climate Justice and Human Rights Tracey Skillington, 2016-11-25 This book shows that escalating climate destruction today is not the product of public indifference but of the blocked democratic freedoms of peoples across the world to resist unwanted degrees of capitalist interference with their ecological fate or capacity to change the course of ecological disaster The author assesses how this state of affairs might be reversed and the societal relevance of universal human rights rejuvenated It explores how freedom from want war persecution and fear of ecological catastrophe might be better secured in the future through a democratic reorganization of procedures of natural resource management and problem resolution amongst self determining communities It looks at how increasing human vulnerability to climate destruction forms the basis of a new peoples powered demand for greater climate justice as well as a global movement for preventative action and reflexive societal learning
