Affirmative Action and Racial Equity Uma M. Jayakumar,Liliana M. Garces,2015-03-12 The highly anticipated U S

Supreme Court decision in Fisher v University of Texas placed a greater onus on higher education institutions to provide evidence supporting the need for affirmative action policies on their respective campuses. It is now more critical than ever that institutional leaders and scholars understand the evidence in support of race consideration in admissions as well as the challenges of the post Fisher landscape. This important volume shares information documented for the Fisher case and provides empirical evidence to help inform scholarly conversation and institutions' decisions regarding race-conscious practices in higher education. With contributions from scholars and experts involved in the Fisher case, this edited volume documents and shares lessons learned from the collaborative efforts of the social science, educational, and legal communities. Affirmative Action and Racial Equity is a critical resource for higher education scholars and administrators to understand the nuances of the affirmative action legal debate and to identify the challenges and potential strategies toward racial equity and inclusion moving forward.

Asian Migration and Education Cultures in the Anglosphere Megan Watkins, Christina Ho, Rose Butler, 2019-03-27 Asian migration and mobilities are transforming education cultures in the Anglosphere, prompting mounting debates about tiger mothers and dragon children and competition and segregation in Anglosphere schools. This book challenges the cultural essentialism which prevails in much academic and popular discussion of Asian success and in relation to Asian education mobilities. As anxiety and aspiration within these spaces are increasingly ethnicised, the children of Asian migrants are both admired and resented for their educational success. This book explores popular perceptions of Asian migrant families through in-depth empirically informed accounts on the broader economic, social, historical, and geopolitical contexts within which education cultures are produced. This includes contributions from academics on global markets and national policies around migration and education, classed trajectories and articulations, local formations of ethnic capital, and transnational assemblages that produce education and mobility as means for social advancement. At a time when our schooling systems and communities are undergoing rapid transformations as a result of increasing global mobility, this book is a unique and important contribution to an issue of pressing significance. This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies.

Embedding Values and Attitudes in Curriculum Shaping a Better Future OECD, 2021-12-15 This report highlights how clearly articulated and experienced values and attitudes can support students' positive lifelong learning outcomes and promote a more equitable and just society. Despite the variety of values espoused in national curricula, there is an emerging trend in prioritising values that enhance well-being and learning across different countries.

Holding Fast to Dreams Freeman A. Hrabowski III, 2016-06-21 An education leader relates how his experiences with the civil rights movement led him to develop programs promoting educational success in science and technology for African Americans and others. In Holding Fast to Dreams 2018 American Council on Education ACE Lifetime Achievement Award winner Freeman Hrabowski recounts his journey as an educator, a university president, and a pioneer in developing successful holistic programs for high-achieving students of all races. When Hrabowski was twelve years old, a civil rights leader visited his Birmingham Alabama church and spoke about a children s march for civil rights and opportunity That leader was the Reverend Martin Luther King Jr and that march changed Hrabowski s life Until then Freeman was a kid who loved school and solving math problems Although his family had always stressed the importance of education he never expected that the world might change and that black and white students would one day study together But hearing King speak changed everything for Hrabowski who convinced his parents that he needed to answer King s call to stand up for equality While participating in the famed Children s Crusade he spent five terrifying nights in jail during which Freeman became a leader for the younger kids as he learned about the risk and sacrifice that it would take to fight for justice Hrabowski went on to fuse his passion for education and for equality as he made his life s work inspiring high academic achievement among students of all races in science and engineering It also brought him from Birmingham to Baltimore where he has been president of the University of Maryland Baltimore County for more than two decades While at UMBC he co founded the Meyerhoff Scholars Program which has been one of the most successful programs for educating African Americans who go on to earn doctorates in the STEM disciplines
