Ties That Bind, Ties That Break Lensey Namioka, 2000-11-14 Third Sister in the Tao family Ailin has watched her two older sisters go through the painful process of having their feet bound In China in 1911 all the women of good families follow this ancient tradition But Ailin loves to run away from her governess and play games with her male cousins Knowing she will never run again once her feet are bound Ailin rebels and refuses to follow this torturous tradition As a result however the family of her intended husband breaks their marriage agreement And as she enters adolescence Ailin finds that her family is no longer willing to support her Chinese society leaves few options for a single woman of good family but with a bold conviction and an indomitable spirit Ailin is determined to forge her own destiny Her story is a tribute to all those women whose courage created new options for the generations who came after them Ties That Bind, Ties That Break Lensey Namioka, 1999 Ailin lives in China in 1911 and everyone in her family wants her to have her feet bound but she refuses Did she make the right choice

Concreteness and Specificity in Clinical Psychology Luciano L'Abate, 2015-04-10 This provocative volume updates L'Abate's signature ideas focusing in particular on the concepts of concreteness and specificity as basic tenets of evaluation and therapy Noting society's growing familiarity with technology current concerns about treatment accessibility and widespread interest in wellness promotion he argues for remote writing exercises targeted to specific client issues and monitored by the clinician instead of relying on traditional talk based therapy This attention to concreteness and specificity in baseline evaluation post treatment evaluation and follow up the author asserts is central to making treatment replicable less subject to impasses or missteps and more professional with the potential of changing how therapy is conducted as well as how clinicians are trained and practice The book's framework includes rationales models empirical data
