Touch The Watermelon Seeds:

Almost Touching the Skies Florence Howe, Jean Casella, 2000 The Feminist Press celebrates its own coming of age with an anthology of distinguished women's writings The Gift of Touch Helen Colton, Professor Colton, 1995-02 From cuddling a newborn baby to comforting an elderly parent our lives are defined nurtured and sustained by the sense of touch Colton shows readers how to employ touch to help relieve stress heighten sexual fulfillment enhance casual communication cope with depression and more Through a Naturalist's Eyes Michael J. Caduto, 2016-11-01 For native and visitor alike the New England landscape has a rich allure This grand sweep of land is a living tapestry woven of interconnected bioregions and natural communities whose compositions of plants and animals have evolved over time In more than fifty essays Michael J Caduto brings readers into the complex stories to be found in nature Drawing on first hand experiences and reflections on the relationship between the natural world and humans Caduto explores some of the plants animals natural places and environmental issues of New England from dragonflies cuckoos and chipmunks to circumpolar constellations and climate change Stunning illustrations by Adelaide Murphy Tyrol illuminate these elegant and humorous essays American Seedsman ,1920 The Seed World ,1919 Seed world ,1920 Seed World ,1963 School Education ,1909

Science and Affect in Contemporary Literature Shannon Lambert, 2024-11-14 Moving from the micro world of quantum physics to the macro scales of earth science and ecology this book considers how in contemporary literature affective experiences like desire suffering anxiety and joy shape scientific persons practices and products This book brings into dialogue close readings of scientific writing and contemporary literary works by authors like Jeanette Winterson Richard Powers Hanya Yanagihara Thalia Field and Jenny Offill Combining narrative and affect studies it uses formal strategies such as moving metaphor visceral or affective description plot level analogy contraction and rhythm to engage with western scientific epistemologies which still tends towards the impassive universal and objective While each chapter focuses on a different field or fields of science all foreground bodies human and nonhuman as a way of exploring knowledge production Through close readings the book argues that select scientific stories raise important questions about how knowledge is defined and who and what is invited into its processes of production American Poultry Advocate ,1921 Squirrels at My Window Grace Marmor Spruch, 2000 Even for a woman as sensitive to wild animals as Grace 1 Spruch the arrival of a squirrel inside her Greenwich Village apartment one morning came as something of a surprise She had always loved the squirrels she saw in Washington Square Park but she never met one so forward as the one climbing up her rubber plant Dr Spruch didn't know it then but this was the beginning of a strange and wonderful relationship Gradually other squirrels began to climb the fire escape to the Spruchs fifth story window All were welcomed with certain restrictions of course There were regular office hours and the squirrels soon learned not to scratch at the window until given the signal stirring within the apartment Some were bold about walking right into the house examining the Spruchs possessions and burying their nuts

under pillows One categorically refused to leave at closing time even when rudely chased Others more retiring were content to munch nuts and fruits on the windowsill Since Spruch is a scientist as well as an animal lover her observations gain a special force and precision and she manages to achieve the best kind of popular science writing scientifically sound carefully observed intellectually challenging Despite our familiarity with squirrels as part of the urban landscape surprisingly little is known about the habits of these creatures and Spruch is able to make some interesting contributions to this subject But most of all this is a book for animal lovers a loving yet unsentimental account of a fascinating episode in the natural history of a large city
