Voracious A Hungry Reader Cooks Her Way Through Great Books:

Voracious Cara Nicoletti, 2015-08-18 An Irresistible Literary Feast Stories and recipes inspired by the world's great books As a young bookworm reading in her grandfather's butcher shop Cara Nicoletti saw how books and food bring people to life Now a butcher cook and talented writer she serves up stories and recipes inspired by beloved books and the food that gives their characters depth and personality From the breakfast sausage in Laura Ingalls Wilder's Little House in the Big Woods to chocolate cupcakes with peppermint buttercream from Jonathan Franzen's The Corrections these books and the tasty treats in them put her on the road to happiness Cooking through the books that changed her life Nicoletti shares fifty recipes including The perfect soft boiled egg in Jane Austen's Emma Grilled peaches with homemade ricotta in tribute to Joan Didion's Goodbye to All That New England clam chowder inspired by Herman Melville's Moby Dick Fava bean and chicken liver mousse crostini with a nice Chianti after Thomas Harris's The Silence of the Lambs Brown butter crumpets from Gillian Flynn's Gone Girl Beautifully illustrated clever and full of heart Voracious will satisfy anyone who loves a fantastic meal with family and friends or curling up with a great novel for dessert A History of Food in Literature Charlotte Boyce, Joan Fitzpatrick, 2017-05-18 When novels plays and poems refer to food they are often doing much more than we might think Recent critical thinking suggests that depictions of food in literary works can help to explain the complex relationship between the body subjectivity and social structures A History of Food in Literature provides a clear and comprehensive overview of significant episodes of food and its consumption in major canonical literary works from the medieval period to the twenty first century This volume contextualises these works with reference to pertinent historical and cultural materials such as cookery books diaries and guides to good health in order to engage with the critical debate on food and literature and how ideas of food have developed over the centuries Organised chronologically and examining certain key writers from every period including Chaucer Shakespeare Austen and Dickens this book's enlightening critical analysis makes it relevant for anyone interested in the study of food and literature Books That Cook Jennifer Cognard-Black, Melissa A. Goldthwaite, 2014-08 Whether a five star chef or beginning home cook any gourmand knows that recipes are far more than a set of instructions on how to make a dish They are culture keepers as well as culture makers both recording memories and fostering new ones Organized like a cookbook Books That Cook The Making of a Literary Meal is a collection of American literature written on the theme of food from an invocation to a final toast from starters to desserts All food literatures are indebted to the form and purpose of cookbooks and each section begins with an excerpt from an influential American cookbook progressing chronologically from the late 1700s through the present day including such favorites as American Cookery the Joy of Cooking and Mastering the Art of French Cooking The literary works within each section are an extension of these cookbooks while the cookbook excerpts in turn become pieces of literature forms of storytelling and memory making all their own Each section offers a delectable assortment of poetry prose and essays and the selections all include at least one tempting recipe to entice readers to cook this book Including writing from such notables as Maya Angelou James Beard Alice B Toklas Sherman Alexie Nora Ephron M F K Fisher and Alice Waters among many others Books That Cook reveals the range of ways authors incorporate recipes whether the recipe flavors the story or the story serves to add spice to the recipe Books That Cook is a collection to serve students and teachers of food studies as well as any epicure who enjoys a good meal alongside a good book
