

A serene sunset scene with a bright sun low on the horizon, casting a warm orange glow over a body of water. In the foreground, dark, jagged rocks are partially submerged, with white foam from gentle waves crashing against them. The overall mood is peaceful and contemplative.

Your past has forgotten you, your future is waiting for you.

Waiting For The Past Waiting For The Past:

Waiting in Christian Traditions Joanne Robinson, 2015-12-17 Christians wait for prayers to be answered for an afterlife in heaven for the Virgin Mary to appear and for God to speak They wait to be liberated from oppression to be saved or born again for Easter morning to dawn for healing for conversion and for baptism Waiting and the disappointment and hope that often accompany it are explained in terms that are at first glance remarkably invariant across Christian traditions what will happen will happen on God's time A study of sources from across Christian traditions shows that there is considerable complexity beneath this surface claim Understandings of free will and personal agency alongside shifts in institutional and theological commitments change the ways waiting is understood and valued Waiting is often considered a positive state to be endured as long as God wills and that fundamental understanding helps keep the promises at the heart of Christianity alive Scholars have long overlooked the problem and promise of waiting despite or perhaps because of its prevalence Indeed there are relatively few mystics few who have undergone sudden conversion and few who have attained saintly status Many however have waited and that problem remains prominent and its solutions remain influential in Christian traditions today

The Meaning is in the Waiting Paula Gooder, 2013-01-07 This is the first in a series of books commissioned in consultation with John Sentamu It can be described as The Archbishop of York's Advent book Its theme is overtly an Advent one yet subsequent books will range over other biblical and seasonal topics Paula Gooder provides a profoundly biblical guide to the season of Advent and we explore its central theme of waiting something we are not good at in our modern culture in the company of the biblical characters who feature prominently in the lectionary readings for the season Abraham and Sarah who waited for a child Isaiah and the prophets who waited for judgement and redemption John the Baptist whose role was to wait in the wilderness until the prophecies he foretold were realised Mary whose waiting began in pregnancy and continued as she stood at the foot of the cross Arranged for daily reading this offers an exquisite meditation on the spirituality of waiting the active doing of nothing as a way of enhancing our lives and bringing
