Placemaking with Children and Youth Victoria Derr, Louise Chawla, Mara Mintzer, 2018-09-18 An illustrated essential guide to engaging children and youth in the process of urban design From a history of children's rights to case studies discussing international initiatives that aim to create child friendly cities Placemaking with Children and Youth offers comprehensive guidance in how to engage children and youth in the planning and design of local environments It explains the importance of children's active participation in their societies and presents ways to bring all generations together to plan cities with a high quality of life for people of all ages Not only does it delineate best practices in establishing programs and partnerships it also provides principles for working ethically with children youth and families paying particular attention to the inclusion of marginalized populations Drawing on case studies from around the world in Australia New Zealand Canada India Puerto Rico the Netherlands South Africa and the United States Placemaking with Children and Youth showcases children's global participation in community design and illustrates how a variety of methods can be combined in initiatives to achieve meaningful change The book features more than 200 visuals and detailed thoughtful guidelines for facilitating a multiplicity of participatory processes that include drawing photography interviews surveys discussion groups role playing mapping murals model making city tours and much more Whether seeking information on individual methods and project planning interpreting and analyzing results or establishing and evaluating a sustained program readers can find practical ideas and inspiration from six continents to connect learning to the realities of students lives and to create better cities for all ages

Immigrant Entrepreneurship in Cities Cathy Yang Liu, 2020-08-01 This book draws on evidence from global cities around the world and explores various dimensions of immigrant entrepreneurship and urban development It provides a substantive contribution to the existing literature in several ways First of all it pursues a comparative approach with case studies from both the global north and global south so as to broaden the theoretical framework in this area especially as pertinent to emerging economies Second it covers multiple scales from local community place making to urban contexts of reception to transnational networks and connections Third it combines approaches and research methods from numerous disciplines investigating entry dynamics trends and patterns business performance challenges and the impact of immigrant entrepreneurship in urban areas Finally it pays particular attention to current international experiences regarding urban policies on immigrant entrepreneurship Given its scope the book will be an enlightening read for anyone interested in immigration entrepreneurship and urban development issues around the globe As global cities around the world continue to attract both domestic migrants and international migrants to their bustling metropolises immigrant entrepreneurship is emerging as an important urban phenomenon that calls for careful examination From Chinatown in New York to Silicon Valley in San Francisco to Little Africa in Guangzhou immigrant owned businesses are not only changing the business landscape in their host communities but also transforming the spatial economic social and cultural dynamics of cities and regions Public Space Design and Social Cohesion Patricia Aelbrecht, Quentin Stevens, 2019-01-22 Social cohesion is often perceived as being under threat from the increasing cultural and economic differences in contemporary cities and the increasing intensity of urban life Public space in its role as the main stage for social interactions between strangers clearly plays a role in facilitating or limiting opportunities for social cohesion But what exactly is social cohesion how is it experienced in the public realm and what role can the design of city spaces have in supporting or promoting it There are significant knowledge gaps between the social sciences and design disciplines and between academia and practice and thus a dispersed knowledge base that currently lacks nuanced insight into how urban design contributes to social integration or segregation This book brings together scholarly knowledge at the intersection of public space design and social cohesion It is based on original scholarly research and a depth of urban design practice and analyses case studies from a variety of cities and cultures across the Global North and Global South Its interdisciplinary cross cultural analysis will be of interest to academics students policymakers and practitioners engaged with a range of subject areas including urban design urban planning architecture landscape cultural studies human geography social policy sociology and anthropology It will also have significant appeal to a wider non academic readership given its topical subject matter Making Place Arijit Sen, Lisa Silverman, 2021-12-22 An analysis of how city dwellers interact with their social and materials worlds in everyday life and how this affects their bodies Space and place have become central to analysis of culture and history in the humanities and social sciences Making Place examines how people engage the material and social worlds of the urban environment via the rhythms of everyday life and how bodily responses are implicated in the making and experiencing of place The contributors introduce the concept of spatial ethnography a new methodological approach that incorporates both material and abstract perspectives in the study of people and place and encourages consideration of the various levels from the personal to the planetary at which spatial change occurs The book s case studies come from Costa Rica Colombia India Austria Italy the United Kingdom and the United States Rich diverse and provocative meditations on place and identity formation it builds on the previous scholarship on bodies memory and place while also moving our understanding of this theme in a refreshing and engaging direction Abidin Kusno University of British Columbia Border Culture Victor Konrad, Anne-Laure Amilhat Szary, 2022-12-29 This book introduces readers to the cultural imaginings of borders the in between spaces in which transnationalism collides with geopolitical cooperation and contestation Recent debates about the refugee crisis and the spread of the COVID 19 pandemic have politicized culture at and of borders like never before Border culture is no longer culture at the margins but rather culture at the heart of geopolitics flows and experience of the transnational world Increasingly culture and borders are everywhere yet nowhere In border spaces national narratives and counter narratives are tested and evaluated coming up against transnational culture This book provides an extensive and critical vision of border culture on the move drawing on numerous examples worldwide and a growing international literature across border and cultural studies It shows how border culture develops in the human imagination and manifests in human constructs of nation and state as well as in transnationalism By analyzing this new and expanding cultural geography of border landscapes the book shows the way to a fresh broader dialogue Exploring the nature and meaning of the intersection of border and culture this book will be an essential read for students and researchers across border studies geopolitics geography and cultural studies The Routledge Handbook of People and Place in the 21st-Century City Kate Bishop, Nancy

Marshall, 2019-08-13 Increasing urbanization and increasing urban density put enormous pressure on the relationships between people and place in cities Built environment professionals must pay attention to the impact of people place relationships in small to large scale urban initiatives A small playground in a neighborhood pocket park is an example of a small scale urban development a national environmental policy that influences energy sources is an example of a large scale initiative All scales of decision making have implications for the people place relationships present in cities This book presents new research in contemporary interdisciplinary urban challenges and opportunities and aims to keep the people place relationship debate in focus in the policies and practices of built environment professionals and city managers Most urban planning and design decisions even those on a small scale will remain in the urban built form for many decades conditioning people's experience of their city It is important that these decisions are made using the best available knowledge This book contains an interdisciplinary discussion of contemporary urban movements and issues influencing the relationship between people and place in urban environments around the world which have major implications for both the processes and products of urban planning design and management The main purpose of the book is to consolidate contemporary thinking among experts from a range of disciplines including anthropology environmental psychology cultural geography urban design and planning architecture and landscape architecture and the arts on how to conceptualize and promote healthy people and place relationships in the 21st century city Within each of the chapters the authors focus on their specific areas of expertise which enable readers to understand key issues for urban environments urban populations and the links between them Encountering the City Jonathan Darling, Helen F. Wilson, 2016-07-15 Encountering the City provides a new and sustained engagement with the concept of encounter Drawing on cutting edge theoretical work classic writings on the city and rich empirical examples this volume demonstrates why encounters are significant to urban studies politically philosophically and analytically Bringing together a range of interests from urban multicultural systems of economic regulation security and suspicion to more than human geographies soundscapes and spiritual experience Encountering the City argues for a more nuanced understanding of how the concept of encounter is used This interdisciplinary collection thus provides an insight into how scholars writing on and in the city mobilise theorise and challenge the concept of encounter through empirical cases taken from Africa Asia Australia Europe North America and South America These cases go beyond conventional accounts of urban conviviality to demonstrate how encounters destabilise rework and produce difference fold together complex temporalities materialise power and transform political relations In doing so the collection retains a critical eye on the forms of regulation containment and inequality that shape the taking place of urban encounter Encountering the City is a valuable resource for students and researchers alike Temporality in Mobile Lives Shanthi Robertson,2021-01-22 Shanthi Robertson provides fresh perspectives on 21st century migratory experiences in this innovative study of young Asian migrants lives in Australia Exploring the aspirations and realities of transnational mobility the book shows how migration has reshaped lived experiences of time for middle class young people moving between Asia and the West for work study and lifestyle opportunities Through a new conceptual framework of chronomobilities which looks at time regimes and time logics Robertson demonstrates how migratory pathways have become far more complex than leaving one country for another and can profoundly affect the temporalities of everyday life from career pathways to intimate relationships Drawing on extensive ethnographic material Robertson deepens our understanding of the multifaceted relationship between migration and time

All-Inclusive Engagement in Architecture Farhana Ferdous,Bryan Bell,2020-12-22 Should all inclusive engagement be the major task of architecture All Inclusive Engagement in Architecture Towards the Future of Social Change presents the case that the answer is yes Through original contributions and case studies this volume shows that socially engaged architecture is both a theoretical construct and a professional practice navigating the global politics of poverty charity health technology neoliberal urbanism and the discipline s exclusionary basis The scholarly ideas and design projects of 58 thought leaders demonstrate the architect s role as a revolutionary social agent Exemplary works are included from the United States Mexico Canada Africa Asia and Europe This book offers a comprehensive overview and in depth analysis of all inclusive engagement in public interest design for instructors students and professionals alike showing how this approach to architecture can bring forth a radical reformation of the profession and its relationship to society Transcultural Cities Jeffrey Hou,2013-02-11 Transcultural Cities uses a framework of transcultural placemaking cross disciplinary inquiry and transnational focus to examine a collection of case studies around the world presented by a multidisciplinary group of scholars and activists in architecture urban planning urban studies art environmental psychology geography political science and social work The book addresses the intercultural exchanges as well as the cultural trans formation that takes place in urban spaces In doing so it views cultures not in isolation from each other in today s diverse urban environments but as mutually influenced constituted and transformed In cities and regions around the globe migrations of people have continued to shape the makeup and making of neighborhoods districts and communities For instance in North America new immigrants have revitalized many of the decaying urban landscapes creating renewed cultural ambiance and economic networks that transcend borders In Richmond BC Canada an Asian night market has become a major cultural event that draws visitors throughout the region and across the US and Canadian border Across the Pacific foreign domestic workers in Hong Kong transform the deserted office district in Central on weekends into a carnivalesque site While contributing to the multicultural vibes in cities migration and movements have also resulted in tensions competition and clashes of cultures between different ethnic communities old timers newcomers employees and employers individuals and institutions In Transcultural Cities Jeffrey Hou and a cross disciplinary team of authors argue for a more critical and open approach that sees today s cities urban places and placemaking as vehicles for cross cultural understanding
