Transhumanism And Transcendence Christian Hope In An Age Of Technological Enhancement:

Transhumanism and Transcendence Ronald Cole-Turner, 2011-09-29 The timeless human desire to be more beautiful intelligent healthy athletic or young has given rise in our time to technologies of human enhancement Athletes use drugs to increase their strength or stamina cosmetic surgery is widely used to improve physical appearance millions of men take drugs like Viagra to enhance sexual performance And today researchers are exploring technologies such as cell regeneration and implantable devices that interact directly with the brain Some condemn these developments as a new kind of cheating not just in sports but in life itself promising rewards without effort and depriving us most of all of what it means to be authentic human beings Transhumanists on the other hand reject what they see as a rationalizing of human limits as if being human means being content forever with underachieving bodies and brains To be human they insist is to be restless with possibilities always eager to transcend biological limits As the debate grows in urgency how should theology respond Christian theologians recognize truth on both sides of the argument pointing out how the yearnings of the transhumanists if not their technological methods find deep affinities in Christian belief In this volume Ronald Cole Turner has joined seasoned scholars and younger emerging voices together to bring fresh insight into the technologies that are already reshaping the future of Christian life and hope
