De Shields and Tony Award winning director Diane Paulus This is an essential resource for students on theatre and performance courses and an invaluable text for researchers and practitioners in these areas of study Newsprint Metropolis Julia Guarneri, 2017-11-16 Julia Guarneri's book considers turn of the century newspapers in New York Philadelphia Milwaukee and Chicago not just as vessels of information but as active agents in the creation of cities and of urban culture Guarneri argues that newspapers sparked cultural social and economic shifts that transformed a rural republic into a nation of cities and that transformed rural people into self identified metropolitans and moderns The book pays closest attention to the content and impact of feature news such as advice columns neighborhood tours women's pages comic strips and Sunday magazines While papers provided a guide to individual upward mobility they also fostered a climate of civic concern and responsibility Editors drew in new reading audiences women immigrants and working class readers giving rise to the diverse contentious and commercial public sphere of the twentieth century On Many Routes Annemarie Steidl, 2020-11-15 On Many Routes is about the history of human migration With a focus on the Habsburg Empire this innovative work presents an integrated and creative study of spatial mobilities from short to long term and intranational and inter European to transatlantic Migration was not just relegated to city folk but likewise was the reality for rural dwellers and we gain a better understanding of how sending and receiving states and shipping companies worked together to regulate migration and shape populations Bringing historical census data governmental statistics and ship manifests into conversation with centuries old migration patterns of servants agricultural workers seasonal laborers peddlers and artisans both male and female this research argues that Central Europeans have long been mobile that this mobility has been driven by diverse motivations and that post 1850 transatlantic migration was an obvious extension of earlier spatial mobility patterns Demonstrating the complexity of human mobility via an exploration of the links between overseas continental and internal migrations On Many Routes shows that migrations to the United States to the nearest coalfield and to the urban capitals are embedded within complicated patterns of movement There is no good reason to study internal apart from transnational moves and combining these fields brings ample possibility to make migration research more relevant for the much broader field of social and economic history This work poses an invaluable resource to the understudied area of Habsburg Empire migration studies which it relocates within its wider European context and provides a major methodological contribution to the history of human migration more broadly The ubiquity and functionality of human movement sheds light on the relationship between human nature and society and challenges simplistic notions of human mobility then and now How the Other Half Laughs Jean Lee Cole, 2020-01-27 2021 Honorable Mention Recipient of the Charles Hatfield Book Prize from the Comics Studies Society Taking up the role of laughter in society How the Other Half Laughs The Comic Sensibility in American Culture 1895 1920 examines an era in which the US population was becoming increasingly multiethnic and multiracial Comic artists and writers hoping to create works that would appeal to a diverse audience had to formulate a method for making the other half laugh In magazine fiction vaudeville and the comic strip the oppressive conditions of the poor and the marginalized were portrayed unflinchingly yet with a distinctly comic sensibility that grew out of caricature and ethnic humor Author Jean Lee Cole analyzes Progressive Era popular culture providing a critical angle to approach visual and literary humor about ethnicity how avenues of comedy serve as expressions of solidarity commiseration and empowerment Cole s argument centers on the comic sensibility which she defines as a performative act that fosters feelings of solidarity and community among the marginalized Cole stresses the connections between the worlds of art journalism and literature and the people who produced them including George Herriman R F Outcault Rudolph Dirks Jimmy Swinnerton George Luks and William Glackens and traces the form s emergence in the pages of Joseph Pulitzer s New York World and William Randolph Hearst s Journal American and how it influenced popular fiction illustration and art How the Other Half Laughs restores the newspaper comic strip to its rightful place as a transformative element of American culture at the turn into the twentieth century

Words to the Wives Shelby Shapiro, 2024-05-02 This book looks at how the Yiddish press sought to create Jewish American identities for immigrant women Shelby Shapiro focuses on two women s magazines and the women s pages in three daily newspapers from 1913 when the first Yiddish women s magazine appeared until 1925 when the Immigration Act of 1924 took effect Shapiro demonstrates how newspaper editors and publishers sought to shape identity in line with their own religious or political tendencies in this new environment where immigrants faced a broad horizon of possibilities for shaping or reshaping their identities in the face of new possibilities and constraints External constraints included the economic situation of the immigrants varying degrees of antisemitism within American society while internal constraints included the variable power of traditions and beliefs brought with them from the Old World Words to the Wives studies how publications sought to shape the direction of Eastern European Jewish immigrant women s acculturation
