Transnational Agrarian Movements Confronting Globalization:

Transnational Agrarian Movements Confronting Globalization Saturnino M. Borras, Jr., Marc Edelman, Cristóbal Kay, 2009-02-23 Readers of this book will encounter peasants and farmers who struggle at home and traverse national borders to challenge the World Trade Organization and other powerful global institutions. Studies the activists in Brazil who uproot plots of genetically modified soybeans, forest dwellers in Indonesia who chop down rubber plantations to cultivate rice to feed their families, runaway villages in China that take up arms to resist corrupt officials, and Mexican migrants who, having exited in desperation, return from abroad to transform their communities. Little known transnational agrarian movements of the early twentieth century share the stage with more recent high profile global alliances such as V a Campesina. Celebrates a dynamic sector of international civil society and tackles the thorny questions of successes and failures, ethical and political dilemmas, troubled alliances with NGOs, protest repertoires, and representation claims. Analyzes contemporary collective action in all its complexity, acknowledging ambiguities and contradictions, posing challenging questions, and providing concrete strategies for scholars and activists.

Saturnino M. Borras, Jr., Marc Edelman, Cristóbal Kay, 2008-11-10 Readers of this book will encounter peasants and farmers who struggle at home and traverse national borders to challenge the World Trade Organization and other powerful global institutions. Here are activists in Brazil who uproot plots of genetically modified soybeans, forest dwellers in Indonesia who chop down rubber plantations to cultivate rice to feed their families, runaway villages in China that take up arms to resist corrupt officials, and Mexican migrants who, having exited in desperation, return from abroad to transform their communities. Little known transnational agrarian movements of the early twentieth century share the stage with more recent high profile global alliances such as V a Campesina. Rather than simply celebrating a dynamic sector of international civil society, the authors tackle thorny questions of successes and failures, ethical and political dilemmas, troubled alliances with NGOs, protest repertoires, and representation claims. The essays in Transnational Agrarian Movements Confronting Globalization analyze contemporary collective action in all its complexity, acknowledging ambiguities and contradictions, posing challenging questions, and providing concrete strategies for scholars and activists. Contributors include Suraya Afiff, Xochitl Bada, Brenda Baletti, Saturnino M. Borras Jr., Marc Edelman, Jonathan Fox, Harriet Friedmann, Tamara M. Johnson, Cristóbal Kay, Kevin Malseed, Philip McMichael, Amber McNair, Peter Newell, Nancy Lee Peluso, Noer Fauzi Rachman, Ian Scoones, Kathy Le Mons Walker, and Wendy Wolford.

The primary goal is to provide an alternative or complementary reading of IPE derived from the experiences of the periphery. The textbook asks how has the Global South responded to the demands of a global economy What is the meaning of sovereignty to those who have experienced colonialism and imperialism How can the Global South claim the international when the Global North sets its norms institutions and practices It opens with a standard introduction offering an intellectual history of key IPE concepts including state firm capital power labor globalization and finance Each subsequent chapter follows a similar structure exploration of the problem discussion of what may be missing from dominant understandings of the problem and or how orthodox IPE may tell us something different about the problem compared to what is experienced in the Global South and identification of alternative frameworks and perspectives Aiming to de Westernize and decentralize the production of knowledge the textbook introduces students to the discipline and phenomenon of IPE with a genuinely global perspective

The Political Economy of the Agri-Food System in Thailand Prapimphan Chiengkul, 2017-05-08 This book adopts a neo Marxist and Gramscian approach to studying the political economy of the agricultural and food system in Thailand 1990 2014 The author argues that hegemonic forces have many measures to co opt dissent into hegemonic structures and that counter hegemony should be seen as an ongoing process over a long period of time where predominantly counter hegemonic forces constrained by political economic structural conditions may at times retain some hegemonic elements Contrary to what some academic studies suggest the author argues that localist inspired social movements in Thailand are not insular and anti globalisation

Human Rights and the Food Sovereignty Movement Priscilla Claeys, 2015-01-09 Our global food system is undergoing rapid change Since the global food crisis of 2007 2008 a range of new issues have come to public attention such as land grabbing food prices volatility agrofuels and climate change Peasant social movements are trying to respond to these challenges by organizing from the local to the global to demand food sovereignty As the transnational agrarian movement La Via Campesina celebrates its 20th anniversary this book takes stock of the movement s achievements and reflects on challenges for the future It provides an in depth analysis of the movement s vision and strategies and shows how it has contributed not only to the emergence of an alternative development paradigm but also of an alternative conception of human rights The book assesses efforts to achieve the international recognition of new human rights for peasants at the international level namely the right to food sovereignty and peasants rights It explores why La Via Campesina was successful in mobilizing a human rights discourse in its struggle against neoliberalism and also the limitations and potential pitfalls of using the human rights framework The book shows that to inject subversive potential in their rights based claims rural social activists developed an alternative conception of rights that is more plural less statist less individualistic and more multi cultural than dominant conceptions of human rights Further they deployed a combination of institutional from above and extrainstitutional from below strategies to demand new rights and reinforce grassroots mobilization through rights

Handbook of Land and Water Grabs in Africa John Anthony Allan,2013 Four other themes will address politics economics the environment and the history of land investments in sub Saharan Africa

People Power Howard Clark,2009-09-15 Across the world nonviolent movements are in the forefront of resistance against repression imperial aggression and corporate abuse However it is often difficult for activists in other countries to know how best to assist such movements The contributors to Unarmed Resistance and Global Solidarity place nonviolent struggles in an international context where solidarity can play a crucial role Yet they also warn that good intentions are not enough solidarity has to listen to local movements Using clear examples the contributors assess various forms of solidarity criticizing those in the global North who try to impose their view of what is possible and arguing that a central role of solidarity is to strengthen the counter power of those resisting domination and oppression
