Transitions Through Adolescence Interpersonal Domains And Context:

Transitions Through Adolescence Julia A. Graber, Jeanne Brooks-Gunn, Anne C. Petersen, 2018-10-24 The adolescent period has attracted much attention as an ideal period for investigating interactive models incorporating biological maturation with intra and interpersonal development The focus of this volume is on adolescent transitions in three domains the peer system the family system and school and work contexts Its goal is to highlight specific aspects of innovative research programs and initiatives and look forward to future directions in the field Because interest in adolescence has spanned the disciplines this volume reflects a multidisciplinary perspective presenting research and methods from life span development sociology anthropology and education to provide exemplars of the range of approaches used in understanding the processes and transitions of adolescent development These exemplars encompass the breadth not only of the investigation of adolescence from survey research on drug use to ethnographic studies of involvement in criminal activities but also of individual differences in the experience of adolescent transitions from the transition to college and work in White middle class youth to the work experiences of urban African American high school students The chapters collected here offer a rich sample of the diversity of research experience with an emphasis on in depth investigation of adolescent transitions The volume will serve as a resource to investigators across several disciplines as it identifies approaches and recent findings from alternate fields

Adams, Michael Berzonsky, 2008-04-15 This volume brings together a team of leading psychologists to provide a state of the art overview of adolescent development Leading experts provide cutting edge reviews of theory and research Covers issues currently of most importance in terms of basic and or applied research and policy formulation Discusses a wide range of topics from basic processes to problem behavior The ideal basis for a course on adolescent development or for applied professions seeking the best of contemporary knowledge about adolescents A valuable reference for faculty wishing to keep up to date with the latest developments in the field Now available in full text online via xreferplus the award winning reference library on the web from xrefer For more information visit www.xreferplus.com

The Development of Relational Aggression Sarah M. Coyne, Jamie M. Ostrov, 2018 Research over the last few decades has revealed that individuals use a variety of mechanisms to hurt one another many of which are not physical in nature In this volume editors Sarah M Coyne and Jamie M Ostrov turn their focus on relational aggression behavior that is intended to cause harm to another individual s relationships or social standing in the group e g gossiping social exclusion and spreading malicious rumors Unlike physical aggression the scars of relational aggression are more difficult to detect However victims and their aggressors may experience strong and long lasting consequences including reduced self esteem loneliness depression anxiety and more Over the past 25 years there has been a growing body of literature on relational aggression and other non physical forms of aggression that have focused predominantly on gender differences development and risk and protective factors In this volume the focus turns to the development of relational aggression during childhood adolescence and emerging adulthood Here Coyne Ostrov and their contributing authors examine a number of risk factors and socializing agents or models e g parenting peers media the classroom that lead to the development of relational aggression over time An understanding of how these behaviors develop will inform readers of important intervention strategies to curb the use of relational aggression in schools peer groups and in family relationships The Development of Relational Aggression provides scholars researchers practitioners students and parents with an extensive resource that will help move the field forward in our understanding of the development of relational aggression for the future

Self and Identity in Adolescent Foreign Language Learning Florentina Taylor,2013-07-04 This book explores the role of identity in adolescent foreign language learning to provide evidence that an identity focused approach can make a difference to achievement in education It uses both in depth exploratory interviews with language learners and a cross sectional survey to provide a unique glimpse into the identity dynamics that learners need to manage in their interaction with contradictory relational contexts e g teacher vs classmates parents vs friends and that appear to impair their perceived competence and declared achievement in language learning Furthermore this work presents a new model of identity which incorporates several educational psychology theories e g self discrepancy self presentation impression management developmental theories of adolescence and principles of foreign language teaching and learning This book gives rise to potentially policy changing insights and will be of importance to those interested in the relationship between self identity and language teaching and learning

Adolescent Romantic Relationships as Precursors of Healthy Adult Marriages Benjamin R. Karney,2007 Policymakers are interested in promoting healthy marriages in adulthood by providing services to strengthen the adolescent precursors of healthy marriage especially within low income populations But if programs and curricula targeting adolescent romantic relationships are to be effective they must be grounded in an accurate understanding of how adolescent relationships function and the role that they play in the development of healthy adult marriages This report evaluates the current landscape of theory research and interventions addressing the role of adolescent romantic relationships in the development of healthy adult marriages Drawing on a thorough review of the existing theoretical and empirical literature in this area as well as interviews with practitioners directly involved with developing or administering relationship education to adolescents the authors bring together relevant research and theory from a wide range of disciplines that have examined these issues and suggest future directions for research and intervention In particular they note that although research describing romantic relationships in low income populations is sparse there are already existing nationally representative data sets that include data from substantial numbers of well sampled low income adolescents Analyses of these data would have relatively low cost and a potentially high yield for informing policies that target low income youth

What Successful Schools Do to Involve Families Paula Jameson Whitney,Neal A. Glasgow,2016-01-26 From traditional forms of communication such as open houses parent teacher conferences and fundraising efforts to hot button topics such as bullying and discipline this book helps educators bridge the gap between school and home Conflict and Cohesion in Families Martha J. Cox, Jeanne Brooks-Gunn, 1998-12 Based on a summer institute of the Family Research Consortium this book presents theory and research from leading scholars working on issues of risk and resilience in families Focusing on the splits and bonds that shape children s development this volume s primary goal is to stimulate theoretical and empirical advances in research on family processes It will be valuable to developmental social and clinical psychologists sociologists and family studies specialists Educating Adolescents Tim Urdan, Frank Pajares, 2006-01-01 This volume of Adolescence and Education is devoted to an exploration of the challenges facing adolescents and their teachers as well as some of the strategies that have been adopted to address these challenges Although it is true that most adolescents survive this period of development with few enduring academic or psychological problems it is also true that a substantial proportion experience depression bullying and violence in school sexual harassment and a widening gap between their personal and academic needs Many of these problems emerge for the first time during adolescence Health Services Reports ,2002 Public Health Reports ,2002
