We Are The Ocean We Are The Ocean:

We Are the Ocean Captain Paul Watson, 2022-05-27 We Are the Ocean helps children develop a personal connection to the water. The author eloquently describes the importance of the ocean and its role in sustaining all life on Earth. Children along with their doggie companions discover the answer to the question What is the ocean. Captivating illustrations show the continuous cycle of water on Earth and teach youngsters that water is in the cells of all living plants and animals including the cells of their own bodies. Readers will be surprised to discover water was even once in the bodies of dinosaurs. When children learn about their connection to the ocean they are more motivated to appreciate and take care of it as they grow older. Charming pictures by British artist Sarah Borg and kid friendly language make this story a joy to read. We Are the Ocean Epeli Hau'ofa, 2008-01-29 We Are the Ocean is a collection of essays fiction and poetry by Epeli Hau'ofa whose writing over the past three decades has consistently challenged prevailing notions about Oceania and prescriptions for its development. He highlights major problems confronted by the region and suggests alternative perspectives and ways in which its people might reorganize to relate effectively to the changing world. Hau'ofa's essays criss cross Oceania creating a navigator's star chart of discussion and debate. Spurning the arcana of the intellectual establishments where he was schooled, Hau'ofa has crafted a distinctive often lyrical at times angry voice that speaks directly to the people of the region and the general reader. He conveys his thoughts from diverse standpoints: university based analyst, essayist, satirist and humorist and practical catalyst for creativity. According to Hau'ofa only through creative originality in all fields of endeavor can the people of Oceania hope to strengthen their capacity to engage the forces of globalization. Our Sea of Islands, The Ocean in Us, Past to Remember and Our Place Within all of which are included in this collection outline some of Hau'ofa's ideas for the emergence of a stronger and freer Oceania. Throughout he expresses his concern with the environment and suggests that the most important role that the people of the sea can assume is as custodians of the Pacific, the vast area of the world's largest body of water. World Ocean Assessment Alan Simcock, 2017-04-17 This United Nations report examines the current state of knowledge of the world's oceans for policymakers and provides a reference for marine science courses. The Oceans and National Economic Development United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Commerce, 1973.

Hydrofeminist Thinking With Oceans Tamara Shefer, Vivienne Bozalek, Nike Romano, 2023-12-19 Hydrofeminist Thinking with Oceans brings together authors who are thinking in with and through the spaces of oceans and beaches in South African contexts to make alternative knowledges towards a justice to come and flourishing at a planetary level. Primary scholarly locations for this work include feminist, new materialist and post humanist thinking and specifically locates itself within hydrofeminist thinking. Together with a foreword by Astrida Neimanis the chapters in this book explore both land and water with oceans as powerfully political spaces globally and locally entangled in the violences of settler colonialism, land dispossession, slavery, transnational labour exploitation, extractivism and omnicides. South Africa is a productive space to engage in such scholarship While there is a growing body of literature that works within and across disciplines on the sea and bodies of water to think critically about the damages of centuries of colonisation and continued extractivist capitalism there remains little work that explores this burgeoning thinking in global Southern and more particularly South African contexts South African histories of colonisation slavery and more recently apartheid which are saturated in the oceans are only recently being explored through oceanic logics This volume offers valuable Southern contributions and rich situated narratives to such hydrofeminist thinking It also brings diverse and more marginal knowledges to bear on the project of generating imaginative alternatives to hegemonic colonial and patriarchal logics in the academy and elsewhere While primarily located in a South African context the volume speaks well to globalised concerns for justice and environmental challenges both in human societies and in relation to other species and planetary crises The chapters which will be of interest to scholars activists and other civil society stakeholders share inspiring rich examples of diverse scholarship activism and art in these contexts extending international scholarship that thinks in on with ocean s littoral zones and bodies of water The book offers ethico political perspectives on the role of research in ocean governance policy development and collective decision making for ecological justice This book is suitable for students and scholars of post qualitative feminist new materialist embodied arts based and hydrofeminist methods in education environmental humanities and the social sciences
