We The People A Call To Take Back America:

We the People Thom Hartmann, 2004 America's remarkable 230 year experiment in republican democracy is in grave danger. Its inspired vision and values have been corrupted and the government is increasingly alienating both its own citizens and its global neighbors. Thom Hartmann, our contemporary Thomas Paine, clearly articulates the magnitude of the threat while unveiling how we got here and offering specific practical steps for restoring our beloved democracy. We the People, a Call to Take Back America, Thom Hartmann, Illustrated by Neil Cohn, 2003. United States of America Congressional Record, Proceedings and Debates of the 113th Congress Second Session Volume 160 - Part 4, Meet an American! Elmer Reid Smith, 1944. Dream and Reality Jeannine Swift, 1991-07-25. The struggles of the 1960s brought about far-reaching changes: not only an end to legalized segregation and discrimination nationwide but a change in the consciousness of both whites and blacks. After nearly three decades, however, black hopes for equality, particularly in the economic realm, are frustrated by political reaction and economic pressures. This collection of essays looks at the history of the black struggle and at the policies and political and economic realities that have brought progress to a near standstill. In an introductory chapter, Julian Bond reviews two and a half decades of black struggle, giving particular attention to the shifting fortunes of the movement for black freedom and equality and the recent worsening of black poverty relative to the condition of the affluent majority. Several authors focus on the leadership of the civil rights movement, including neglected women leaders and the history of the movement as a whole. Others analyze the experience of desegregation as it has affected both whites and blacks. Additional areas explored are the continuing problem of de facto segregation in schools, the condition of blacks in the workplace, and attempts to improve the situation of inner-city black youth. The volume concludes with an examination of options and strategies for reanimating the black agenda in the coming decades. The work of a distinguished group of scholars in the field; this book will be of interest to anyone concerned with race relations, policy issues, the civil rights movement, and U.S. political and social history. American Co-operative Manager, 1920. Building America's Health: The people speak; excerpts from regional public hearings on health United States.
