Something in the Air Marc Fisher, 2009-04-02 A sweeping anecdotal account of the great sounds and voices of radio and how it became a bonding agent for a generation of American youth When television became the next big thing in broadcast entertainment everyone figured video would kill the radio star and radio period But radio came roaring back with a whole new concept The war was over the baby boom was on the country was in clover and a bold new beat was giving the syrupy songs of yesteryear a run for their money Add transistors 45 rpm records and a young man named Elvis to the mix and the result was the perfect storm that rocked rolled and reinvented radio Visionary entrepreneurs like Todd Storz pioneered the Top 40 concept which united a generation But it took trendsetting disc jockeys like Alan Freed Murray the K Wolfman Jack Cousin Brucie and their fast talking too cool for school counterparts across the land to turn time temperature and the same irresistible hit tunes played again and again into the ubiquitous sound track of the fifties and sixties The Top 40 sound broke through racial barriers galvanized coming of age kids and scandalized their perplexed parents and provided the insistent inescapable backbeat for times that were a changin Along with rock and roll music came the attitude that would literally change the voice of radio forever via the likes of raconteur Jean Shepherd who captivated his loyal following of Night People the inimitable Bob Fass whose groundbreaking Radio Unnameable inaugurated the anything goes free form style that would come to define the alternative frontier of FM and a small time Top 40 deejay who would ultimately find national fame as a political talk show host named Rush Limbaugh From Hunter Hancock who pushed beyond the limits of 1950s racial segregation with rhythm and blues and hepcat patter to Howard Stern who blew through all the limits with a blue streak of outrageous on air antics from the heyday of summer songs that united carefree listeners to the latter days of political talk era's greats he launched the Rhino label from the back room of the Los Angeles record store he managed. His new role put him behind the scenes with many of those same artists working to bring their old and sometimes new music to the public. Completing a trilogy that began with The Rhino Records Story 2013 and My British Invasion 2017, Time Has Come Today is a 40-year memoir in diary form that documents Bronson's progress from student musician and journalist to label executive where his fandom wit and creative imagination augmented and altered the course of many great careers. Time Has Come Today contains concert accounts, historical events and meetings with many noted hitmakers with fascinating details that have never before been made public. This unique behind-the-scenes document is packed with dates and details and loaded with many boldface names: Lunches with Peter Dinklage, Terri Nunn, Wally Amos and Henny Youngman. A limo ride and platinum record award ceremony with all four Monkees. In the studio with Black Sabbath. The Ferrari in the Bedroom Jean Shepherd, 2010-06-16 Jean Shepherd was one of America's favorite humorists, his most notable achievement being the creation of the indefatigable Ralphie Parker and his quest for a BB gun in the holiday classic A Christmas Story. But he was so much more a comic Garrison Keillor-like figure whose unique voice transcended the airwaves and affected a whole generation of nostalgic Americans. The Ferrari in the Bedroom is Shepherd's wry affectionate look at the hang-ups and delusions of Americans in the 1970s. From his sardonic assessment of fads such as the nostalgia craze, "Thinking that the old days were good is a terrible sickness. Everything was just as bad then as it is now," to a modest proposal for the foundation of S.P.L.A.T., The Society for the Prevention of the Leaving of Animal Turds, Jean Shepherd provides a generous measure of his special brand of wise and warm humor as an antidote for some of America's more ridiculous obsessions.
