Korieh,Philomina E Okeke-Ihejirika,2008-11-19 The authors collected in Gendering Global Transformations Gender Culture Race and Identity probe the effects of global and local forces in reshaping notions of gender race class identity human rights and community across Africa and its Diaspora The essays in this unique collection employ diverse interdisciplinary approaches drawing from subjects such as history sociology religion anthropology gender studies feminist studies in an effort to centralize gender as a category of analysis in developing critical perspectives in a globalizing world From this approach come a host of exciting insights and subtle analyses that serve to illuminate the effects of issues such as international migration globalization and cultural continuities among diaspora communities on the articulation of women s agency community organization and identity formation at the local and the global level Bringing together the voices of scholars from Africa Europe and the United States Gendering Global Transformations Gender Culture Race and Identity offers a multi national and wholly original perspective on the intricacies of life in a globalized era The Oxford

Handbook of Transnational Feminist Movements Rawwida Baksh-Soodeen, Wendy Harcourt, 2015 The Oxford Handbook of Transnational Feminist Movements explores the historical political economic and social contexts in which transnational feminist movements have emerged and spread and the contributions they have made to global knowledge power and social change over the past half century The publication of the handbook in 2015 marks the fortieth anniversary of the United Nations International Women s Year the thirtieth anniversary of the Third World Conference on Women held in Nairobi the twentieth anniversary of the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action and the fifteenth anniversaries of the Millennium Development Goals and of UN Security Council Resolution 1325 on women peace and security The editors and contributors critically interrogate transnational feminist movements from a broad spectrum of locations in the global South and North feminist organizations and networks at all levels local national regional global and glocal wider civil society organizations and networks governmental and multilateral agencies and academic and research institutions among others The handbook reflects candidly on what we have learned about transnational feminist movements What are the different spaces from which transnational feminisms have operated and in what ways How have they contributed to our understanding of the myriad formal and informal ways in which gendered power relations define and inform everyday life To what extent have they destabilized or transformed the global hegemonic systems that constitute patriarchy From a position of fifty years of knowledge production activism working with institutions and critical reflection the handbook recognizes that transnational feminist movements form a key epistemic community that can inspire and provide leadership in shaping political spaces and institutions at all levels and transforming international political economy development and peace processes The handbook is organized into ten sections each beginning with an introduction by the editors The sections explore the main themes that have emerged from transnational feminist movements knowledge theory and praxis organizing for change body politics health and well being human rights and human security economic and social justice citizenship and statebuilding militarism and religious fundamentalisms peace movements UNSCR 1325 and postconflict rebuilding feminist political ecology and digital age transformations and future trajectories Frames and Transformations in Transnational Studies Martin Albrow, 1998 Decolonizing Feminism Margaret A. McLaren, 2017-09-13 What does it mean to decolonize transnational feminist theory in the context of globalization As a project concerned with multiple power structures feminist theory must address the historical legacies of colonialism postcolonialism and more recently decoloniality This book offers essays organized around a coherent set of research questions about how to conceptualize an inclusive feminist politics This has been and continues to be a central project in feminist theory particularly in light of neoliberal globalization International and interdisciplinary in scope this book introduces the key issues in and addresses the most significant challenges for contemporary transnational feminist politics In the context of rapid globalization it explores the theoretical frameworks for thinking through significant concepts in feminist theory and activism rights citizenship and immigration feminist solidarity decolonizing methodologies and practices and freedom From diverse socio political locations and multiple and interdisciplinary perspectives authors propose new ways of thinking about feminist knowledges methodologies and practices Ideal for students and scholars in Gender and Globalization Transnational Feminism and Feminist Theory more broadly the volume contributes to the ongoing project of advocating a decolonizing feminist approach to pressing social issues

Encompassing Gender Mary M. Lay, Janice J. Monk, Deborah Rosenfelt, 2002 From Beijing to Seattle women's movements within academe and in local global communities are growing at an unprecedented rate raising pointed questions about paradigms of Western feminism development global trade and scholarship Despite this growing visibility the perspectives of far too many women especially from the Global South are still excluded from mainstream U S scholarship Presented with the task of preparing students for life in this new and rapidly shrinking world many scholars have found themselves overwhelmed by the need to cross disciplinary and geographic borders But some faculty are leading the way often in defiance of academic traditions and prejudices to a curriculum that reflects consequences of globalization Encompassing Gender is the long awaited anthology of more than 40 essays by 60 scholars many of them working in curriculum transformation groups that cut across the humanities the sciences and the social sciences all of them committed to an interdisciplinary approach to internationalizing the curriculum

Globalization and Feminist Activism Mary E. Hawkesworth, 2006-03-15 In this compelling and comprehensive overview Mary E Hawkesworth explores transnational feminist efforts to produce a more just global order Arguing that globalization is a feminist issue she considers how social economic and political inequalities between men and women of different races classes ethnicities and nationalities have been produced and contested over the past two centuries of capitalist development Through the use of both historical and contemporary examples the author demonstrates how women have forged international networks and alliances to address specific gender issues beyond the borders of the nation state crafting policies to mitigate pressing abuses and devising alternatives to liberal and neoliberal agendas Analyzing innovative feminist tactics to produce global change the book carefully traces the structural forces that permeate and constrain transnational feminist activism Hawkesworth illuminates the complexity of feminist strategies to influence international agencies and foundations national governments and transnational NGOs alike By providing critical new insights into the gendered nature of the global system and the gendered dynamics of international institutions and nation states this work will be invaluable for all those engaged in the interdisciplinary fields of globalization studies and feminist studies

Critical Transnational Feminist Praxis Amanda Lock Swarr, Richa Nagar, 2012-02-01 Provocative timely and global this volume offers a critical and grounded engagement with transnational feminism through the lens of praxis the juncture of theory and practice In so doing it grapples with questions of power and representation while remaining deeply committed to radical critiques and agendas of transnational and postcolonial feminisms Long time activists and well known scholars speak to a wide range of issues and practices including women s studies curricula NGOs transnational and LGBTQ studies feminist methodologies and film These essays similarly conceptualize ways to more effectively theorize feminist collaborative practices while subverting such rigid established dichotomies as theory practice academic activist individual collaborative and the global North South A number of transnational projects are highlighted the Guyanese Red Thread collective the Ananya Dance Theater the Philippine Women Center of British Columbia the Filipino Canadian Youth Alliance the VIVA Project and the Indian organization Sangtin Comprehensive in scope and rigorous in critical scrutiny these powerful essays set the twenty first century agenda for political engagement through feminist scholarship The mix of styles makes for a lively read that is accessible for its extraordinary candor its combination of theory with firmly grounded empirical examples and an unflinching confrontation of pain and conflict It made me think about entirely new things and about familiar things in new ways and to make connections among them Louise Fortmann University of California Berkeley Amanda Lock Swarr is Assistant Professor of Women Studies at the University of Washington Seattle Richa Nagar is Professor of Gender Women and Sexuality Studies at the University of Minnesota Twin Cities She is the author with Sangtin writers of Playing with Fire Feminist Thought and Activism through Seven Lives in India

Engendering Transnational Transgressions Eileen Boris, Sandra Trudgen Dawson, Barbara Molony, 2020-11-23 Engendering Transnational Transgressions reclaims the transgressive side of feminist history challenging hegemonic norms and the power of patriarchies Through the lenses of intersectionality gender analysis and transnational feminist theory it addresses the political in public and intimate spaces The book begins by highlighting the transgressive nature of feminist historiography It then divides into two parts Part I Intimate Transgressions Marriage and Sexuality examines marriage and divorce as viewed through a transnational lens and Part II Global Transgressions Networking for Justice and Peace considers political and social violence as well as struggles for relief redemption and change by transnational networks of women Chapters are archivally grounded and take a critical approach that underscores the local in the global and the significance of intersectional factors within the intimate They bring into conversation literatures too often separated history of feminisms and anti war anti imperial anti fascist and related movements on the one hand and studies of gender crossings marriage reconstitution and affect and subjectivities on the other In so doing the book encourages the reader to rethink standard interpretations of rights equality and recognition This is the ideal volume for students and
