Walking as Embodied Research Christian ErNSTEN, Nick Shepherd, 2024-09-30 In recent years walking has emerged as a methodological tool and as a conceptually exciting point of departure across a range of disciplines and practices This volume explores walking as a form of embodied research practice that offers fresh perspectives on key contemporary debates and areas of interest These include the climate emergency and the debate around the Anthropocene decolonial thinking and the struggle for social justice feminist and queer walking methodologies and the notion of the infraordinary and practices of everyday life Contributions to this volume are by scholars artists and practitioners drawn from a wide range of disciplines and fields and from across the Global South and North An overarching theme of the volume is the manner in which the act of walking brings the body into presence as a material part of the research process and the forms of attentiveness that this encourages Another theme is the intimate connection between the act of walking and the act of writing As familiar landscapes change under the weight of Anthropogenic environmental change walking becomes an act of witnessing and a spur to action Rather than being a singular activity walking itself is understood as a socially economically and politically constructed and contested act This volume will serve as a source of inspiration to readers from across the arts humanities and social sciences who are interested in walking methodologies and in new and sustainable research practices "We, the Barbarians" Mabel Moraña, 2024-06-05 We the Barbarians embarks on a careful and exhaustive reading of three of the most prominent authors in the latest wave of Mexican fiction Yuri Herrera Fernanda Melchor and Valeria Luiselli Originally published in Mexico in 2021 this work is divided into three parts one for each author s narrative production The book analyzes all of the literary works published by Herrera Melchor and Luiselli from the beginning of their writing careers until 2021 allowing for a diachronic interpretation of their respective narrative projects as well as for comparative approaches to their aesthetic and ideological contours Characterized by the fragmentation of civil society and the decomposition of the myths that accompanied the consolidation of the modern nation Mexican visual and literary arts have explored a myriad of representational avenues to approach the phenomena of violence institutional decay and political instability The critical and theoretical approaches in We the Barbarians explore a variety of alternative symbolic representations of topics such as nationalism community and affect in times impacted by systemic violence precariousness and radical inequality Mora perceives the negotiations between regional local imaginaries and global scenarios characterized by the devaluation and resignification of life both at individual and collective levels Though it uses three authors as its focus this book seeks to more broadly theorize the question of the relationship between literature and the social in the twenty first century Journey: The Way of the Disciple Richard Littledale, 2017-03-01 An accessible and thought provoking devotional look at the nature of discipleship through the lens of pilgrimage What do we learn about God whilst on the move which could not be learnt whilst stationary From Abraham Moses Ruth to Jesus himself and the apostle Paul the Bible is full of stories of people on the move and Journey looks at what we can learn from looking at the Christian life as one of pilgrimage The chapters cover subjects such as provisions needed on the journey communications and companions along the way distractions from the path the growth of new monasticism and death as journey s end With questions for personal reflection included after each chapter this is much more than a book about pilgrimage it encourages the reader to learn to journey through life in an attitude of pilgrimage revealing that it is often in the very act of journeying that we find our deepest spiritual insights
