Early Capitalism in Colonial Missions Christina Petterson, 2023-12-28 Drawing on unpublished archival material, this volume compares Moravian economic practice in three different mission settings to demonstrate how Moravian practices evolved during the 18th century as part of a globalizing world and economy. Delivering in-depth analysis of the far-reaching and deep-seated effects of missionary activity on indigenous communities and social relations, it explores how different economic contexts had an impact on the missionaries' relations with Indigenous and slave populations in empire. Petterson provides an insight into how the missionaries worked, lived among various non-European peoples, and how they organised themselves and their surroundings at a time of changing identities and socio-economic change. Analysing how missionary practice developed over this period, it also demonstrates how the Moravian leadership's priorities and how this affected attitudes to non-European peoples on the ground. Standing outside of national and imperial boundaries and ambivalent about the political notion of imperialism as well as colonisation itself, Moravian missionaries nonetheless functioned in parallel with colonial structures and were part of a broadly culturally colonial mission. So even on the outskirts of imperial organisation, they were often a crucial part of colonial practice and took part in normalising capitalist relations in many, but not all, settings, as this book demonstrates.

It apprises them with current discussions, insights, and theories. The four parts of this book acquaint the readers with methodological considerations and recurring themes in the academic study of the history of mission. Part one revolves around methods; part two documents approaches; while parts three and four consist of thematic clusters such as mission and language, medical mission, mission and education, women and mission, mission and politics, and mission and art. The text selection represents a wide variety of disciplines, authors, and backgrounds. The texts were chosen because they address the complexities involved in studying the history of Christian mission. Critical Readings in the History of Christian Mission is suitable for course work and other educational purposes.

To Educate American Indians Larry Clifford Skogen, 2024-02 To Educate American Indians presents the most complete versions of papers presented at the National Educational Association s Department of Indian Education meetings during a time when the debate about how best to civilize Indigenous populations dominated discussions During this time two philosophies drove the conversation The first an Enlightenment era influenced universalism held that through an educational alchemy American Indians would become productive Christianized Americans distinguishable from their white neighbors only by the color of their skin Directly confronting the assimilationists universalism were the progressive educators who strongly influenced by the era s scientific racism held the notion that American Indians could never become fully assimilated Despite these differing views a frightening ethnocentrism and an honor bound dedication to gifting civilization to Native students dominated the writings of educators from the NEA s Department of Indian Education For a decade educators gathered at annual meetings and presented papers on how best to educate Native students Though the NEA Proceedings published these papers strict guidelines often meant they were heavily edited before publication In this volume Larry C Skogen presents many of these unedited papers and gives them historical context for the years 1900 to 1904 The Ahmadiyya in the Gold Coast John H. Hanson,2017-10-16 The Ahmadiyya Muslim Community a global movement with more than half a million Ghanaian members runs an extensive network of English language schools and medical facilities in Ghana today Founded in South Asia in 1889 the Ahmadiyya arrived in Ghana when a small coastal community invited an Ahmadiyya missionary to visit in 1921 Why did this invitation arise and how did the Ahmadiyya become such a vibrant religious community John H Hanson places the early history of the Ahmadiyya into the religious and cultural transformations of the British Gold Coast colonial Ghana Beginning with accounts of the visions of the African Methodist Binyameen Sam Hanson reveals how Sam established a Muslim community in a coastal context dominated by indigenous expressions and Christian missions Hanson also illuminates the Islamic networks that connected this small Muslim community through London to British India African Ahmadi Muslims working with a few South Asian Ahmadiyya missionaries spread the Ahmadiyya s theological message and educational ethos with zeal and effectiveness This is a global story of religious engagement modernity and cultural transformations arising at the dawn of independence Global Protestant Missions Jenna M. Gibbs,2019-07-03 The book investigates facets of global Protestantism through Anglican Quaker Episcopalian Moravian Lutheran Pietist and Pentecostal missions to enslaved and indigenous peoples and political reform endeavours in a global purview that spans the 1730s to the 1930s The book uses key examples to trace both the local and the global impacts of this multi denominational Christian movement The essays in this volume explore three of the critical ways in which Protestant communities were established and became part of a worldwide network the founding of far flung missions in which Western missionaries worked alongside enslaved and indigenous converts the interface between Protestant outreach and political reform endeavours such as abolitionism and the establishment of a global epistolary through print communication networks Demonstrating how Protestantism came to be both global and ecumenical this book will be a key resource for scholars of religious history religion and politics and missiology as well as those interested in issues of postcolonialism and imperialism Kwéyòl in Postcolonial Saint Lucia Aonghas St-Hilaire,2011-09-15 Can historically marginalized threatened languages be saved in the contemporary global era In relation to the wider postcolonial world especially the Caribbean this book focuses on efforts to preserve and
