Whale For The Killing A The Farley Mowat Series:

A Whale for the Killing Farley Mowat, 2012-04-06 When an 80 ton Fin Whale became trapped in a lagoon near his Newfoundland home Farley Mowat rejoiced here was a unique chance to observe one of the world's most magnificent creatures up close But some of his neighbours saw a different opportunity altogether in a prolonged fit of violence they blasted the whale with rifle fire and scarred its back with motorboat propellers Mowat appealed desperately to the police to marine biologists finally to the Canadian press But it was too late Mowat's poignant and compelling story is an eloquent argument for the end of the whale hunt and the rediscovery of the empathy that makes us human Wild Animal Story

Ralph Lutts, 2001-09-12 At the beginning of the twentieth century the wild animal story emerged in Canadian literature as a distinct genre in which animals pursue their own interests survival for themselves their offspring and perhaps a mate or the pure pleasure of their wildness Bringing together some of the most celebrated wild animal stories Ralph H Lutts places them firmly in the context of heated controversies about animal intelligence and purposeful behavior Widely regarded as entertaining and educational the early stories by Charles G D Roberts Ernest Thompson Seton John Muir Jack London and others had an avid readership among adults and children But some naturalists and at least one hunter Theodore Roosevelt discredited these writers as nature fakers accusing them of falsely portraying animal behavior The stories and commentaries collected here span the twentieth century As present day animal behaviorists psychologists and the public attempt to sort out the meaning of what animals do and our obligations to them Ralph Lutts maps some of the prominent features of our cultural landscape Tales include The Springfield Fox by Ernest Thompson Seton The Sounding of the Call by Jack London Stickeen by John Muir Journey to the Sea by Rachel Carson Other selections include essays by Theodore Roosevelt John Burroughs Margaret Atwood and Ralph H Lutts postamble

On Active Grounds Robert Boschman, Mario Trono, 2019-04-17 On Active Grounds considers the themes of agency and time through the burgeoning interdisciplinary field of the environmental humanities Fourteen essays and a photo album cover topics such as environmental practices and history temporal literacy graphic novels ecocinema ecomusicology animal studies Indigeneity wolf reintroduction environmental history green conservatism and social ecological systems change The book also speaks to the growing concern regarding environmental issues in the aftermath of the 2015 Paris Climate Conference COP21 and the election of Donald Trump in the United States This collection is organized as a written and visual appeal to issues such as time how much is left and agency who is active what can be done what does and does not work It describes problems and suggests solutions On Active Grounds is unique in its explicit and twinned emphasis on time and agency in the context of the Environmental Humanities and a requisite interdisciplinarity

A Whale for the Killing Farley Mowat, 1972 A heart wrenching true tale of cruelty towards a trapped 80 ton Fin Whale and the courage of the author in trying to save her The Sounding of the Whale D. Graham

Burnett, 2022-12-22 This wonderful book documents the interplays among science conservation and politics in the evolving career of the whale over the last century William Perrin Senior Scientist for Marine Mammals at the Southwest Fisheries Science Center NOAA Fisheries Service From biblical times whales have breached in the human imagination as looming figures of terror power confusion and mystery In the twentieth century however our understanding of and relationship to these superlatives of creation underwent some astonishing changes and with The Sounding of the Whale D Graham Burnett tells the fascinating story of the transformation of cetaceans from grotesque monsters useful only as wallowing kegs of fat and fertilizer to playful friends of humanity bellwethers of environmental devastation and finally totems of the counterculture in the Age of Aquarius When Burnett opens his story ignorance reigns even Nature was misclassifying whales at the turn of the century and the only biological study of the species was happening in gruesome Arctic slaughterhouses But in the aftermath of World War I an international effort to bring rational regulations to the whaling industry led to an explosion of global research and regulations that while well meaning were quashed or widely flouted by whaling nations the first shot in a battle that continues to this day The book closes with a look at the remarkable shift in public attitudes toward whales that began in the 1960s as environmental concerns and new discoveries about whale behavior combined to make whales an object of sentimental concern and public adulation A sweeping history grounded in nearly a decade of research The Sounding of the Whale tells a remarkable story of how science politics and simple human wonder intertwined to transform the way we see these behemoths from below Canadiana, 1990 Surveillance Towed Array Sensor System Low Frequency Active (SURTASS LFA) Sonar, 2001 White Lies about the Inuit John Steckley, 2008-01-01 In this lively book designed specifically for introductory students Steckley unpacks three white lies the myth that there are fifty two words for snow that there are blond blue eyed Inuit descended from the Vikings and that the Inuit send off their elders to die on ice floes Rewriting Newfoundland Mythology Martina Seifert, 2002 A Game of Chance Andrea Kirkpatrick, 2023 It s almost impossible to imagine spending eight months at sea without once putting foot on land But that s exactly what whalers experienced when playing the dangerous game of chance hunting down leviathans for oil and bone all for a lay or share of the vessel s spoils A Game of Chance is the first comprehensive in depth study of British North American South Seas whaling Author Andrea Kirkpatrick takes readers on a series of fascinating and sometimes fantastical journeys as she chronicles in great detail the story of a largely forgotten industry that operated out of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick ports from the 1760s to 1850 Kirkpatrick plumbed the depths of myriad logbooks and journals to piece together the often murky tales of an astonishing number of ships In this treatise covering a century of whaling she shares details such as ownership tonnage voyages captains pedigrees and names of crewmen including nascent whaler Herman Melville author of Moby Dick Hoping for greasy luck the men who manned these ships found both camaraderie and competition as they hunted the world s whaling grounds from Cape Horn to Kamchatka many circumnavigating the globe during their careers They battled squalls and high seas scurvy and venereal disease heartbreak and homesickness and sometimes each other Many never returned home their bodies committed to the deep or buried on foreign land Written in two parts landward and seaward Kirkpatrick s clear prose and adoption of whaling lingua franca brings this high risk venture to the fore with authenticity newly revealed facts and remarkable stories of adventure
