A Critical Introduction to the New Testament Carl R. Holladay, 2011-07-01 This book introduces the New Testament in two senses it not only provides basic literary and historical information on each of the twenty seven writings but also orients readers to the religious theological and ethical issues related to the message and meaning of Jesus Christ The overall goal is to help interested readers of the New Testament become informed responsible interpreters of these writings and thereby enrich their personal faith and understanding By giving special emphasis to how the New Testament has helped shape the church's identity and theological outlook throughout the centuries as well as the role it has played within the broader cultures of both East and West this introduction also seeks to assist readers in exercising creative informed leadership within their own communities of faith and in bringing a deeper understanding of early Christianity to their conversations with the wider public Along with separate chapters devoted to each New Testament writing there are chapters explaining how this collection of texts emerged as uniquely authoritative witnesses to the church's faith why they were recognized as canonical whereas other early Christian writings were not how the four canonical Gospels are related to one another including a discussion of the Synoptic Problem how the Jesus tradition his teachings stories from his ministry and the accounts of his suffering death and resurrection originated and developed into Gospels written in narrative form and how the Gospels relate to Jesus Christ as he was and is Also included is a chapter on the writings of Paul and how they emerged as a collection of authoritative texts for the church This chapter includes a discussion of ancient letter writing special considerations for interpreting the Pauline writings and Paul's decisive influence within the history of the church and western culture

God's Patience and our Work Ben Fulford, 2024-02-28 In God's Patience and our Work Ben Fulford argues that Hans Frei's theology and ethics offers unheralded but valuable resources for thinking about the social and political engagement of Christian communities in pluralistic societies in light of hope in Jesus Christ He shows how Frei's project of recovering the conditions for and shape of a generous orthodoxy runs through his work offering broad flexible vision of Christian identity ethical responsibility and humanistic witness focused in the person and presence of Jesus Christ In dialogue with liberation theologies Fulford draws from Frei an account of divine patience and providence to frame hopeful pragmatic Christian participation in work for dignity justice and penultimate reconciliation rooted in new and deeper contextual reading of his work

Travis, 2003 Many people today are discovering in the Bible the message which brings them closer to Christ the giver of life in all its fullness But do they really understand what they are reading In writing this book Stephen Travis has tried to imagine people getting involved in Bible reading groups perhaps for the first time and sets out what he would want to share with them if they were generous enough to give him nine or ten weekly sessions to explain how the New Testament may be approached There are difficulties in understanding most books especially an ancient book such as the New Testament but rather than concentrate on the difficulties to be overcome before starting the author offers straightforward encouragement to those who want to learn directly by reading the New Testament itself He tackles such questions as understanding the Gospels and Epistles and the relevance of the New Testament to Christian belief spirituality and behaviour At the end of the book are suggestions about basic helps to Bible study STEPHEN H TRAVIS is Vice Principal of St John s College in Nottingham England His other books include Christ Will Come Again and The Bible in Time The Message of the New Testament Mark Dever,2005 Dever s expository overview covers the entire New Testament with a focus on the fulfillment of God s Old Testament promises Chinese Recorder and Missionary Journal ,1929
