Thinking About Architecture An Introduction To Architectural Theory:

Thinking about Architecture Colin Davies, 2011-10-17 In order to understand architecture in all its cultural complexity it is necessary to grasp such basic concepts as representation form and space The aim of this book is to provide teachers students practising architects and general readers with a set of ideas that will enrich their conversation their writing and above all their thinking about architecture The book is divided into eight chapters each covering a particular aspect of architecture and introduces difficult concepts gradually Architectural theorists and philosophers are mentioned in passing and their works are listed in the bibliography but they are not the subject of the book Architecture rather than philosophy is at the centre of the picture The aim is to enable the reader to understand architecture in all its aspects rather than to learn the names of particular theorists Written in a conversational style Thinking about Architecture is an invaluable and accessible standard introduction to architectural theory

An Introduction to Architectural Theory Harry Francis Mallgrave, David J. Goodman, 2011-03-16 A sharp and lively text that covers issues in depth but not to the point that they become inaccessible to beginning students An Introduction to Architectural Theory is the first narrative history of this period charting the veritable revolution in architectural thinking that has taken place as well as the implications of this intellectual upheaval The first comprehensive and critical history of architectural theory over the last fifty years surveys the intellectual history of architecture since 1968 including criticisms of high modernism the rise of postmodern and poststructural theory critical regionalism and tectonics Offers a comprehensive overview of the significant changes that architectural thinking has undergone in the past fifteen years Includes an analysis of where architecture stands and where it will likely move in the coming years

The SAGE Handbook of Architectural Theory C. Greig Crysler, Stephen Cairns, Hilde Heynen, 2012-01-10 The SAGE Handbook of Architectural Theory documents and builds upon some of the most innovative developments in architectural theory over the last two decades Bringing into dialogue a range of geographically institutionally and historically competing positions the book examines and explores parallel debates in related fields The book is divided into eight sections Power Difference Embodiment Aesthetics Pleasure Excess Nation Spectacle Modernity History Memory Tradition Design Practice Production Technology Science Virtuality Nature Landscape Sustainability City Metropolis Territory Creating openings for future lines of inquiry and establishing the basis for new directions for education research and practice the book organizes itself around specific case studies to provide a critical interpretive and speculative enquiry into the relevant debates in architectural theory A methodical authoritative and comprehensive addition to the literature the Handbook is suitable for academics researchers and practitioners in architecture urban geography cultural studies sociology and geography

Architecture & Feminist Critical Theory Hilde Heynen, 2025-11-26 Hilde Heynen is a Belgian architectural theorist whose work bridges neo Marxist critical theory and current feminist discourse applying these perspectives to architectural culture This volume collects her most significant texts from three decades of intellectual work

centred on three feature concepts mimesis dwelling and displacement It offers readers incisive reflections on architects roles in shaping societies and the alliance between ideology societal structures of injustice political economy housing and the built environment Within a fierce post critical debate among scholars who have begun to question the relevance of architectural theory to the discipline in the early twenty first century Heynen s position remains constant throughout her writings in defence of architectural theory as a social and transformative practice This collection is essential reading for new generations of architects and cultural theorists interested in modernity gender and criticality Aalto, Utzon, Fehn Roger Tyrrell,2018-02-28 This book examines the work of three seminal Nordic architects Alvar Aalto J rn Utzon and Sverre Fehn from a phenomenological perspective utilising the methodology of paradigm or in the manner of Roger Tyrrell explains how the approach of each architect is defined by the three sub frames of the paradigm that of the origin arche that of revealing techne and that of the poetic conjunction in order to gain a holistic understanding of the experiential or phenomenological predisposition of the three architects Using this method the author describes the commonalties and distinctive qualities of the architecture and design methods of Aalto Utzon and Fehn The final chapter projects the intellectual heritage of the three protagonists into the contemporary world examining the work of practices from the UK Norway and the USA that each extend this particular way of making place Autotelic Architect Sumita Singha,2016-07-01 Autotelic Architect explores how movements towards more self initiated projects greater collaboration and design activism have changed how architects and designers are practicing as well as the kinds of projects they are working on Similar to the autotelic self that transforms potential problems into enjoyable challenges the Autotelic Architect does not avoid societal changes but instead learns to harness their creative potential Using new research and case studies from past and present the author analyses the educational and professional implications of operating as a non conventional progressive participatory design practice Drawing on a range of global case studies of pioneering architects in the field she reflects upon current and future trends at local national and international level and additionally examines marketing and practical issues for architects Illustrated with more than 30 black and white images this is a compelling read for any practicing architect Getting Into Oxford and Cambridge 2020 Entry Mat Carmody,2019-04-08 Updated annually to include all the vital details of the latest admissions procedures Getting into Oxford Cambridge tells you everything you need to know to get onto the course of your choice With invaluable information and step by step guidance the book will lead you through every step of the process Precedented Environmental Futures Colin Porteous,2019-04-17 This book addresses the built environment through the lens of environmental architecture and in a holistic manner It moves gradually from psychophysiology and thinking doing feeling modalities through environmental criteria to environmental modulation concluding with a debate around mitigation and adaptation Much use is made of re interpreting past quotations seen as relevant for environmental architecture No definitive conclusions are reached but rather broad discursive messages are offered The text will have lasting luminance for new generations involved with the built environment Architecture as Communication Ross A. Eaman, 2025-04-08 Media theory has long overlooked the built environment and its communicative capacity how built structures and spaces convey meaning through material embodiment and symbolization Architecture as Communication advances the idea that built environments function as media of communication Using practice theory in conjunction with the concept of style this book is anchored in three historical determinants the quest for perfect proportion in buildings the belief in architectural determinism and the ongoing efforts within other media to influence how those who experience built environments understand them Ross Eaman explores how houses schools places of worship factories office buildings stores malls opera houses plazas and parks have meaning for people as subjective life worlds Architecture as Communication proposes media theory that articulates the social construction of meaning as a unique way of understanding the built environment one in which the users and observers of structures and spaces participate along with architects and designers Architecture according to Eaman encompasses the multiplicity of communication as human interaction preparing people for what they are about to encounter signalling how they should act and selectively enabling them to perform their expected role Using examples across many historical periods and cultures Architecture as Communication argues that we judge our built environments by the values they communicate

Thinking Architecturally Paul Righini, 2000 Through a critical study of issues such as order form space style place making aesthetics and architectural theory students are encouraged to think about their own creative ideas The use of analytical reasoning lateral thinking drawing and modelling is emphasised
