Henri Lefebvre's Critical Theory of Space Francesco Biagi, 2020-08-08 Henri Lefebvre's Critical Theory of Space offers a rigorous analysis and revival of Lefebvre's works and the context in which he produced them Biagi traces the historical critical time frame of Lefebvre's intellectual investigations bringing to light a theoretical constellation in which historical methods intersect with philosophical and sociological issues from Marxist political philosophy to the birth of urban sociology from rural studies to urban and everyday life studies in the context of capitalism Examining Lefebvre's extended investigations into the urban sphere as well as highlighting his goal of developing a general political theory of space and of innovating Marxist thought and clarifying the various more or less accurate meanings attributed to Lefebvre's concept of the right to the city analysed in the context of the French and international sociological and philosophical political debate Henri Lefebvre's Critical Theory of Space ultimately brings the contours of Lefebvre's innovative perspective itself developed at the end of the short twentieth century back into view in all its richness and complexity

A Critical History of Contemporary Architecture Dr Elie G Haddad, Asst Prof David Rifkind, Ms Sarah Deyong, 2014-03-28 This book provides a comprehensive critical overview of the developments in architecture from 1960 to 2010 The first section provides a presentation of major movements in architecture after 1960 and the second a geographic survey that covers a wide range of territories around the world This book not only reflects the different perspectives of its various authors but also charts a middle course between the aesthetic histories that examine architecture solely in terms of its formal aspects and the more ideological histories that subject it to a critique that often skirts the discussion of its formal aspects

NATØ: Narrative Architecture in Postmodern London Claire Jamieson, 2017-01-20 Chronicling the last radical architectural group of the twentieth century NAT Narrative Architecture Today who emerged from the Architectural Association at the start of the 1980s this book explores the group's work which echoed a wider artistic and literary culture that drew on the specific political social and physical condition of 1980s London It traces NAT's identification with a particular stream of post punk postmodern expression a celebration of the abject an aesthetic of entropy and a do it yourself provisionality NAT has most often been documented in reference to Nigel Coates the instigator of NAT which has led to a one sided one dimensional record of NAT's place in architectural history This book sets out a more detailed contextual history of NAT told through photographs drawings and ephemera restoring a truer polyvocal narrative of the group's ethos and development

Reality Modeled After Images Michael Young, 2021-08-30 Reality Modeled After Images Architecture and Aesthetics after the Digital Image explores architecture's entanglement with contemporary image culture It looks closely at how changes produced through technologies of mediation alter disciplinary concepts and produce political effects Through both historical and contemporary examples it focuses on how conventions of representation are established maintained challenged and transformed Critical investigations are conjoined with inquiries into aesthetics and technology in the hope that the tensions between them can aid an exploration into how architectural images are produced disseminated and valued how images alter assumptions regarding the appearances of architecture and the environment For students and academics in architecture design and media studies architectural and art history and related fields this book shows how design is impacted and changed by shifts in image culture representational conventions and technologies

Beauty in Architecture Nele De Raedt, Maarten Delbeke, 2025-09-18 Beauty in Architecture brings together the views of architects artists critics historians and philosophers to explore how beauty can again become an integral part of discussions about architecture Despite its recent resurgence in the public debate about the built environment the notion of beauty remains problematic and contested in critical discourse about architecture When the topic is addressed it is either treated with suspicion historicized or contextualised or substituted with other often equally problematic terms such as order legibility atmosphere or character This collection brings together voices from theory scholarship and practice to show that a conversation about beauty in architecture is necessary not only because the general public speaks easily and frequently about beauty in architecture but also because much can be gained from taking it seriously Bringing together a diverse range of perspectives the essays reflect on the themes categories and concepts that should be part of such a conversation and show how talking about beauty engages important reflections on its ontology and what it involves values communities collectives and shared histories environment identity and political or legal mechanisms and institutions A must read for designers and theorists alike this volume allows readers to discover new strategies and concepts to foster the discussion of beauty in architecture

Brussels Housing Gérald Ledent, Alessandro

Porotto, Kristiaan Borret, 2025-02-17 Modern urban terraced houses or row houses emerged in Europe from the 17th century onwards. Usually two to three storeys high and with a garden at the back, they formed the traditional urban block. In Brussels, this bourgeois form of housing took on a particularly varied and inspiring form, including the well-known Art Nouveau residences, which form the DNA of the city to this day. This publication analyses 100 selected examples illustrating the emergence of the terraced house and its further development in other forms of housing. The result is a broad panorama and a history of the architecture and development of the city of Brussels with its particularly heterogeneous cityscape. This expanded edition comprises a new chapter by Kristiaan Borret, the city's former bouwmeester. 13 new case studies were added and the content was updated. A project index facilitates quick navigation. With a photo essay by the well-known Belgian photographer Maxime Delvaux. All plans have been drawn in standard scales especially for the publication. An atlas of exemplary historical and contemporary housing typologies. Substantially expanded edition of the successful typological manual. Architecture
